PANAMA GETS U. S. WARNING TO KEEP PEACE

PRESENT REGIME ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Opposition Candidate Says Government of Isthmus Is Corrupt; No Formal Action Now.

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—A warning was given by the United States today to the Panama political factions contending for control of that country in the national elections August 5 that should revolutionary activities be started, as intimated by the opposition party, this government would be compelled to step in and maintain order.

Secretary Kellogg does not believe, however, that there is justification for American intervention at this time, a step which had been requested by Dr. Jorge Boyd, the opposition party's candidate for the presidency, who charged fraud and corruption to the present government.

Issues Formal Statement.

In a formal statement the secretary said these charges had "failed to convince the (state) government that there is sufficient ground to authorize the intervention of the United States."

He insisted that while the United States has vital interests to protect in the Canal Zone and authority to maintain public order, the primary obligation to conduct a free and fair election rests with the Panama government and this country will maintain an attitude of impartiality between the contending parties.

To Enforce Law.

Assurance has been given Mr. Kellogg by the Panama minister here that his government will administer the law scrupulously, as otherwise it would not expect the United States to recognize the successful candidate.

The opposition party had declared to Mr. Kellogg that free and fair elections could not be held without American intervention and unless there was intervention "revolutionary activities will ensue."

The secretary said today that the United States "sincerely trusted such counsel would not prevail," but "should such a lamentable situation arise, the department believes the Panaman government will be able to preserve public order."

"Should this unfortunately not be the case,' 'it was added, "the United States would be compelled to exercise the power granted under the treaty and the constitution (of Panama) to maintain order."

Dr. Boyd, who is visiting Mrs. Boyd's parents in this city, in a statement tonight commenting on Secretary Kellogg's action, denied that the opposition party had threatened revolution in Panama or had asked intervention by the United States.

He added that his party merely was seeking the good offices of the United

RECORD-BREAKING HEAT WAVE GRIPS WESTERN COAST

Seattle, Wash., July 27.—(AP)—After five days of record-breaking heat no relief was in prospect today for the sweltering Pacific northwest.

Temperatures continued to rise yesterday, but few prostrations were reported and no fatalities were added to the one death credited to the unprecedented hot spell.

Riparia, in southeastern Washington, felt the most intense heat, with 117 degrees. Among other new records set were: Lewiston, Idaho, 113, and Ellensburg, Wash., 110. The mercury at Spokane climbed to 108; at Walla Walla, Wash., to 111, and 94 degrees at Portland. The reading here was 88.

U. S. Signs Secret Pact Giving China Control of Tariff

New Treaty, Resulting From Long Discussion, Permits Nanking Powers To Fix Schedules.

STEP IS SURPRISE TO WORLD EXPERTS

Kellogg Works Quietly and Takes Nations by Surprise; Much Debate Is Expected as Result.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, July 27.—(United. News.)—Quietly taking the initiative while other powers held back, the United States has signed a treaty with the new Chinese nationalist government giving China complete control over its own tariff schedules, so far as this government is concerned.

This is a step which the new Chinese regime has been insistent upon for some time.

The treaty was signed Wednesday at Pekin by American Minister MacMurray for the United States, and T. V. Soong, for the nationalist government.

This step, formally announced today, came as a complete surprise to the diplomatic world. Negotiations had been going on secretly since March. On July 24, Secretary Kellogg sent a formal note to the nationalist government stating the United States was ready to begin negotiations for a new tariff treaty at once. The treaty, already drafted in final form, was signed the next day. Secretary Kellogg even held up the announcement that he was prepared to negotiate the treaty until Thursday morning, the day after the treaty actually was signed.

So completely has he taken the other powers unawares that today's afternoon newspapers here carry dispatches from Tokyo and London expressing surprise in those two capitals that Kellogg had even volunteered to negotiate a treaty without first consulting the powers, although when this comment was made the treaty actually had been signed.

In view of reported tension between the nationalist regime and the Japanese government, this action by the United States may prove to be a source of much discussion. Most diplomats view it as a step which will result in fostering much goodwill in China toward the United States and they forsee that this goodwill may result directly to America's advantage commercially.

The new treaty permits China to place whatever duties it deems necessary on American goods, so long as those rates do not discriminate in favor of goods from other countries. This latter proviso opens up many complications which may delay the inauguration of made-in-China tariff rates.

China's customs collections and schedules of duties are entirely controlled by the world powers through old treaties forced upon China after the opium wars when petty Chinese officials, many of them extortionate and corrupt, were bleeding foreigners

SMITH AND RITCHIE DISCUSS DRY ACT CHANGE AS ISSUE

New York, July 27.—Governor Alfred E. Smith returned to his home town tonight and conferred with Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, another outstanding "wet," regarding the extent to which democrats should carry the prohibition modification issue in the campaign.

Smith and Ritchie, who had dinner together and later talked at length, also discussed the prohibition sections of the democratic candidate's acceptance speech, and touched on the speaking tour which Smith will make. Ritchie said the governor should "show himself to the people" more than is now contemplated.

Bruce in Attendance.

Howard Bruce, democratic national committeeman from Maryland, was at the dinner.

The New York governor will go to Hampton Bays, Long Island, Saturday for a vacation of several days. He plans to divorce himself entirely from politics and to swim and golf. No political conferences have been scheduled for his rest period.

Smith is expected to return here the middle of next week and spend the rest of the week here in conferences with political leaders at national headquarters, which will be moved Monday to the General Motors building.

Visitors Depart.

The democratic presidential candidate was treated to a most unusual experience when he arrived at the Grand Central station tonight. He went through the station without being recognized.

The governor was accompanied by Mrs. Smith, his daughters, Mrs. John

CALLES REFUSES TO RETAIN OFFICE

President's Friends Say Chief Is Through; Saenz Regarded Certain To Succeed General Obregon

Mexico City, July 27.—(AP)—President Calles does not intend to remain chief executive of Mexico after his present term expires December 1, he told persons in his confidence today.

If nothing happens to shake his determination, it appeared likely tonight that Aaron Saenz, governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, would succeed to the presidency to which the late General Alvaro Obregon was elected July 1.

The decision of the president not to succeed himself has served further to clear the political atmosphere as despite the demand in many quarters that he be named provisional president for a two-year term, there has been some doubt as to whether this would be legal under the constitution.

The question even caused dispute among the Obregon leaders, which appeared settled when Ricardo Topete, leader of the Obregon block in congress, and other spokesmen announced

GANGSTERS RAID CHICAGO PAPER

Bandits Get $7,000 by Forcing Cashier, Police Guard and Helpers To Lie Down in Office.

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Three bandits, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, tonight entered the Herald and Examiner newspaper offices, held at bay a policeman, a paymaster and two paymaster's clerks, and escaped with between $6,000 and $7,000.

The money was to be paid to pressroom employees and consisted of currency of small denominations.

The robbery took place as Paymaster A. S. Vongolin entered his guarded office. Inside were Policeman George Larson and Clerks David F. O'Shea and Martin Kelly.

Close on Vongolin's heels, as he turned to shut the door, came the three bandits. One of them tore open a cardboard box and produced a short shotgun.

He flourished it and ordered the three newspaper employees to lie down. The other two snatched the money satchel from Vongolin and fled while the first covered their escape with the gun. No shots were fired.

Passerbys on the street saw two men jump into an open touring car and speed away. No one could be found who saw the others flee.

The method employed by the robbers was said by police to be similar to that used June 6, in the holdup of the Detroit News. In that robbery, however, a pistol battle with police occurred.

FOUR ARE KILLED AS SPEED BOAT RUNS INTO SHIP

Holland, Mich., July 27.—(AP)—Four youths lost their lives and two others were injured, when their speed boat crashed into the steamship City of Holland, of Holland bay, off here tonight.

ONE DEAD, FOUR SHOT IN TEXAS PRISON BREAK

RUNNING FIGHTS MARK OUTBREAK

Fleeing Prisoners Are Heavily Armed; Two Gun Battles Result; One Shot From Horse.

Houston, Tex., July 27.—(AP)—Henry Ward, a guard at Imperial state farm No. 2, near Sugarland, was killed and two Richmond deputy sheriffs and two convicts were wounded tonight following a break for freedom by seven prisoners at the farm.

The break, one of the worst in the history of the penitentiary farm system in south Texas, was marked by two running gun battles between officers and guards and the fleeing men, some of them armed heavily.

Ward lost his life when he rushed to the assistance of Jim Jeeter, a guard, who had been disarmed by the convicts. Jeeter's shotgun and pistol were taken from him and he was ordered to "get away quick."

Jeeter complied with the command and as he galloped his horse across the prairie, one of the convicts leveled the shotgun and fired at the retreating figure. He was unarmed, but Ward, who rushed to his assistance, was shot from his horse with the shotgun and two bullets from a .45 calibre pistol. Ward died instantly.

Seven convicts fled the prison camp, swam the Brazos river and scattered in the underbrush.

Jeeter spread the alarm and officers from nearby towns joined the chase. Deputy Sheriffs Tom Eavis and Henry Dell, of Richmond, "jumped" four convicts on a highway after the convicts had commandered an automobile and a second battle followed.

During the exchange of shots, two of the convicts escaped in the darkness. The other two, both wounded, were recaptured, but only after they had wounded both officers.

40 ARE INJURED AS STANDS CRASH

Thirty-Foot Section Falls at Jacksonville Track; 14 of Victims Taken to Hospitals; All To Live.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 27.—(AP)—Nearly two-score of persons were injured, 14 of them seriously enough to remain in hospitals over night, when a portion of the grandstand at the Florida state fair grounds collapsed tonight. Approximately 5,000 spectators had gathered there to witness the drawing of a ticket that would have entitled the winner to a free automobile, given away by the Jacksonville Merchants' association.

Every available ambulance in the city was rushed to the scene of the accident, which occurred when a 30-foot section of an 8-foot aisle collapsed, hurtling approximately 40 spectators to the ground, 20 feet below. None of the injured will die, hospital authorities state.

Seriously Injured.

Among those most seriously injured were Mrs. H. E. Goethe, who suffered a broken back, and Mrs. A. J. Brannon, who received a broken ankle and possible broken back. Officer A. N. Reddy, who was directing traffic outside the fair grounds after the accident, was run down by a police car driven by Lieutenant T. L. Johnson, who swerved his machine suddenly around an ambulance parked by the roadside. Reddy was released from the hospital after treatment.

A list of the injured who remained in hospitals tonight follows:

Much Confusion.

Considerable confusion prevailed following the accident, but police, augmented by members of the American Legion, soon brought the excited crowds under control. Fire trucks were ordered to the scene to clear away the debris.

Sam Ellis, manager of the State Fair association, issued a statement shortly after the accident in which he stated that the grandstand, located at the edge of the city, recently had been inspected and was found to be safe.

PRIMATE OF YORK CHOSEN TO HEAD ENGLISH CHURCH

Once Lawyer's "Devil," Most Rev. Cosmo Lang Promoted by King to High Episcopal Post.

London, July 27.—(United News.) King George has approved the appointment of the most Reverend Cosmo Lang, archbishop of York, to succeed Dr. Randall Thomas Davidson as archbishop of Canterbury.

Dr. Guy Warman, bishop of Chelmsford, likely will be appointed archbishop of York.

Appointment of Doctor Lang elevates a former lawyer's "devil" to the highest position in the Church of England.

Dr. Lang was born October 30, 1864, and became in his forty-seventh year the youngest archbishop England ever had, his father was Rev. John Marshall Lang, chancellor and principal of Aberdeen university.

Although his father was a prominent churchman the son manifested no tendency to follow in his father's footsteps during his early years. He was educated at Glasgow university and Ballio college, Oxford, following his graduation he decided to study law.

He entered Middle Temple Bar and became a "devil"—the title for all law beginners in England—under Sir W. S. Robson, later attorney general of England. Dr. Lang's progress at law was considered excellent and he became marked as a man "who would succeed."

One night, late in 1889, he received the official notification from the courts that he would that night be called to the bar and he was advised to be there. Instead of complying with the orders Dr. Lang sent officials a note of "regret," declaring he had changed his mind about becoming a lawyer.

He resigned his position in the law office the next day.

During the following year, Dr. Lang devoted himself to the taking of the

Army Blimp Forced Down; Crew Is Safe

Broken Rudder on Dirigible Causes Officers To Abandon Flight.

Williamsburg, Va., July 27.—(AP)—A broken rudder forced the army dirigible TC-10-254 to make a forced landing about seven miles from this city this afternoon. The six men aboard were uninjured.

E. S. Bingley, who visited the scene, said that the ship was not damaged to any great extent, although officers stated that it would be dismantled for shipment back to Langley field, its home station. It had been necessary to make rips in the bag in order to land. Trucks from Langley field will begin the work of dismantling for shipment back to the field.

The big ship came to earth in a field about a half mile from York river.

THOMAS F. GLENN'S DAUGHTER TO WED BIG GAME HUNTER

Philadelphia, July 27.—(AP)—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Mrs. Helen Wilson Glenn, of Ardmore, Pa., and Major Alfred M. Collins, Bryn Mawr sportsman, poloist, explorer and big game hunter.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Henry F. Wilson, formerly of New Orleans, the mother of Mrs. Glenn, who is the widow of Thomas F. Glenn, of Atlanta, Ga. The wedding will take place early in September.

Tunney To Quit Ring, Rich and Undefeated

:: NO MORE WORLDS TO CONQUER ::

BY WALTER TRUMBULL.

New York, July 27.—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, has fought his last professional bout.

I am firmly convinced that this is a true and accurate statement, nor am I shaken in that belief by any statements the champion may make at the present moment.

So far as Gene is concerned, the ring has served its purpose. He always has held that boxing is a great sport and a fine exercise, but he never had any illusions concerning pugilism as a profession. To him it always has been merely the quickest road to a determined objective. He now has reached his mark.

He will retire as an undefeated champion after the greatest exhibition of his career. In three bouts he has earned $1,716,000, in addition to what he has made in the movies, on the stage, from talking machine companies and from various other sidelines. Tunney is young and a millionaire. The best part of his life is before him. He has covered the rough part of the trail and from here on it should be smooth.

What will he do now? I don't know and I don't believe Gene himself knows beyond a certain point. August 16, he expects to sail for Europe on the Mauretania. There he will join Thornton Wilder. They talk of a walking trip, but I don't know how far they will walk. Tunney has many friends on the other side and I have an idea that he will rest at their places between jaunts.

When he returns, his own country estate near Stanford will be ready and waiting for him. It is a lovely place of many acres with a house on a hill. There Gene can hang his crown on the wall, read his books, keep his horses and dogs and, if he so desires, lead the life of a country gentleman. I do not think he will be content with so placid an existance.

Gene Tunney is a very remarkable fellow. Courage, sacrifice and persistence made him heavyweight champion of the world. Those same qualities should enable him to climb high in other lines. His life up to this point has been largely preparation for what is still to come.

Tunney, the boxer, is through. Tunney, the man, has just begun. He

DR. L. M. CRICHTON DIES AT RESIDENCE

Funeral Services for Prominent Specialist Will Be Held at Residence Sunday Afternoon

Dr. Logan Crichton, 64, prominent Atlantan and one of the city's pioneer nose, eye and throat specialists, died Friday afternoon at his home, 812 Piedmont avenue.

He was educated in the Atlanta public schools and then went to Bellview college of medicine in New York.

After his graduation from the medical institution he returned to Atlanta, where he started his practice. He was active in his work up until about three years ago, when he was forced to retire because of ill health.

Dr. Crichton was popular socially as well as professionally. He was a member of the city, county and state medical associations, and belonged to the Atlanta Athletic club and the Druid Hills Country club.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. May Erwin Crichton; one daughter, Mrs. K. J. Fielder, who resides in the Philippines; a granddaughter, Miss May Crichton Fielder; one brother, Professor E. C. Crichton, president of Crichton's Business college, and two sisters, Mrs. C. G. Giddings and Mrs. R. B. Calloway, both of Atlanta.

TWO ARE KILLED WHEN LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS TO PIECES

Bergen, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—Michael Cahill, of Syracuse, and an unidentified fireman were instantly killed tonight when a locomotive on the New York Central railroad blew up near here. The force of the explosion hurled the boiler 25 feet into an adjoining field.

The locomotive was drawing a string of 15 or 20 empty passenger coaches eastbound.

California Welcomes Hoover as State Hero

:: NOMINEE ACCLAIMED AT GOLDEN GATE ::

BY JAMES L. WEST.

San Francisco, July 27.—(AP)—This myriad-hilled city behind the Golden Gate welcomed home today California's most distinguished son, Herbert Hoover.

For more than one hour the man upon whom the republican party has placed the mantle of a presidential nomination was within San Francisco's confines to be greeted by officials of city and state and just the plain folks from office, store, factory and home.

As Mayor James Rolph, Jr., said in his address of welcome in the vast marble rotunda of the city hall, it was a non-partisan welcome, an outpouring of San Francisco to do honor to one of their fellows who came here 30-odd years ago to seek his fortune and who left to travel upon the road that has led to the highest honors a great political party may bestow.

Mr. Hoover treated it as such in his response to the mayor, for his only reference to politics, if such it might

STUNTS TO OPEN AIR DERBY TODAY

40 Pilots Expected To Be on Hand When Event Starts at Candler Field This Afternoon.

Twenty-one pilots checked in Friday afternoon at Candler field and that many more are expected this morning to compete in the air derby to be held this afternoon and Sunday at Candler field under the direction of Swanee Taylor.

The meet will get under way at 3 o'clock when a number of ships, headed by Captain Errett Williams, of Greenville, S. C., takes the air for a period of stunt flying in which every acrobatic stunt known to aviation will be performed.

Following that, at 4:30 o'clock, the ships will compete in a series of scheduled races. The races are scheduled for late afternoon on account of the fact that the heat of mid-afternoon causes unfavorable conditions for flying.

Five races are on the card for this afternoon, including three distance competitions from a flying start, an obstacle race and a relay race. Two of the races will be of five laps over a distance of 15 miles, from a flying start, and the other an eight-lap race over a distance of 24 miles.

Relay Race.

The relay race, of three laps, is expected to afford considerable amusement to the spectators. Each plane will carry an observer, the planes will land at the end of each lap and the observer will be required to perform some task such as changing his flying suit, consuming a bowl of soup, or eating a bag of peanuts before again taking to the air.

The change from an automobile to a speeding plane by Miss Mabel Cody is scheduled to take place around

TOWN IN ARIZONA SWEPT BY RAIN; HOUSES CRUSHED

Miami, Ariz., July 27.—(United News.)—A cloudburst struck Miami with all the fury of a cyclone late today, smashing houses, converting the principal thoroughfare into a rushing stream of water and causing an undertermined number of deaths and injuries.

Havoc was created through the residential and business districts. The storm was the worst to visit this region in 12 years.

A Mexican was believed to have been killed when a house toppled on him and a boy was thought to have been drowned.

For an hour Sullivan street, the main thoroughfare, was under three and sometimes four feet of water. Automobiles, trees and other objects in the path of the flood waters loosed by the cloudburst were swept away.

His actioin put an end to proceedings under way in the Methodist Episcopal conference seeking his expulsion.

Mr. Bast was unfrocked May 17 at the Kansas City conventions of the church for "imprudent conduct" with the wife of a Danish official and for converting to his own use church funds.

ATLANTA SURGEON CALLED TO SCENE TO TREAT VICTIMS

Miss Margaret Myers Meets Death and Miss Leila Belle Ellard Seriously Hurt in Wreck.

VICTIM IS RUSHED TO HOSPITAL HERE

Blow Out of Tire Is Said To Have Caused Accident; Automobile Turns Over Three Times.

Miss Margaret Myers, 15-year-old daughter of H. L. Myers, of Norcross, was instantly killed and five other persons were injured when the automobile in which they were riding overturned about 11 o'clock Friday night on the Atlanta-Norcross road, one mile south of Norcross.

Miss Leila Belle Ellard, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. T. H. Ellard, also of Norcross, was seriously injured in the accident and a telephone call was sent at once to Dr. W. L. Aiken, prominent Atlanta surgeon, to come to Norcross.

Immediately after receiving the summons, Dr. Aiken left for Norcross. Arriving there he found the condition of Miss Ellard so serious that hospital treatment was declared imperative. A Norcross ambulance was obtained and the victim rushed at once to the Georgia Baptist hospital in Atlanta.

Dr. Aiken announced after his arrival here at 1 o'clock this morning that Miss Ellard was suffering from a fractured skull, that she had stood the trip well, and that although her condition was critical she had a chance for recovery.

Others who were in the wreck, escaping with less serious injuries, were Harold Carlyle, who received a deep laceration on the head; Frank Lankford, who suffered a fracture of his right arm; Dave Barrow, who received a deep laceration just below the left eye, that may impair his sight, and Roy Norris, who suffered several cuts on the face. Miss Dorothy Simpson was the only occupant of the auto who escaped unhurt.

The car was being driven by Lankford when the crash occurred. Occupants of the machine declared that the accident occurred when a front tire on the light car blew out, causing the machine to turn over three times.

A number of automobiles were on the scene shortly after the crash and the victims were taken to Norcross for treatment. Those injured are members of the best known families of this section.

Noted Woman Swindler Believed in Jewel Case

:: NO CASE YET MADE AGAINST MRS. LESLIE ::

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The New York Times today says that Mrs. Maria Josephine Leslie, who bought $238,000 worth of gems on her former employer's credit and sold them for $91,000, has apparently been identified as the former Maria Josephine Eastwick, of Philadelphia, notorious swindler.

Mrs. Leslie, who was located in a private sanitarium near Greenwich, Conn., purchased the jewels at the Wanamaker stores in New York and Philadelphia on the strength of a former authorization as agent for Mrs. Isaac Emerson, of Baltimore, by whom she was employed as housekeeper. No criminal proceedings have been instituted against her.

Maria Josephine Eastwick, daughter of the late Edward P. Eastwick, of Philadelphia, wealthy sugar refiner, served two prison sentences in England. In 1907 she was sentenced to five years' imprisonment for swindling prominent English families. Six years before she had been sentenced to six months imprisonment on a similar charge.

After her first conviction, which arose out of the raising of a five-share Canadian Pacific railway stock certificate to 5,000 shares, she was married in Geneva to an Englishman named Leslie. She was separated from him within a few months.

When she was arrested in 1907 it was charged she used J. P. Morgan's name to induce a prominent English woman to turn over to her for investment $42,500. Morgan denied knowing her.

Her father testified at her trial, at which she pleaded guilty, that she had been insane at times for years, but was believed to have recovered.

The jewels purchased on Mrs. Emerson's credit were sold to Harry Winston, a Fifth avenue jeweler from whom they were recovered on a writ of replevin. Counsel for Winston said that an attempt to recover Winston's loss on the deal would be delayed for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson are in Europe for an indefinite stay.

AUGUSTA WOMEN NARROWLY ESCAPE FROM BURNING CAR

Louisville, Ga., July 27.—Mrs. H. J. Godine, Mrs. Emmie Deason and a Miss Pilcher, all from Augusta, narrowly escaped death near here this afternoon when the car in which they were driving skidded off the highway and turned completely over and burned up.

The accident occurred near the Louisville city limits. All three occupants were pinned in the car. Miss Pilcher, who was in the rear seat, extricated herself, then pulled the other two to safety. Mrs. Godine was the only one injured, having a badly lacerated knee.

Japanese Graduate Of Yale Marries Follies Actress

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The marriage at Elkton, Md., of Eben Takashi Takamine, son of the late Dr. Jokichi Takamine, famous Japanese chemist, and Miss Odette Jean, actress, became known today with the return of the couple to this city. They were married Wednesday.

Mr. Takamine, who is 37, is a graduate of Yale. The bride is 26 and a former member of the Ziegfeld Follies. She is a daughter of William Jean, of Birmingham, Ala., and said she had known Mr. Takamine, who is an exporter and manufacturer of machinery, three years. Both had been previously married and divorced.

STANDARD DATE FOR EASTER FIXED IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, July 27.—(AP)—Easter, as far as communicants of the Church of England are concerned, hereafter will fall annually on the Sunday after the second Saturday in April, instead of being derminated, as at present, by the phases of the moon.

The bill embodying this change for Great Britain and northern Ireland was given its third reading in the house of lords today. It previously had passed the house of commons and now needs only the assent of King George to become law.

HENRY'S SETTLE MARITAL BATTLE OUTSIDE COURTS

Los Angeles, July 27.—(AP)—The marital troubles of Albert Preston Henry, wealthy retired Detroit capitalist, and his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Virginia Henry, already well aired in divorce courts here, came to a peaceful end today with announcements by attorneys for both parties that a settlement had been effected out of court.

RAILROAD WAGES IN ENGLAND CUT

London, July 27.—(AP)—British railroad employees, including directors and executives, accept a reduction of 2 1-2 per cent in their wages, under an agreement announced today, following upon a conference of representatives of workers and managers.

The settlement was characterized as "a triumph for British common sense," by J. H. Thomas, former president of the National Union of Railwaymen and now a labor party leader in the house of commons.

The agreement terminates a long dispute in which, however, both sides recognized the need of a compromise in order to meet dwindling revenues of the railway companies. These revenus have been decrasing steadily in face of fierce competition from lorries and other motor road vehicles.

LOCKOUT PERILS COTTON INDUSTRY.

Manchester, England, July 27.—(AP) England's cotton industry, already severely depressed, today was threatened with a lockout closing some 700 mills and throwing a half a million men out of employment.

This huge machinery of coercion will be set in motion August 11, unless a settlement is reached, because the directors of the Ramsey mill, near Oldham, refused to discharge a mill hand who was in dispute with his union.

In many quarters the announced cause of the threatened lockout is considered only a partial one. It is pointed out that for months owners have sought a method of curtailing production until world markets could be built up to their pre-war strength.

BODY OF SLAIN MAN SENT TO OHIO HOME

Lake City, Fla., July 27.—(AP)—While authorities continued their search for Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Booth, youthful newlyweds, wanted in connection with the brutal killing here Monday of the bride's 78-year-old grandfather, G. W. Simmons, the body of the aged widower was sent back to his relatives at Steubenville, Ohio, today.

A coroner's jury, which met last Tuesday and took testimony from several witnesses, who found the body of the slain man with the skull crushed in a woods along a highway near here early that morning, has been summoned to meet tomorrow to return a verdict in the case.

Meanwhile, no trace has been found of the fugitive couple, although police throughout the south have been asked to take up the search. A blood-stained automobile, identical with that owned by the Booths and bearing an Ohio license plate, still was being held by authorities at Jacksonville, where, it was abandoned shortly after the killing.

AL AND AILEEN, 'ARKANSAS TWINS, NAMED FOR SMITH

Biscoe, Ark., July 27.—(AP)—Twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Russum, of Biscoe, have been named Al and Aileen in honor of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, the democratic presidential candidate.

RAGSDALE DENIES TAX RAISE PLAN

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and other city officials Friday morning assured a delegation of property owners and representatives of civic organizations that no tax raise nor increase in assessments is contemplated by the city government. The mayor promised the delegation that he would oppose any effort to raise taxes, as he is unalterably opposed to an increase.

Councilman Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the finance committee, said that rumors of an increase in the tax rate, which caused the visit of the delegation to the mayor, probably originated from his suggestion to George W. Powell, president of the school board, and Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, that a special school tax with a maximum of seven mills be submitted to a referendum of the people. "The schools present the only problem that Atlanta cannot solve with its present city income," Mr. Moore said. "The problem here is not high taxation, but a depression existing over the entire country. Atlanta is better off than any other southern city."

Members of Delegation.

Included in the delegation were A. J. Orme, president of the Atlanta Trust company; Asa Warren Candler, Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the board of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank; J. H. Ewing, Sr., real estate dealer; Jonh K. Ottley, Sr., president of the Fourth National bank; Morris Brandon, Dr. J. C. Green, president of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association; John W. Grant, A. D. Greenfield, Howard Candler and representatives of the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers, the Retail Merchants' association, the Georgia Manufacturers' association, the Hotel Men's association, the Apartment Owners' association, the Builders' Exchange and the Atlanta Commercial exchange.

In an opening statement, Asa Warren Candler said that real estate owners have become alarmed at the various park investments of the city, the announcement that estimates for the new city hall exceed money available from the bond issue, and other indications that the tax rate or property valuations must be increased to meet a probable deficit.

Mr. Grant said he has stopped buying real estate and turned to personal property investments because of the high tax rate, that the situation in Atlanta is serious and a halt must be called on expenditures for schools, parks and other improvements. Mr. Ewing said inactivity had come about because of unjust tax burdens, and that a property owner has nothing left out of his rent after paying street assessments, city taxes, county taxes and state taxes. Mr. Ottley expressed the opinion that an increase in taxes would nullify the benefits from the city's million dollar advertising campaign.

Defends Tax Rate.

Alderman Claude L. Ashley, mayor pro tem, claimed that Atlanta's tax rate is not burdensome, that the tax and water rates here are lower than in other cities of the same size. A national tax expert recently gave Atlanta credit for having the low rate of $1.05 compared to an average of $2.60 in other cities of similar size, and maximum of $5 in Cincinnati, Mr. Ashley said.

Alderman W. B. Hartsfield said that he predicted several years ago that, if not curbed, the Atlanta school board would break the city, and that the prediction still stands. Atlanta has one of the lowest city tax rates in the country, but one of the highest county tax rates, Mr. Hartsfield said.

Mayor Ragsdale said that the city is in good shape and will finish the year about even, and that although it is possible that Atlanta bought two parks that should not have been bought, still there was an urgent demand for them on the part of citizens.

DEERAN WILL FACE TRIAL AUGUST 27

Admitting himself guilty of assault, but vigorously denying the "intent to murder" part of the charge against him, Harry M. Deeran, Boston radical, Friday refused to plead guilty to the shooting of Postoffice Inspectors Joe P. Johnston and Morgan Griswold, as he previously had declared he was anxious to do.

In Fulton superior court Deeran, neatly dressed and apparently rational, nodded his head when the indictments against him were read, but held up his hand and protested when he was accused of intent to murder.

He had been brought up at his own insistence that he be allowed to begin his penal term, and the hearing arrived at an impasse when the prisoner balked. After Deeran twice refused to admit the charge, Judge John D. Humphries ordered him placed on trial, which was subsequently set for August 27.

Returning to Fulton tower, Deeran told a crowd that gathered about him in the courthouse corridor that he could not be guilty of intent to murder when he had shot at random, held no grudge against his victims and was merely expressing a "protest" at his mistreatment by society.

The prisoner said he had harbored a grievance against the government since his discharge from the Boston postoffice, and that this had found expression two weeks ago when he shot the two men as they left the federal building here.

Deeran smiled and attempted to greet Inspector Johnson when the latter came into court to testify against him, but received a cold response from the postoffice official. He will be tried on two assault to murder charges, and a third of carrying a concealed weapon.

1 KILLED, 1 INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER ON HIGHWAY

Columbus, Ga., July 27.—(AP)—John B. Barton, 27, was instantly killed today when the automobile in which he was riding turned over three times on the Whiteville road six miles from here. R. A. Boyd, card room foreman at a local cotton mill, driver of the car, received three broken ribs, a broken collar bone and a severe cut on the head.

MACON ASKS FIRE MARSHAL'S PROBE OF HOUSE BLAZES

Macon, Ga., July 27.—(AP)—Destruction of two residences here within eight hours by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, led to a request today for an investigation by J. A. Sharpe, of Atlanta, state fire marshal. Mr. Sharp was expected to come here tomorrow or Monday.

STALLINGS AGAIN RALLIES STRENGTH IN MACON HOSPITAL

Macon, Ga., July 27.—(AP)—George T. Stallings, owner of the Montreal baseball team of the International league, has shown some improvement during the last 24 hours, according to his attendants at a local hospital. He is still in a critical condition, however. Stallings' condition changes so often, it is stated, that comparisons are difficult to make. His physician, Dr. C. C. Hinton, stated that his condition was "unchanged."

Close observers, however, stated that Stallings appeared more rational today and although he spent a restless day he appeared to have more energy tonight than 24 hours ago.

ONE DEAD, 29 HURT IN RIVER OIL FIRE

Buffalo, N. Y., July 27.—(AP)—A million dollars in property damage, one person drowned, one probably fatally burned and 28 others injured were the toll taken today in a spectacular fire on the water front. An oil barge, on which the fire started early in the morning, a large steel oil tanker, the B. B. McColl, of Toronto, and the city-owned fire tug W. S. Grattan were destroyed.

The oil barge, the James F. Cahill, of Buffalo, was at the docks of the Atlas Refinery, on Buffalo river, two miles inland from the main harbor, when an explosion enveloped the craft in flames, freed her from the dock by burning hawsers and set her adrift to spread damage on both sides of the river for a distance of half a mile.

Oil from the damaged barge covered the surface of the river and with every shift of wind, docks, oil storage tanks of the Standard Oil company and other water front structures were threatened. Frequent bursts of flames swept the river and one of these caught the McColl. All her crew escaped, but members of the crew of the fire tug Grattan, standing by, were trapped. Thomas J. Lynch, veteran engineer of the fireboat leaped overboard and was drowned. Lieutenant Henry Schickenbantz was seriously burned and all other members of the crew suffered injuries.

Floating oil from the McColl added to the difficulties of the fire fighters and it was impossible to approach the drifting Cahill which continued to blaze for hours. At one time the barge was carried beneath the South Buffalo railroad bridge, but the structure was undamaged.

It's Awful, Bill!

New York, July 27.—Pawnee Bill is in town with a grievance. Cowboys are now tea-tipplers and wear wrist watches instead of six-shooters. And as for Tunney reading Shakespeare, "it just don't seem natural."

FLAMES RAVAGE WIDE GRAIN AREA

Walla Walla, Wash., July 27.—(AP)—A blackened waste of wheat pasture land, comprising some 80,000 acres, today marked the ravages of a fire that romped across the Eureka flats grain country between Walla Walla and the Touchet river and was halted only after hundreds of men had fought the flames for hours.

A change in the direction of the wind brought success to the fire fighters, but only after a score of farmers had seen their season's crops destroyed and in some cases their farm buildings also. The burned area, nineteen square miles, was winter grazing pasture land, and about 3,500 acres of wheat land in crops.

Big Loss in Grain.

Farmers placed their grain loss at 50,000 bushels. Warehouses at Welland, Adkins and Eureka Junction, all filled with harvested wheat, were unharmed. The flames completely circled Adkins, where backfiring operations were successful.

About twenty farmers were affected by the losses, all of them reported to have been well insured.

The flames, spreading like a funnel from their start near Walla Walla, separated into two tongues at the Hatch ranch, one section being stopped within a mile and a half of the Snake river, seven miles west of Eureka.

Halted Near River.

The other was halted near the Touchet river, six miles southeast of Eureka, when plowing of a fireguard and backfiring were made successful by a change in the wind. This prevented spread of the flames beyond Eureka, where heavier crops were growing for a distance of 40 miles.

The fire was believed to have been started near Wallula yesterday morning by sparks from a locomotive or by a cerelessly thrown cigarette. Hundreds of ranchers and townspeople joined the army that fought the flames through the night.

Clear Weather Promised Today By Weatherman

The sweeping showers of Thursday night carried Friday's mercury down to 83 degrees, considerably lower than on previous days of the month, and indications are that the thermometer will range only slightly higher than that today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, local weatherman.

Today will be fair, with slight possibility of rain. Rain precipitation Thursday night was .52 inches. Low temperature Friday was 70 degrees at 6 a. m. and high reading was 85 degrees.

Dutch Air Line Hires Lady Heath As Regular Pilot

London, July 27.—(AP)—Lady Heath, noted British air woman, has been engaged by the Royal Dutch Air line as a pilot for the passenger air service. She is the first woman to be so employed.

Lady Heath, the former Mrs. Elliott Lynn, is the wife of Sir James Heath, ironmaster and collier proprietor. She arrived at Croydon on May 17 from Cape Town, South Africa. Completing a 10,000-mile solo flight started in February. She was the first woman to fly the length of the African continent.

When Miss Amelia Earhart was in England she was entertained by Lady Heath and later the American girl bought Lady Heath's moth plane.

FINDS BIG PLANES EASIER TO HANDLE.

Croydon, England, July 27.—(AP)—Big passenger airplanes are easier to fly than small machines said Lady Heath, noted British aviatrix, when she arived here today at the controls of a 15-passenger ship in which she had come from Amsterdam as second pilot. It was her first flight as an employed pilot of the Royal Dutch Air Lines, and she is the first woman to be so hired.

"I find the big passenger liners easier to fly than small machines," she said. "As a result of my experience I am sure there is a big future in civil aviation for women pilots."

The aviatrix, who was the first woman to fly the length of Africa, explained that her trip today was made as the start of a program by which she seeks experience with multi-engined planes. Her regular job will be second pilot on a huge Fokker plane which will inaugurate air mail service between Amsterdam and Batavia, Dutch East Indies, this autumn.

FRANCE INVITES 15 TO SIGN TREATY

Paris, July 27.—(United News.)—The French government sent out invitations today to 15 nations to partipicate in the ceremony of signing Secretary Kellogg's pact to outlaw war—a pact which is expected to go down in history as the most important of the peace pacts signed since the world war.

The ceremony is to take place at the Quai d'Orsay, August 27.

United States Ambassador Herrick and Foreign Minister Briand decided to invite Spain as the final member of the congress. At the same time they announced the signing would occur in the red and gold clock room of the foreign office.

Famous Room.

This room has been the scene of a score of gatherings destined to facilitate peace, most important of which was the initial session of the League of Nations and the meeting of the league's council which brought to a happy conclusion the last menace to European peace by the Greeks and Bulgarians.

The Quai d'Orsay is particularly pleased at the intimation from Berlin that Foreign Minister Stresemann is willing to come to Paris, believing it would provide an excellent occasion for him to discuss with Foreign Minister Briand in an unofficial manner such questions as evacuation of the Rhineland, commercialization of the German debt, and continued application of the Dawes plan with a diminition of Germany's military forces as a corollary.

Mussolini Detained.

On the other hand, it is regretted Premier Mussolini considers it impossible to leave Rome and, according to latest advices, either will designate Ambassador Manzoni in Paris or send one of his ministers.

The French government intends to make the ceremony solemnly significant of its desire for peace. Virtually the entire diplomatic corps will be invited to witness and the majority of them will attend. There will be an official dinner in honor of the plenipotentiaries.

Berlin, July 27.—(United News.) Adherence of Russia to the Kellogg peace plan continues a topic over which there are lively exchanges of opinion among diplomats here.

Germany, apparently acting on her own initiative, informally sounded out the United States and soviet ambassadors with regard to their views. The ambassadors here referred the inquiry to their government.

Hitherto the soviet government had been inclined to adopt an attitude that refusal to permit Russia to appear among the original signatories of the pact in Paris would diminish the likelihood of Moscow's subsequent adherence.

The Berliner Tageblatt's Washington correspondent cabled his newspaper that questions in the best informed quarters in Washington led to the conclusion the United States would not object to Russia's participation in the pact.

Inquiries here indicated Moscow still is in a receptive mood for an invitation to be one of the signatories.

KELLOGG PLANS HURRIED JOURNEY.

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—Secretary Kellogg expects to make a hurried trip to Paris in August to sign the national war treaty which grew out of his exchanges with Foreign Minister Briand, of France.

He will participate while abroad, however, in no discussion of debts, reparations, Rhineland occupation or any other international problem of Europe.

That was made clear at the state department today in connection with the announcement of receipt of the French invitation that the peace treaty signature ceremony be held in Paris on August 27 or 28, and that Mr. Kellogg personally sign for the United States.

LITTLE OPPOSITION SEEN BY COOLIDGE.

Superior, Wis., July 27.—(AP)—President Coolidge believes that little opposition will develop in the senate to the anti-war covenant now under negotiation between the United States and 14 other powers.

The chief executive has been informed that the state department has kept in touch with leaders of all parties in the senate in the course of the negotiations and that the senators in question have so far signified their approval of Secretary Kellogg's attitude in the matter. What senate opposition will develp will be of the kind, President Coolidge believes, that always arises against any proposal brought forward.

U. S. JURY REFUSES TO INDICT SEAMAN IN FOREIGN DEATH

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The federal grand jury today refused to indict Raymond T. Ross, of Baltimore, second engineer on the Black Diamond freighter West Eldara, who was accused of killing a seaman while the vessel was in dock at Antwerp.

Ross admitted that he shot and killed John E. Foster, of Elizabeth, N. J., during a fight aboard ship on July 7, but said he acted in self-defense. His story was corroborated by several witnesses heard by the grand jurors.

MURRAY GIN PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire thought to have been started by an overheated furnace caused slight damage to the plant of the Murray Gin company on Foster street early Friday night. Firemen were summoned before the blaze had gained much headway and soon brought the flames under control.

SENATOR EDWARDS' WIFE SERIOUSLY ILL

Jersey City, N. J., July 27.—(AP)—The condition of Mrs. Edward I. Edwards, wife of the United States senator, remained "about the same today," it was said by her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Edwards, who denied that her mother had entered a state of coma. Mrs. Edwards has been seriously ill since March and for the last few weeks members of the family have alternated at her bedside.

Coolidge Finds Trains Tiresome, Abandons Plans

Superior, Wis., July 27.—(United News.)—President Coolidge has abandoned his plans—for the present at least—of visiting Yellowstone National park during the summer, it was learned here today.

The president was represented as looking with distaste upon the rigors of the 36-hour train journey to the park. He feels an extended excursion possibly might prove harmful, either to Mrs. Coolidge or to himself. Although he recently expressed a keen desire to revisit that section of the west and began tentative arrangements for the trip, subsequent investigations revealed the distance to be greater than was anticipated.

Mrs. Coolidge, however, is known to be still kindly disposed to the trip. John Coolidge also is known to favor the trip and he repeatedly has urged his parents to visit the park before returning to the east.

The president himself made it known today he considered the recreational facilities of the park ideal for a brief late summer holiday, and this is giving both John and Mrs. Coolidge a renewed hope that he yet will include the trip in his summer itinerary.

DEATHS OF THREE CHILDREN, MOTHER ARE LAID TO WORRY

Minneapolis, July 27.—(AP)—Mentally deranged by worry over a crippled child, Mrs. Gladys Johnson, 32, drowned her three children in a bath tub and then drowned herself here yesterday, Dr. C. A. Hobbs, deputy coroner, decided today.

Phillip Johnson, the husband and father, who discovered the bodies when he returned from work yesterday, will be released by police after being held over night as a material witness.

CALIFORNIA GREETS HERBERT HOOVER

be called, was at the conclusion of his address in which he thanked the people of his state for presenting his name to the Kansas City convention.

"Words are difficult vehicles through which to convey the pride which men may rightly feel at such a mark of esteem from their fellow citizens," he said. "And an obligation rests on my side that I shall not only represent the great political party which has designated me for leadership, but that I shall do it in such fashion as to bring credit and distinction upon the people of California."

Here was no politician speaking, but a diffident, almost shy citizen surrounded by his friends and well-wishers. He had a prepared address—the longest by far he has made since his nomination—but he referred to the manuscript only briefly as he sought to keep his head tilted slightly backward so that his voice might carry to the microphone perched upon a pole several inches above his own height.

But the assembled crowd that jammed the ground floor and rose tier upon tier in the balconies above was able to hear his every word and it gave him and many of the passages in his message an outpouring of applause and cheering.

Gathered about the nominee as he stood upon the improvised platform upon the first landing of the wide stairway leading to the second floor, were a dozen men who were his classmates at Stanford university years ago. He greeted them cordially and they responded with their 1895 class yell, which brought memories crowding back upon the guest of honor.

Cheered by Other Towns.

San Francisco was not alone in its welcome for the many towns that lay to the southward in the Santa Clara valley had their opportunity to greet Hoover as he and his party motored back to his home on Stanford university's campus. The mayor of each escorted the republican candidate from city limits to city limits and crowds cheered him on the way.

Leaving his home early in the day, Hoover was surrounded by a throng at the Palo Alto railway station as he waited for his train. He wore a steel gray suit, with double breasted coat and a gray fedora hat, which he smilingly doffed to the crowd in response to its cheers.

Met by Mayor Rolph.

After the hour's run to San Francisco, Mr. Hoover was met by Mayor Rolph and members of the reception committee who escorted him through cheering throngs to automobiles outside the station. There was a long wait there while members of the committee scurried about in search of Lieutenant Governor Buron R. Fitts, who was assigned to ride beside the candidate.

During the wait an aged woman, wearing a blue tailored suit reminiscent of the days of long ago, and wearing an odd black hat, pushed through the crowds to shake hands with Hoover. The police band, which headed the escort behind a troop of mounted police, was making ready. The band leader warned the musicians that the popular tune would be "I Love You, California."

"East Side" Missing.

"No 'East Side, West Side,' this time, he said, referring to the piece the band so frequently played during the recent visit of Mayor James Walker, of New York."

The lieutenant-governor finally was located and the procession got under way, only to be halted a few blocks away, so that the arrival at San Francisco's celebrated Market street would be at the noon lunch hour in stores and offices.

The cavalcade moved along through almost solid walls of humanity in which women predominated. These took the lead in cheering the candidate, but the men joined in the hand-clapping as the automobiles moved at almost a snail's pace behind the marching bands.

As his motor turned into Market street, the nominee got a shower of fine bits of paper thrown from the windows of one office structure. Hundreds appeared at the high-up windows of office and store buildings to add their plaudits to those on the street below.

Crowd Gets Laugh.

At one point along the line the crowd got a laugh when a young woman who was in the throes of a permanent wave, poked her head out of a seventh story window and gave a shrill cheer. She drew some good-natured applause for herself.

After traversing a dozen blocks on Market, the procession turned off to San Francisco's civic center where another big crowd filled the public square.

The ceremonies at the city hall were brief, Mayor Rolph eulogizing Hoover's public service in European and Mississippi flood relief and as secretary of commerce, and predicting his election as the next president of the United States. Hoover replied. The band played the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the return trip to Palo Alto was started.

NINE AT LARGE IN ASYLUM FIRE

Nashville, Tenn., July 27.—(AP)—Tonight only nine of the 1,272 inmates of the central state hospital for the insane, one building of which was burned early today, remained at large. Attendants were confident that most of these nine would return to their homes and soon be brought to the institution. Only two of the nine are considered dangerous.

Although all records of the institution were destroyed, a check by officials showed that none of the patients or attendants was injured.

State officials tonight concentrated on obtaining a water supply for the hospital, the administration building of which was destroyed.

During the day the wooded surroundings of the hospital took on the appearance of a picnic ground with large groups of relatives and curiosity seekers spread about the lawns, watching firemen who maintained a vigil over the still smouldering heaps of the caved-in building.

Defective Wiring Blamed.

The fire, started, it was believed by defective wiring in the cupola of the 50-year-old central unit of the plant, destroyed all hospital records and belongings of the superintendent, W. S. Farmer, and other members of the staff who, with their families, occupied apartments in the burned section. A night watchman gave the alarm about 12:45 a. m., in time to get all occupants out just as the high cupola gave way and crashed onto a wing in which male patients were housed. It did not break through and no one was hurt.

Attendants unlocked all buildings and escorted out men and women in their night clothes or whatever they could gather about them, herding them on the lawns where, surrounded by cordons of guards, they watched the blaze. Most of them were returned inside by 3 o'clock.

Inmates of the hospital ward were carried out and placed on beds about the grounds, where they spent most of the night.

Water System Ruined.

Occasional screams from the excited patients added to the confusion and a number of them got away from the main group. Only 18 disappeared, escaping to the road and railway tracks, but three were returned shortly.

The fire destroyed the hospital's water system, seriously hampering the fire department and resulting in absence of water for all purposes during the day. A small tank in the central building's cupola, filled by pumping from a nearby stream, had supplied the buildings.

The loss was estimated in excess of $250,000, but definite figures were not available.

Attendants denied that the loss of records would prevent identification of any patients, asserting that they are well acquainted with the identity and facts concerning all present inmates.

PRODUCERS MUST PAY $781,891.10 FOR PLAGIARISM

New York, July 27.—(AP)—A referee's report filed in the supreme court today reveals that Oliver Morosco, producer, and Richard Walton Tully, playwright, must pay Mrs. Grace A. Fendler a total of $781,891.10 for producing a play, "The Bird of Paradise," which she accused them of plagiarizing.

BAR ASSOCIATION CHOOSES NEWLIN AS NEW PRESIDENT

Seattle, Wash., July 27.—(AP)—Having elected its new president, Guerney E. Newlin, of Los Angeles, and other officers, the American Bar association today adjourned the final business session of its fiftieth anniversary convention.

William P. MacCracken, of Chicago, was unanimously reelected secretary and John H. Voorhees, of Sioux Falls, S. D., was reelected treasurer without a dissenting vote.

Immediately after the election, the convention voted to raise $50,000 by voluntary subscription as a semi-centennial fund. Out of this fund a gold medal will be presented annually to the member of the bar, who in the opinion of his associates, has performed the most distinguished service towards the advancement of jurisprudence. It also will provide a three-year scholarship at some recognized school for a university graduate to be selected by the association.

SYRIANS WANTED FOR DEATH OF U. S. WOMAN ARRESTED

Paris, July 27.—(AP)—Three members of a gang alleged to be responsible for the assasisnation of Kallil Saleebyo, a Syrian, and his American wife, the former Carrie Herd, of Lexington, Ky., have been arrested near the Syrian frontier.

The authorities stated that the men had made a complete confession and that they will be tried soon.

KIDNAPED GIRLS LOST BY MOTHER

Philadelphia, July 27.—(AP)—The first court battle of Mrs. Margaret M. Bryant, of Asheville, N. C., and Philadelphia, to regain custody of her two little daughters, whom she is charged with kidnaping from the Buncombe county (North Carolina) juvenile court, resulted unfavorably for her today when Municipal Judge Glass ordered the children returned to the court at Asheville.

Judge Glass held that he did not have jurisdiction to hear the mother's petition for custody of the children and regretted the fact that he was left no alternative but to order them returned.

No Other Course.

"I am very reluctant to take this action," he said, "but there is nothing else I can do."

Counsel for Mrs. Bryant appealed to the Pennsylvania superior court and Judge Glass allowed the appeal to act as a supersedeas to stay the immediate removal of the children. Bond was fixed at $1,500 and Mrs. Bryant was allowed to retain custody of her daughters pending the outcome of the appeal.

The Buncombe county juvenile court deprived her of their custody as a result of charges made by her husband, George Bryant, in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Henry Westall, prominent Asheville architect and clubman.

Husband in Hospital.

Bryant, from whom she is estranged, is a patient in an Asheville hospital as a result of being gassed during the world war.

Mrs. Bryant is alleged to have kidnaped the children last November as they were returning from a visit to their father in the hospital.

Using a decoy note which she asked the maid in charge of the children to take into Bryant, Mrs. Bryant is alleged to have bundled the children into a taxi in front of the hospital and carried them away.

A country-wide search resulted some weeks later in locating the mother and daughters in Philadelphia, where she was staying with an aunt.

She was arrested and the charge of kidnaping placed against her. She has not been tried on that charge.

SIMPLICITY MARKS FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CAPTAIN RULE

Knoxville, Tenn., July 27.—(AP)—With a simplicity comparable to the life he had lived for slightly more than 80 years, Captain William Rule, dean of editors in the United States, whose death occurred Thursday morning following an operation, was buried here this afternoon. Over the grave a mountain of flowers grew almost as by magic and surrounding his last resting place ornate and and beautiful floral designs, the last tribute of hundreds of smires were placed.

The remains of Knoxville's "first citizen" were borne from the home by former associates of a score and more of years on the Knoxville Journal which he had edited since 1885 and at the final resting place a large and sorrowing throng met it for the last rites.

WEST PEACHTREE WIDENING PLANS WILL BE PUSHED

Plans to push widening of West Peachtree street into an 80-foot boulevard from Peachtree Place to Pershing Point and extension of the street to Buckhead were discussed Thursday afternoon at the organization meeting of the West Peachtree Improvement association, it was announced Friday.

A steering committee, composed of former Senator Hoke Smith, chairman; Mrs. M. C. Hardin, secretary, Walter Candler, Hugh Richardson, Jr., Paul Johnson, Henderson Hallman and J. H. Ewing, was appointed to handle details of the widening project.

William Candler was elected permanent chairman of the association and Mrs. Hardin secretary. The association unanimously adopted a resolution to give ten feet along the street between Peachtree Place and Pershing Point for the widening, and a number of owners pledged strips from their property. The county has agreed to pave West Peachtree, and it is planned to have the street widened before the county starts its work. The strips needed for the street widening are to be taken from the sidewalk area, the sidewalks being reduced by five feet on each side of the street, it was said recently by city officials.

Student Gets 'Feel' of Flying Plane at the Dual Controls

BY DON BROWN.

(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Newark-Elizabeth Airport, July 27. I got the "feel" of a plane flying under my control for the first time today. I could sum up my first sensations in one word, "disconcerting." But after an hour I began to get a faint idea of what it was all about.

When we had climbed up to about 3,000 feet altitude the instructor raised his hands and signalled to me that nominally I was flying the plane from my set of the dual controls. I immediately pushed the stick forward a bit so as to keep the nose of the ship well down.

You see, I had been reading books about flying and they all said that many accidents are caused by student fliers trying to climb a ship too steeply and "stalling" so they lose flying speed and plunge down perhaps tail first or sideways and beyond control.

The day was fairly clear for New Jersey at this time of the year, but the horizon was obscured and indefinite. I was trying to balance the plane by keeping the tip of the nose, which I could see from my cockpit, exactly on the horizon and the wings on each side parallel with it. It was the only way I could be sure of flying straight.

The fact I couldn't tell exactly where the horizon was spoiled this trick. When I pointed the plane down to the first part of it I could see I was losing altitude rapidly. The instructor jerked on the stick occasionally to make me pull it back up but I didn't get the idea. When I kept on putting her nose over toward the earth he cut off the engine and yelled back: "Take it easy and keep the nose up!"

Pushed Sideways by Wind.

Tht instructor got the plane over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks running into New York and signaled for me to try to fly straight along above them. There was a side wind blowing.

After I flew for about five minutes, very much occupied with trying to keep my balance—the air was fairly "bumpy"—I looked down. The railroad tracks I was supposed to be flying over were about half a mile to the left. When you are flying in a side wind like that you have to keep the nose of the ship pointed into it slightly so as to make up for the drift.

I over-controlled the ship. Practically all beginners do this. I had imagined that you had to wrestle with the controls of a plane. But the slightest movement of the stick or rudder bars was so effective I nearly plunged us over sideways several times with my strong right arm. The instructor had to take the controls away from me.

Instructors' Task Not Easy.

I don't suppose instructors are so badly paid, but whatever they get, they deserve every bit of it.

The flier that took me up today is a veteran of the Royal air force and the American army. He was credited with eight victories over German fliers during the war. He is so cool at all times, as far as I can tell, even a novice at the controls doesn't seem to bother him.

When I asked him after the flight if he wasn't afraid I was going to crash us, he laughed at me and said: "At 3,000 feet or even less you could do anything you wanted to with the ship. I would have plenty of time to correct the mistake and straighten us out. I don't ever wear a parachute and I don't need one. As long as I have got a plane under me I can handle it and I can put it down without hurting myself—unless I have unusually bad luck.

"You've got to get it into your head that while somebody else may get hurt flying, you don't. That sort of confidence will save you twenty times, where if you expected to crash, you would get it."

Tomorrow I will get to fly again, and if I can show that the practice and instruction I got today has done me any good, I'll start out to make my first turns.

(In his next article Don Brown tells how he glimpsed art in flying.)

Boy Who Gave Blood To Aid His Brother Collapses on Street

Sacrificing too much of his own blood in a transfusion operation to aid his brother Thursday night, Lee Farmer, 19, of Tallapoosa, collapsed as he walked along a downtown street Friday and had to be carried to Grady hospital for treatment.

The youth's brother, Fred Farmer, was in grave danger of death at Georgia Baptist hospital Thursday so Lee gave a large quantity of his blood in an attempt to save him.

The next day as he was walking along Peachtree street he suddenly became dizzy, staggered and fell to the sidewalk. A passing motorist carried him to Grady hospital. He was allowed to leave the hospital after treatment.

Doctors at Georgia Baptist Friday said that Fred seemed improved after the transfusion and was resting easily.

CHURCH FISH FRY TO BE HELD TODAY

An old-fashioned fish fry and picnic dinner will be served in the pavilion at Grant park between 4:30 and 7:00 o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the men's class of the Inman Park Methodist church. Cooking of the food will be under the personal direction of Deputy Sheriff Bill Turner, whose skill in that art is expected to draw nearly 1,000 persons to the event.

Proceeds of the affair will be used by the class to aid the Boy Scout troop of the Inman Park church. Tickets are 50 cents and may be secured at Waller's Drug store, corner Hurst and Edgewood, or at the Boat House at Grant park.

4 NEGROES ESCAPE FROM CITY JAIL; 1 IS RECAPTURED

While police are searching the city for three negroes who escaped from the city jail early Friday morning, the fourth member of the escaping group, W. H. Hinton, is back in the jail. He was recaptured in a Decatur street barber shop about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Detectives J. M. Austin and J. L. Whitley and Call Officer Paul Higgins.

The break occurred early Friday morning. Hinton, with George Jones, Will Weems and Robert Sims, removed some plumbing fixtures and dug through the crumbling concrete under the floor. They then dropped through the hole into the unused basement and escaped through an alley. There were 19 other negroes in the cell from which the four escaped, none of whom tried to join in the break. Some of them told police that they were asleep at the time. The escape was discovered when a checkup of prisoners wase made at 5 o'clock in the morning.

The men were all being held on suspicion charges, but were not suspected of murder or robbery, officers said.

MADE PRISONER, SHOT IN OWN HOME, PLANTER ASSERTS

Memphis, Tenn., July 27.—(AP)—Shot, he said, by a man who held him prisoner in his own home for eight hours and then escorted him to a train for Memphis, J. E. Western, 46, a planter of near Parkin, Ark., was in a hospital here today.

Suddeny awakened last midnight by a noise at his bedroom window, Western arose and investigated. As he reached the corner of his house, he said, he came upon a man who has been working on a near-by plantation. The man fired upon him, Western said, then forced him into the house, where Mrs. Western applied first aid treatment to the wound.

Western said the man kept him under guard in the house until almost 8 a. m., just before time of departure of the morning train for Memphis. He then forced Western to enter his automobile, drove him to Parkin, put him aboard the train and then left, Western said. He could ascribe no motive.

ALABAMA POSSE BEATING WOODS FOR NEGRO KILLER

Mobile, Ala., July 27.—(AP)—Officers and possemen of Baldwin county were beating the woods near Fairhope, on the eastern shore of Mobile bay, 17 miles from here today in a search for a negro who killed Henry Roehr, 55, a farmer of that place, last night. Roehr was found by his hired man, William Palmer, in a pea patch with his right side filled with buckshot and his throat cut. Palmer told the sheriff and possemen that a negro committed the deed.

A. M. E. OPENS 3-DAY MEETING NEAR MONROE

Monroe, Ga., July 27.—(Special.) The Varick Endeavor Sunday school convention and missionary mass meeting of the African Methodist Episcopal church began a three-day session at Prospect A. M. E. Zion church, near here, today with a large attendance.

Friday's session was divided into three meetings—forenoon, afternoon and evening gatherings—during which devotional services were led by J. F. Morrow, the morning sermon being delivered by Rev. G. G. Griffeth, following which there was a general organization meeting. In the afternoon J. H. Barnett led the devotional, and reports from the delegates were heard. A general discussion on the problem of interesting aged persons in Sunday school work was led by W. F. Cretchfield, and another on the question of the failure of the younger people to attend church, led by Rev. B. J. Bridges.

The evening devotional was led by Claud Bell, the annual sermon being preached by Rev. Bridges, following which welcoming addresses and responses consumed the balance of the first day's session.

The convention will continue through Saturday and Sunday with a full devotional program.

SEASON OF OPERA AT ATHENS CLOSES

Athens, Ga., July 27.—(Special.) The most brilliant opera season ever staged at the University of Georgia summer school and one of the most memorable of any in the south, surpassed only by that in Atlanta every spring, came to a close Friday night with the presentation of "Samson and Delilah."

The season opened last Tuesday night with "Traviata," which was followed by "Il Trovatore" Wednesday night and "Hansel and Gretel" Thursday night, all attended by more than 3,000 people nightly. The programs were staged in Woodruff hall, where a stage and dressing rooms were especially constructed for the occasion. The scenery was elaborate and choruses, orchestra and ballet were made up of trained students of the summer school, under the general direction of George Folsom Granberry, director of music at the summer school.

Among the stars appearing were Judson House, tenor, of the Philadelphia Civic Opera company; Marie Slove Langston, Thalia Sabanieva, of the Metropolitan; Ora Hyde, Leo De Hierapolis, baritone; Alfredo Valenti, bass; Alma Peterson, of the Chicago Opera company; Eugene Scudder and Lydia Van Gilda.

The operas have attracted attention from various centers of the country and drew attendants from as far as Miami, Fla., and Baltimore, Md. Hundreds of people from nearby towns came here for the performances.

Singing the part of Samson Friday night, Judson House scored in his best role of the week. He was superb in the part which is one of his favorites. Lydia Van Gilda was Delilah and although this was the only appearance she made during the week she shared honors with House in winning the unstinted approval of the audience.

Hirapolis and Valenti sang the other leads in the closing opera.

Announcement made by summer school officials that a season that will surpass even the one this year is being planned for next year was greeted with prolonged applause Friday night. Mr. Granberry, director, stated that he was already working on the program and would bring many of opera's leading stars here next summer.

COMMITTEE TO PASS ON CITY HALL BIDS

A meeting of the new city hall committee of council probably will be called for Monday or Tuesday to consider the tabulated bids offered for the erection of the city hall at Washington and Mitchell streets, Howard C. McCutcheon, announced Friday.

G. Lloyd Preacher, architect, has been tabulating the bids opened in council last Monday. The great number of alternates offered, which will have to be passed on by the city hall committee, has precluded naming of a low bidder.

GEORGIA LENDERS IN MEETING HERE

The Georgia Industrial Lenders' association met Friday in the Pine room of the Ansley hotel for its regular quarterly one-day convention and luncheon. Members of the association from Savannah, Macon, and other cities throughout the state were on hand to attend the business session and to listen to the principal address, which was delivered by Judge Clarence Bell, of the Atlanta Municipal court.

Judge Bell attended the meeting in place of Judge Luther Z. Rosser, who was called away unexpectedly. He spoke before the association on the benefits of the small loan business to the general public, and encouraged the organization to continue in its purpose of enforcing the small loan laws of the state.

Those in attendance at the meeting also heard a talk by E. F. Moore, of Philadelphia, who was present as a representative of the Beneficial Loan society. Mr. Moore was the guest of the Georgia association, and took an active part in the discussion of business problems.

The convention considered an invitation from Savannah to hold the annual state gathering there. Another petition of that city for the 1929 national convention of the Lenders' association also was heard, and it was decided that in the event a fight is made to bring the national conclave to the south, Atlanta would yield to Savannah as the meeting city.

Other business of the meeting included the election of T. E. Winslow as treasurer of the Georgia association, and the naming of Chairman Robert R. Lanham as the official delegate to the national convention in Grand Rapids, Mich., September 19-21.

The next meeting of the Georgia Lenders will be held in Macon in the latter part of September, at which time reports will be heard on the national association meeting.

MADDOX POINTS THE WAY.

In replying to a recent open letter of Bishop Ainsworth, G. E. Maddox, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, said:

"To those whose only political thought is bound up in the single question of prohibition, and I believe we have very few in Georgia, I can only suggest that they naturally belong and should support the prohibition party, which is an organization holding in substance that prohibition is the supreme and only question before the country."

This emphasizes the position of The Constitution.

We have all along held that where a democrat could not support the nominees of the party the way is open to enter another organization where they can consistently, and with perfect propriety, put the knife under the democratic fifth rib.

Those democrats who feel that they cannot follow the action of their national convention should, as Chairman Maddox says, either go to the prohibition party, or, if they prefer, they can join the republican organization, even though by so doing they enlist under the black flag of negro administrative direction in Georgia and in other southern states.

That would be the far more manly course than to remain in the democratic party and knife it from the inside.

The advice of Chairman Maddox in this respect is well worth the serious consideration of those who are now undertaking to disrupt the democratic party by claiming to be loyal democrats.

As Senator George has so strongly pointed out, no loyal democrat can do anything else than support the organized action of the party.

RING BRUTALITY SHOULD STOP.

The Tunney-Heeney fight accentuates again the folly and the inhumanity of such exhibitions of brutality.

There are laws against cruelty to animals, and they are wise. There should be a law against the prize ring, except as demonstrations of the manly science of boxing.

The fight Thursday evening in Yankee stadium was one of exceptional brutality.

It was on the level. That was obvious in the first three rounds when the challenger showed his prowess as a fighter, and gained deserved plaudits.

But even before the referee stopped the brutality in the eleventh, with four to go, the victim of the fighting champion was a crumbling mass of swollen, bloody flesh, with eye blinded, and suffering from untold corporal punishment.

It was fair, as the law goes. Tunney fought with desperation. Heeney showed himself a game, courageous gladiator. But of what avail?

Tex Rickard lost $155,791, the spectators "gave up" $700,000, and all to no good avail. Such "bouts" should be stopped.

WHY OWEN BOLTED.

When former Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, issued a statement from the New York republican campaign headquarters, that he would support Hoover, and held up Tammany as one of the causes, Governor Smith, without feeling or malice, simply pulled out the records. The former senator, who tried to get the nomination in 1920 at San Francisco, and again at New York, is quoted as saying:

"I will be damned if I will stand for the Tammanyizing of the government of the United States."

Said Governor Smith:

"My greatest regret at Senator Owens' decision comes from one of the reasons advanced, because it compels me to question his sincerity."

Then the governor recounted that during the Madison Square Garden convention deadlock four years ago Owen called to see him at the Manhattan club across the street from the convention hall,

"And asked me to use my influence to secure for him the support of the Tammany delegation and stated that with that support he felt he could get considerable delegates from other states for himself as a candidate for the nomination of president.

"His hostility to Tammany Hall must have grown up in his heart in the last four years. In 1924 he was not only willing to accept its support but quite anxious to get it."

Thus it is that another republican bomb has exploded without doing anybody any damage except the man who lighted the fuse. The former senator from the southwest evidently became disgruntled because Smith wouldn't "trade." And that's that!

The defection of former Senator Owen will rank, in political influence, along with that of Senator Tom Heflin, of Alabama, who at present is not finding "comfort" even in the beds at his hotels.

AS SENATOR GEORGE SEES IT.

Under our institutions of sovereignty this is of necessity a party government. There is no other way to register the will of the people on issues that affect the political, economic and social life of the republic.

In a ringing address delivered in Webster county Friday Senator Walter F. George, appealing for democratic logalty, made the fact clear. He said:

"The public affairs of this country always have been conducted through political parties. If we break down the party system we will go in all directions and get nowhere."

Senator George announced before the Houston convention that if he was not nominated he would support and speak for the nominees of his party. He knows, as does every thoughtful citizen, whether in or out of office, that party government can only be maintained by party regularity. It is not possible to belong to two parties at the same time. This would automatically break down the party system. There is no obligation to any elector voting for Hoover, his abrogation of the Wilson segregation order, his pronounced views for centralized government. If a voter wants to condone corruption in high places, negro domination, federal office and all that sort of thing, there is no license against it.

The point is, this is a government of parties and must always stay so as long as it is administered under our present constitution.

IS THE NATION DRY?

The following press dispatch from San Francisco tells its own story, and leaves its unchallengeable impression:

"Arrests for drunkenness in San Francisco during the last fiscal year broke all records since 1910.

"The record of the police department made public Tuesday show 13,236 persons were held for intoxication. The number of arrests for intoxication in 1921 was 3,497. There has been an annual increase since then."

These figures are official statistics, and not hearsays and opinions. California was one of the few "wet" states when the eighteenth amendment was ratified. The prohibition laws went into effect in 1919, or nine years subsequent to the 1910 record cited. The arrests for drunkenness were three times heavier during the last fiscal year than during the fiscal year ending July, 1921.

Is the nation sober? Is there more temperance?

Prohibition laws have been administered under the republican regime. And yet instead of getting better yearly the situation is getting worse. What is true in San Francisco is probably true in every city of the country, except that statistics show a decline in New York city.

Is it not alarming? Whatever the remedy may be for bringing about more efficient enforcement of the law, less drunkenness, and more temperance, it should be applied, and rigidly.

It is going to take superhuman effort to get all the republicans of Mississippi out of the jails before election.

"What to Eat in Hot Weather" is a popular topic of the press. The campaign puts a new angle to the subject—how to get it.

It appears as if we will get the marines out of Nicaragua by Christmas.

There are lots of poor in America who have only two automobiles to their name.

In spite of that song the campaign will be settled on the Sidewalks of Main Street.

The democrats have sent out a "please remit" plea for funds. The republicans a "please submit" call.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Identity Cards.

Americans in France consider the identity card as an evil peculiar to residence in the country, and probably suggested by what was believed to be a characteristically Latin respect for "papers." Now all immigrants into the United States, except those there for the purpose of study, are to be required to secure identity cards. This means a new industry for America, a new occasion for lawbreaking in a country which prohibition has already made a nation of lawbreakers, says the Paris Times. From the point of view of foreigners in France, the discouraging thing about this move is that it probably ends all hope that the obvious uselessness of the French identity card will be recognized. Seeing themselves imitated by the Americans, looked upon as masters of efficiency, the French bureaucrats will take renewed pride in their doubtful invention. Red tape, the ensign of international bureaucracy, has stretched another line across the sea.

* * * *

Marriage and Divorce.

The French are always scandalized by the facility with which Americans divorce, and those who have gone to our country are scandalized, or at least astonished, by the facility with which we marry. Thus Mme. Georgette Leblanc, who is in New York or has been recently, finds that marriage is practically forced on the young American who would not lead an amputated life. If you wish to know love, or have had the indiscretion to taste its forbidden fruits, you must take the road to the altar. That once done, Mme. Leblanc finds that American husbands present a sorry spectacle; they exhuast body and soul to support a lot of elegant parasites. And when they get tired of it, there is only the divorce court, alimony and another plunge into matrimony. The contrast with France certainly is marked. If you wish to know how difficult it is to marry in this country, ask any American who has ever tried it. And the system of complacent triangles (when they do not assume more complicated geometrical forms) by which the French avoid divorce strikes the average American as far more scandalous than divorce.

The Kaiser's Relatives.

Fate seems determined to humble the family pride of Wilhelm II. While the alliance of his sister, Princess Victoria, with Alexander Zoubkoff is still fresh in the public memory, he is to be connected by matrimonial ties with one of his oldest enemies, whom he vigorously but vainly tried to destroy, namely, Gerhardt Hauptmann. Berlin society is immensely enlivened by the news that Benvenuto, the son of the second marriage of Germany's literary "Grapd Old Man," is shortly to lead to the altar Princess Elizabeth of Schaumburg-Lippe. She is the youngest sister of the last reigning prince of Schaumburg-Lippe, and so niece of that Prince Adolf who married Princess Victoria of Prussia. The hostility of Wilhelm II to the bridegroom's father was largely based on what is perhaps the latter's most famous work, namely, "The Weavers," in which the kaiser saw an incitement to the working classes to rebel. So the public production of the play in Berlin was postponed for a year in spite of the almost unanimous protests of the public.

Odds & Ends of City Life

BY BILL SHIPPEN

How did Mr. Tunney, if it really was the champion speaking, step directly from the ring to level such a cultivated voice at the microphones?

He might have been a Harvard professor enlightening the sociology class. The enunciation was unhurried, leisurely, almost.

One doubted if this could be the chap who, in eleven rounds of furious milling, had just reduced a giant bruiser to a state of crimson dismay.

By all rights he should have been breathing like a film queen in a clinch. He should have choked and sputtered his words from a laboring chest.

It was just like me to bet against a fellow who could be as casual about a fight as if it were only another evening at the opera.

I am the only one in town, I suppose, who had the wrong end of that wager.

Perhaps, it is a fallacy, but I have felt that the sort of fighter who can step about at afternoon teas without getting his ankles entwined is destined to go out of the ring heels first.

Nevertheless, this gentleman survives exceedingly well. From all apperances it may be months yet before someone slips a calla lily between his fingers.

Not that I mind losing the money—it's the principle of the thing.

If that spruce and dignified old gentleman who sells flowers to uptown philanderers out of a bright green pony cart will call at the office he can trade with me.

I'm in the market for a large wreath.

Things Were Different a Half Century Ago

From The Constitution files January 1, 1878:

On the last night of the old year the Irving club had a meeting of extraordinary interest at the residence of Colonel A. Leyden. The regular literary exercises were had, and then a dance was held.

At 11 o'clock the graceful hostess invited the company to enjoy a feast of steaming oysters and other good things. After this pleasure the young folks met in the elegant parlor to watch out the old year and to welcome its successor.

The occasion was one of due solemnity. Just before 12 o'clock a member of the club read Tennyson's beautiful poem, "Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New." And when the clock's hands paused at the last dying breath of the old year, it was solemnly tolled out by the president's bell, and a light-hearted young lady member jumped up and exclaimed: "Happy New Year."

Congratulations were exchanged and the party dispersed in the best of spirits.

Furthermore, everybody went home under their own steam.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL

Don't Go Off Half-Cocked, But Look Before You Take the Leap

Kansas City, July 27.—(Special.)—The political epithet "mugwump" got its vogue in the Cleveland-Blaine campaign of 1884. It was applied to those republicans who declared for Cleveland in preference to Blaine, while asserting their loyalty to their party in all other matters and contests.

If memory serves me well, it was Emory Storrs, the famous and witty Chicago lawyer, who said that one of those fellows resembled "an ox just half jumped over a fence —utterly worthless for either aggressive or defensive purposes!"

What is really back of most of the democratic revolt against voting for Governor Smith, sporadic as it is, is "pride of consistency." Most of the revolters, during the pre-convention campaign, loudly declared that they would not vote for Smith—and now they think they must make good on their threats, or be called "quitters" by their more radical friends.

Most of those pre-convention threats were made with the hope to "throw a scare" into the party leaders and cause them to throw Smith overboard as a Jonah. And while they were filling the air with these windy threats the Smith sappers and miners were busily and silently cutting the ground from under them.

Now—run over, macerated, emasculated, dephlogisticated—there is but one straight-line and honorable course for them to take—either to back up to their loyal places in the democratic ranks, or get out altogether and hit the trail to wheresoever!

Some folks have queer notions of what is personally and politically ethical; but if and when I decide that it is my duty to help defeat Al Smith I will go right over into the republican party, bag and baggage!

* * * *

New York City Must Elect Smith.

Strange as it may sound to some of the uninitiated in political permutations, Smith's chief dependence for election in November is New York city. No cool-headed person can figure him to win without the 45 electoral votes of New York state. To make sure of them he must carry the greater city below the Harlem river, as he himself has just said, by an overwhelming majority. The republican majority "up-state" can safely be prefigured as overwhelmingly republican. The popular vote of the state was 370,259 more in 1924 than in 1920. No one can predict the increase this year over 1924, but it is bound to be a very large volume; and the question is which party will profit the more?

The registration in Greater New York city is now about 1,400,000. Smith leaders claim 600,000 majority therein. On this basis his proportion would be as 1,000,000 to 400,000; in other words 5 vote to 2 for Hoover. In 1924 his vote for governor over that of Coolidge for president was 3 to 2.

* * * *

That Supreme Court Bogey Again.

Some respectable newspapers that come to my bedside comment seriously upon the Bill Allen White bogey that if Smith were president he could so pack the supreme court of the United States as to bring forth a decision "that the eighteenth amendment is unconstitutional"! What arrant rot that is!

The constitution is the creator of the supreme court and confers upon that tribunal no other power over the constitution than to declare its supreme authority and interpret its terms applicable to specific cases properly brought to its bar.

As to constitutional amendments the supreme court can only inquire into them to be sure they were submitted and ratified according to article V of the constitution. The supreme court, when those facts are proven, can no more declare an amendment unconstitutional than it can declare the whole constitution "unconstitutional" and by that decision bury itself in the ruins!

The court has already decided that the eighteenth amendment met all needed conditions and is a part of the constitution. That is res adjudicata!

* * * *

Where the Only Relief Lies.

Those who do not like prohibition and have sense enough to understand the plain facts concerning it know that there can be had no relief from it, whether adequately or illy enforced, but in two ways. One is to get the people to repeal the amendment, or to get congress to modify the Volstead act in some way that will not violate the amendment and that the supreme court will sustain.

The court has already said that while the Volstead law is constitutional it is not the last word as to how congress may enforce the amendment. Congress can enlarge the percentage of alcohol in beverages to over one-half of one per cent, provided the new percentage does not render the beverages "intoxicating." Every proposal so far submitted in congress to modify the percentage has been overwhelmingly defeated, and there are few things more certain than that any proposals to liberalize the law will be promptly killed!

Purely an Election Device.

It must be plain to any man not under espionage of the alienists that this whole prohibition racket is good for electioneering strategy in wet communities. As such let it serve its purpose as it may, but there is no call in it for dry citizens to tear their shirts and fear that "the pillars of the government are tottering on their bases." Generally those who think they see them rocking are the ones who are doing the rocking.

Two-thirds of all the democrats who will be elected to the next congress will be "drys" and more than that proportion of the republicans will be equally arid.

So, as Bre'r Josephus Daniels says, let us go ahead, lick the republicans, elect Al Smith, and then establish the dead line where the sign reads: "Thus far and no farther!"

Veteran Baptist Minister Defends Dr. Mell's Position In Answering Dr. White

Editor Constitution: As a reader of The Constitution for many years, I think I can safely say the paper was never doing better service for our people than now. Your just and impartial defense of that invaluable fundamental principle of our government: "Separation of church and state," is worthy of all praise.

I am pleased that you have given such prominence and praise to the views of great and safe religious leaders such as Bishop Candler, of the Methodist church, and Dr. John D. Mell, of the Baptist church. After reading the squib criticism of the Rev. John E. White in today's Constitution, I again read the fine and timely article from Dr. Mell appearing in the Christian Index and Constitution: "To Baptist Preachers in Georgia."

Of all the wise and good things Dr. Mell has spoken and written during his long and useful life in Georgia, I don't think he ever wrote anything wiser, better and more timely than the article mentioned.

I wish it was a printed leaflet, and in the hands of every young preacher in the state; and written in such a fatherly and sweet spirit.

I am sorry Dr. White should have personally referred to Dr. Mell as "Thundering in the Georgia Baptist convention, which he has often so passionately addressed on public, legal and political evils." I can't believe that any Baptist in Georgia ever thought of Dr. Mell as "A son of thunder" or as "Thundering" his views before a Georgia Baptist convention.

Those of us who heard the address in Atlanta before the convention, were impressed with the fervid earnestness with which Dr. Mell spoke of the crime, and lawless conditions in our state, and how he stressed the greatest means in the hands of the church for its suppression, and that was prayer.

No politics or reference to politics in the entire address. Yet Dr. White indirectly compliments Dr. Mell by saying "Their influnce—the preachers of Georgia—will go precisely in the direction" of this "thundering" Georgian.

It may be that a man of such power and prominence as Dr. White may be immune to the loss of his pulpit for political reasons, but this has not been true of prominent preachers in the past, and hence the wise and timely warning of Dr. Mell: "Dear beloved brethren, let me humbly and lovingly beg of you, for your sake and for His, let politics alone."

YORK PRIMATE NAMED TO CANTERBURY SEE

orders for the Church of England and he was appointed a curate of Leeds in 1890. He held this position for three years when he was made vicar of St. Mary's church, the university's church at Oxford. He next was appointed a fellow and dean of divinity of Magdalen college, Oxford. In 1896 he was named vicar of Portsea.

In 1901 he was appointed bishop of Stephney and Canon of St. Paul's cathedral.

While in these positions he began to attract nation-wide attention by vigorous reform campaigns. Despite his prominent place in the Church of England Dr. Lang carried his campaign from the pulpit to the streets and late at night he would frequently be seen trudging alone through the dark sections of London's East End to invade saloons and music halls with his campaign.

Lashes Society.

Not only did he direct his reform campaign against the poor but London society frequently was subjected to the sharp lash of his eloquence, for which he became famous. He once publicly announced that he considered London society "a rabble devoted to the worship of money and what money can buy."

In 1908 Dr. Lang was offered the position of bishop of Montreal and although church circles were confident at the time that he would accept the offer he rejected it. Shortly afterward Herbert H. Acquith, then prime minister, recommended to King Edward that Dr. Lang be appointed archbishop of York and he assumed the office officially in January, 1909.

Dr. Lang is one of the few English ecclesiastics who ever took seriously to writing. Several of his books have attracted international attention.

The new archbishop of Canterbury was one of Queen Victoria's greatest favorites, and, although he always showed her the most profound respect, he frequently defied various wishes she expressed about his work. Once while he was vicar of Portsea she called at his vicarage and declared she had learned he had 12 clergymen working under him. She expressed the wish he marry and thus have someone share his responsibilities and troubles.

Queen Victoria was so pleased at finding someone who dared cross her word that she made him her honorary chaplain. He held this position until the queen's death.

ed States to guarantee a "pure and fair electioin to every party."

"The secretary's statement in substance," Dr. Boyd said, "accuses the oppositioni party of advocating revolution in the event that intervention is not obtained. As the responsible head of the opposition party, and the only person authorized to speak officially for the party, I wish to say that the party as such has never indorsed such a suicidal policy and so far as I know, none of its responsible leaders has advocated revolution, notwithstanding certain abbreviated press reports of a meeting last Sunday which might give that impression.

Attack by Boyd.

"For myself, I wish to say as emphatically as I know how, that I have not made or authorized any statement furthering or threatening revolution or violence in any form."

Dr. Boyd declared it was noticeable that Mr. Kellogg "does not say that the charges of fraud on correction made by the opposition have not been proved," but "merely says that intervention is not justified."

"It would seem, therefore," he added, "that the present announcement marks a departure from the policy of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, who intervened under similar circumstances to secure a fair election in Panama in 1908, 1912 and 1918."

New Policy Opposed.

The oppositiion party candidate expressed the opinion that "the new policy which the secretary of state is now taking toward my country bodes ill for the future of Panama."

"Another four years of extravagance and gross corruption," he added, "such as characterizes the present regime, can only lead to national bankruptcy. We may then be faced, not with American good offices for the purpose of preserving popular government, but with full-fledged intervention for the purpose of protecting American bond holders."

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

HABITS, HOBBIES AND HEALTH

No. 1—Lying Abed in the Morning.

Early to bed and early to rise is twaddle to one hygienically wise. It may have been a good habit in the days of tallow candles. Today it is mainly the moron population that follows this ancient precept.

So far as our present knowledge goes it doesn't matter whether one retires to bed at 9 o'clock or at 12 o'clock, provided one gets the necessary number of hours of sleep. With very few exceptions the necessary hours of sleep vary with age, as follows:

Infants under 6 mo. of age..18 hours
Infants 1 year old .....15 hours
Infants from 1 to 2 yrs. old—14 hours
Children from 2 to 5 yrs. old—12 hours
Children from 5 to 8 yrs old..11 hours
Children from 10 to 15yrs old .....10 1-2 hours
In youth most persons require 10 hrs.
Adults up to middle age..... 9 hrs.
Mature adults ..... 8 hrs.
Elderly but still active workers 7 hrs.
Elderly retired or sedentary folk .....6 1-2 hrs.

Factors in individual cases may alter these figures slightly. For example, one requires more sleep when one does hard physical work or play, and less sleep when one does mainly mental work. This is contrary to popular belief, but physiologically sleep is repair time, and one who merely thinks hasn't much repair work to do compared with one who labors. In cold weather or climate one needs more sleep than in warm weather or climate. Some people are fat because they sleep too much and others sleep too much because they are fat. Skinny persons require relatively more sleep than fat persons. So lying abed in the morning is one of the best medicines for Skinny Winnie or Slim Jim; but not so good for us plump ones, and that's a great pity, too, because we know how to do this thing so well.

The old-times were quite right about the unhealthfulness of lying abed in the morning. It was even worse for them than being abed in any hour of the night for by 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning the air in the bedroom was something frightful. Nowadays, however, the late sleeper need not worry about this, for nobody excludes night air from his sleeping room any more, or if anybody still does so, then let him lie there and aphacelate, say I. I am for the survival of the fittest. There was another good reason for the prejudice of the old-timers against sleeping late mornings—it cut in on one's quota of ultraviolet. This, too, need not concern us so much today. The absorption of ultraviolet varies with the area exposed to sunlight, so that we have an obvious advantage over our grandparents in this respect.

People who are, well, restless, of "nervous" temperament, should lie late. Persons who are of sanguine disposition, wide eyed, slender build, slow pulse, cold, subject to spastic constipation or mucous colitis, should lie late.

Normal young persons should get up when they awaken. These other classes profit by remaining in bed an hour or two even when they no longer sleep. It is a good time to let the thoughts run free, let the subconscious rule, day dream, and perhaps discover some great ideas.

When you do get up, bathe or not, as you enjoy more. Cold water or warm, or perhaps an air bath, suit your own taste. Also take a drink of water, hot, cold, as you like. Better omit salt or other things from this morning inhibition. A glass or a pint is plenty.

TUNNEY TO RETIRE AS RING CHAMPION

has the stamina, the intellect and the determination to go far in this world. I believe that he also has the ambition. This clean, likable youngster should plow a deep furrow in fields more important and cultivated than those where the cauliflowers grow.

Romance Lacking.

Tunney's last battle in the ring contained an element of sportsmanship missing from most modern encounters with the padded mitts. Gene and Heeney appeared to be trying impassionately to prove which was the better man. There was no doubt concerning the answer.

After the first few rounds it looked like an exhibition between master and pupil. When Heeney was struck in the eye and blinded, he pawed at the hurt optic like a little brown bear stung by a bee. There was nothing in the rules to prevent Tunney from stepping in and showering his helpless antagonist with blows. He stepped back and deliberately waited until Tom could see again. This was no theatrical gesture, he merely didn't wish to hit a foeman in that condition.

"A picture of the men who have been blinded in boxing bouts came to me," Gene said to me later. "Tom Heeney is a fine, game man. I didn't want to be the one to injure him permanently."

Puts Arm Around Heeney.

When the bout was stopped Tunney put his arm around Tom's shoulder with real liking and perhaps a touch of sympathy. Heeney looked up at him and said:

"I was beaten by a great champion."

Later, as they left their dressing rooms, they shook hands heartily and wished each other luck. A longshoreman's son had beaten a plumber's boy in a contest between gentlemen.

It was the fashion, in the time of the early fighters and London prize ring rules, for champions to retire and either open an ale house or go into politics, but the only modern heavyweight champion to retire undefeated was James J. Jeffries. He quit the ring in 1905, with nobody in sight capable of giving him a battle, but Rickard coaxed him back, to his undoing, in 1910, by an offer of a $100,000 purse, a sum still then unheard of in fistic annals.

Great Drawing Card.

Tunney will be the second champion of champions to retire with his crown still on his head. He goes at a moment when he is a greater drawing card than ever before; at a moment when golden apples are hanging low on the limb waiting to be plucked. But Tunney is a young man who knows his own mind. I do not believe that any money will lure him back at some future time to make a fight fans' holiday.

It is a peculiar thing that Tunney's last fight should be the only one in which Rickard ever lost money. A series of incidents contributed to this. It was strongly against his better judgment that Tex held the bout in July, which he declared was no month for a heavyweight show.

Heeney Best of Lot.

Then, when he was forced to pick the challenger, there was no outstanding man. Heeney looked the best of the lot. Rickard made his contracts when the federal tax was 10 per cent. He never would have made them on the same basis had he known the tax was to be increased to 25 per cent. After Heeney was definitely selected Risko and Sharkey, who had shown little or nothing, made themselves attractions. Everything, from the angle of hindsight, broke wrong.

But Rickard shouldn't fret. In the past two seasons he had made $1,700,000 on outdoor boxing shows. If he has lost $155,000 it leaves him with a great batting average. He still has a total profit of over a million and a half.

On that basis Tex, or anyone else, can keep on doing business for us at the same old stand forever.

CALLES VETOES MOVE TO KEEP HIS OFFICE

that their partisans would support President Calles in every way.

The question of the presidential succession will not be taken up at the special session of congress which convenes tomorrow, but at the regular session which commences September 1. The special session will be concerned largely with the so-called Obregon amendments to the constitution which are expected to further reduce the influence of a labor party.

Important Protest.

One of the most important of these is the amendment giving Mexico City and other towns in the federal district a government by federal commissions rather than by elected mayors and Aldermen. The followers of Luis Morones, former secretary of labor, and leader of the labor party, have hitherto controlled the elections in the federal district and Mexico City and the local governments therefore have been largely in their hands. With Obregonistas controlling the appointments in the future the labor party, bitterly opposed to the Obregon policies, will have little or no representation.

Other amendments to be considered reduce the size of the chamber of deputies by one-half and place the appointment of all judges in the hands of the president.

LABOR CONVENTION ORDERED CANCELLED.

Mexico City, July 27.—(AP)—A convention made up of nation-wide representatives of labor groups, which had been called some time ago to convene today in Pachuca, has been ordered abandoned by the civil authorities of the state of Hidalgo.

The authorities feared that the convention would prove a menace to peace and order because of the charges of agrarian and other Obregonista leaders that some of the labor elements of the republic were "psychologically responsible" for the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon.

U. S. MAKES SECRET TREATY WITH CHINA

selling goods in China. Conditions were so bad the powers set up a customs administration, taking the collection of revenues on imports entirely out of the hands of the Chinese, applying the revenues to the payment of China's debts and turning over the remainder to the Chinese government.

Great Britain and other powers have taken no steps to abrogate these tariff treaties so that their goods will for the present go into China under the restricted tariff charges which they have fixed. The United States has safeguarded itself so that it must receive rates as favorable as other powers receive.

The treaty is dated at "Peiping," the new nationalist name for Pekin.

Although the treaty makes no reference to the question of recognition, the negotiation of a treaty is in itself a form of recognition in which the United States accepts the new regime as representing China. There is no indication as to when formal recognition will be offered. None of the powers has yet formally recognized the new regime.

In Full Sympathy.

"In an exchange of notes with Huang Fu, the Chinese nationalist foreign minister," American Minister MacMurray said:

"The government and people of the United States are in full sympathy with the desire of the Chinese people to develop a sound national life of their own and to realize their aspirations for a sovereignty so far as possible unrestricted by obligations of an exceptional character. With that in view the American government entertains the hope that the remedying of the conditions which necessitated the incorporation of such provisions in the earlier treaties may from time to time afford opportunities for the revision, in due form, and by mutual consent, of such treaty stipulation as may have become unnecessary or inappropriate."

This indicates the United States is prepared to proceed by degrees until eventually given the extraterritorial rights which have irked the Chinese for years will be abolished.

U. S. "DOMINATION" FORECAST BY JAPAN.

Tokyo, July 27.—(AP)—Vernacular newspapers commenting on the American note to nationalist China are unanimous in pointing out that it is America's intention to forestall the other powers.

Regarding the note as indicating the approach of formal recognition of the nationalist government, Asahi says America intends to become the leading power in China and that this diplomacy is placing Japan in a very difficult position.

Kukumin, doubting whether America really intends to recognize the nationalist government, remarks Chinese politicians will know later how valuable a beautifully-worded and friendly note is.

Hochi thinks that America's single-handed note conflicts with the Washington agreement.

Rules Are Made To Please Those Who Howl for Rules To Please Them

By Robert Quillen

A gentleman has the satisfaction of being a gentleman, but the boob who pounds on the table gets quicker service.

That explains the crank's influence in America's affairs.

People who are satisfied have nothing to say; the man with a grievance does the talking.

Political machines thrive because contented citizens will not inconvenience themselves to vote in a primary; the "boss" sees to it that every member of his organization goes to the polls.

Thus the inertia of contentment robs free men of their birth-right and the land is ruled by men who have axes to grind.

Friends of the farmer clamored for his relief, and the casual reader of headlines began to think revolution impended unless relief could be afforded. But when William Allen White sent question blanks to his farmer readers, asking their opinion of the pending relief measure, less than half of them cared enough about it even to answer his questions.

Ordinary Americans who are getting along fairly well simply will not lather themselves for this cause or that, nor will they inconvenience themselves to express approval or disapproval of the scheme of things.

They are like patrons of a show who have paid their money to be entertained and now accept entertainment as their due and refuse to pay more in the form of applause.

But here is the unfortunate thing. When a few cranks or rowdies hiss, the actors think the audience has condemned them. The verdict of the cranks kills the play.

Editors labor to produce a good newspaper and enlist the best talent they can afford. Increase of circulation is proof of their success.

But no matter how entertaining, instructive, clever and inspiring the paper may be, subscribers have nothing to say. They have paid for a good paper; why make any comment when they get it.

But cranks comment. The slightest error or the least deviation from perfection brings from the crank a letter of denunciation. Six letters from six cranks may mean the death of a department that delights 5,000 readers who are silent.

Radicals have power because they are vocal; the sinister get control because they work for it; the "lunatic fringe" described by Roosevelt has influence because it makes a great noise.

You are dominated by cranks simply because you are sane and orderly and peaceful—and silent.

GIRL IS KILLED, FIVE ARE HURT

on Lee street Friday morning, according to police reports.

Miss Louise McWilliams, of a Church street address, East Point, Mrs. E. S. Williamson, also of East Point, and Richard Truschick, young son of P. A. Truschick, of New Orleans, were slightly injured when an automobile driven by Miss McWilliams crashed head-on with a car operated by Truschick. Cases were made against Miss McWilliams and Truschick and they are to appear in recorder's court Friday, August 3.

According to witnesses Miss McWilliams turned out, to pass a street car, that had stopped to take on passengers, as she was driving north on Lee street and her car crashed into one driven south on Lee street by Truschick.

STUNTS WILL OPEN AERIAL DERBY TODAY

5:30 o'clock when Miss Cody, standing in the tonneau of an automobile speeding along the Candler field track at a rate of 60 or more miles per hour, will attempt to grasp a ladder dangling from a Travelair plane which has swooped down over the car and clamber up to safety.

Taylor Friday night announced that he had received a wire from the department of commerce waiving all low altitude conditions for these races. The department has a ruling prohibiting fliers from coming closer than 300 feet to the ground. This condition was waived in order that pilots might swoop down for the turns around the pylons marking the course for the races.

Parachute Contest.

Another event was added to the program Friday when Manager Taylor arranged for a speed and accuracy contest in parachute landing. The birdmen will go up one by one and leaping from their planes at a specified altitude, attempt to land in a circle laid out on the field. Entries for this event have been made by Bonnie Rowe, Jack McElvey, Bill Hoffman and Charles Axun.

Taylor is the only producer of air shows in America who furnishes music at his shows and the music today and tomorrow will be in charge of C. E. Tatspaugh, with Walter Sheets conducting.

Temporary stands, loaned by the Georgia School of Technology, have been erected at the field and arrangements completed for the handling of a capacity crowd.

AL SMITH CONFERS WITH GOV. RITCHIE

A. Warner and Mrs. Francis Quillinan, and their husbands, and his son, Arthur Smith, and his wife. In the party also were William H. Humphries, an old friend of the governor, and Mrs. Mary Collins, a friend of Mrs. Smith.

Ritchie Experienced.

Smith sought Ritchie's advice because of the Maryland governor's similar experience as a modification advocate. Previously Ritchie had announced his willingness to take whatever part in the campaign is desired by the leaders.

"If Governor Smith could find time to come down to my state and spend five days with us, driving around and meeting people, I'd go abroad for the summer sure in my mind that the state was safe," Ritchie said.

"Al Smith, the man, is the issue in this campaign, and the more the people see of him, the more the votes he will win."

Smith did not see Chairman John J. Raske, of the national committee, who left for the week-end at his home in Maryland before the governor arrived.

Raskob Talks to Cox.

Raskob conferred today with James M. Cox, of Ohio, democratic presidential candidate in 1920. Cox offered his services as a speaker in the campaign but said he preferred not to serve on any of the campaign committees.

Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, chairman of the senatorial campaign committee, returned today to take up his additional duties as head of the speaker's bureau for the national campaign.

FAIRBURN CONFERENCE DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Fairburn, Ga., July 27.—(Special.) The colored Methodist conference in session at St. Mark church, this city, was crowded to overflowing at all sessions today. Many out-of-town visitors, in addition to the regular delegates, were in attendance. Among them were Dr. F. H. Butler, of Chicago, who spoke to the young people's meeting in the afternoon. Prof. J. C. Arnold, of Atlanta, Rev. H. W. B. Wilson, Rev. J. W. Queen and Rev. C. L. Johnson, all of Atlanta, and Revs. Joseph Griffith and R. T. Jackson, of Newnan, and Rev. W. B. Wood, of Atlanta, spoke at length upon the duty of the church to the young people.

The district believes a minister, to properly serve his people, should live among them, and to this end it went on record as being in favor of erecting a district parsonage for the superintendent within the bounds of his district.

TEXAS WILL VOTE OFFICIALS TODAY

Dallas, July 27.—(AP)—Texas democratic voters will go to the polls tomorrow to reduce in a primary election the field of party aspirants for state and national offices to one or two.

The campaigns, which have attracted most interest are those for governor, United States senator and lieutenant governor.

While the democrats are beginning the formulation of their ticket in the primary tomorrow the republicans will hold precinct conventions as the first step in naming their candidates.

In Texas, nomination in the democratic primaries usually is equivalent to election.

Four persons, one of them a woman, are opposing Senator Earle B. Mayfield in his fight for a second term in the United States senate. They are Congressman Thomas Connally, Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham and Colonel Alvin M. Owsley, past national commander of the American Legion.

Governor Dan Moody faces opposition from three candidates in his race for a second term. Judge Louis J. Wardlaw, of Fort Worth, has been his most active opponent and Mrs. Edith E. Wilmans, of Dallas, and Judge William E. Hawkins, of Breckenridge, also aspire to be the state's chief executive.

The lieutenant governor's race may give an indication of democratic sentiment toward Governor Alfred E. Smith, the party's presidential nominee. In this contest State Senator Thomas B. Love, an outspoken opponent of Smith, has made an active campaign. Others opposing the reelection of Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller are J. D. Parnell, H. L. Darwin and John D. McCall.

KINGSTON IS SELECTED FOR NEXT A. M. E. MEET

Acworth, Ga., July 27.—(Special.) The Sunday school and Allen Christian Endeavor league conventions of the Marietta district of the African Methodist Episcopal church, holding daily sessions here in Bethel church, this city. Rev. C. E. Ealey, pastor.

The reports from superintendents, delegates, pastors and special workers, made known the condition of the work, which pointed out the idleness of a large majority of negro boys and girls in certain sections of the district, who do not go to Sunday school nor church on the Sabbath day. A movement on foot, growing out of the report, to put a campaign of good fellowship on to reach the unreached, save the little for God.

Rev. A. J. Morgan, Rev. L. E. Roberts (white) of the Baptist; Rev. A. R. Cates, Rev. W. M. Lydes Reid, returned missionary to China, of the Presbyterian church, addressed the body.

NEW MOZLEY PARK POOL OPENS TODAY

Atlanta's newest and largest swimming pool, in Mozley park, will be opened with formal exercises at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, Acting Mayor Claude L. Ashley and Councilman John A. White, chairman of the park committee, will deliver addresses on the subject of Atlanta's parks. A watermelon cutting will be enjoyed.

Opening ceremonies are to be held in the large pavilion which overlooks the pool. General council has been asked to attend in a body, and the public is invited to be present. The new park, including the swimming pool and bathhouse, cost the city $100,000, of which $40,000 went for the purchase of the 39-acre tract.

The pool follows the contour of the land, with concrete sides and bottom at the bathhouse portion; there are three diving towers, and the bathhouse contains lockers for 1,100 people, together with showers and other conveniences. The park itself has a gracefully rolling landscape with many beautiful trees. There is a dance floor in the pavilion, and the park band will furnish music this afternoon.

The park is located on Mozley drive at Laurel avenue. Atlanta's other municipal swimming pools are located in Piedmont, Grant, Maddox, Oakland City and Cochran parks for white people and in Washington park for negroes.

An appropriation of $4,000 for the nine-hole course has passed through council and has been approved by Acting Mayor Claude L. Ashley. Hall Davis, president of the West End Business Men's association, has addressed a letter to the mayor and city council, urging an 18-hole course in White park.

The revival being conducted at the Holsey Temple, C. M. E. will continue through Monday night when Evangeline T. Mitchell, woman preacher, of Dayton, Ohio, will give her last sermon, it was announced Friday. It is reported that the church has been filled to capacity each night during the week. AUTO OF BARFIELD DAMAGED IN CRASH

The auto of Lieutenant J. W. Barfield of the city detective force, was slightly damaged Friday afternoon at the intersection of Edgewood avenue and Delta place, when the officer stopped quickly to avoid being hit by an automobile driven by an unknown white man who, it is said, did not heed the boulevard stop sign. A machine driven by Mrs. C. E. Bullington, of 824 Edgewood avenue, crashed into the rear of the police car, but neither machine was damaged to any extent. The young man who caused the accident did not stop.

AIR SIGHT-SEEING SERVICE ANNOUNCED

A regular sight-seeing tour by airplane of show places in and about Atlanta, with the added convenience of aerial guide books for passengers, was announced and demonstrated for the first time Friday afternoon by the Pitcairn Aviation, Inc.

One of the company's large passenger biplanes swung over the route with a party of reporters and business men, affording them in less than an hour a clear view at close range of outstanding points of interest.

The party looked down upon the gray walls of the federal prison, the elaborate layout of East Lake golf course, the drill-slashed face of Stone mountain. They saw Decatur, Agnes Scott, the fashionable Druid Hills residential section at its best, and they got a comprehensive idea of downtown Atlanta.

According to John K. Ottley, Jr., of the Pitcairn company, the course has been plotted with a view to giving the passenger a quick and general knowledge of Atlanta and its environs.

Another passenger on the plane was Frank Shaw, secretary of the industrial bureau, Atlanta chamber of commerce. Mr. Shaw declared the service would be particularly attractive to convention visitors, or to others who may be pressed for time, since in a little more than an hour they can get a knowledge of the city that would be impossible in any other way.

At present the company has a four-passenger airplane available for the service, while a two-passenger model is expected at Candler field today from the Philadelphia headquarters. The Pitcairn company, who contract the New York-Atlanta air mail, will take reservations for the tour, to leave at 4 o'clock week days and 2 o'clock Sundays.

Other points on the route are Lakewood park, Girls' High school, Piedmont park, Five Points and Fort Mcpherson.

POSTPONEMENT SEEN IN GARRISON TRIAL

With H. C. Garrison, Atlanta Terminal company superintendent, scheduled to appear before Recorder A. W. Callaway today for his first hearing on charges of shooting P. M. Sullivan, a young state highway engineer in the Terminal station on July 14, it seemed likely Friday night that a postponement of trial would be ordered by the court.

Sullivan's inability to attend the hearing and the absence of William Schley Howard, Garrison's attorney, from the city, will lead to a postponement, it is believed. Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole has indicated that the police will raise no objections to a delay.

Garrison, at liberty under $2,000 bonds, is at his work each day in the Terminal building as is Miss Louise M. Stanfield, who alleges that the quarrel between Sullivan and Garrison grew out of the latter's attentions to her. She is employed in Garrison's office. Garrison claims self-defense and denies Miss Stanfield's story. Sullivan, who was dismissed from the hospital Tuesday, is convalescing at his home.

FRED FAIR INDICTED FOR CARRYING PISTOL

Fred Fair, indicted Tuesday for the alleged abduction of Mrs. Kitty Heath, was named again Friday in a grand jury true bill charging carrying a pistol. Fair is a fugitive.

Mrs. Heath was located in Tampa, Fla., a week ago after she had been missing from her home near Lakewood since July 5. She charged that Fair had kept her a prisoner at Lakeland, Fla. Shortly after her disappearance W. O. Heath, the woman's husband; E. L. Griffin, her brother, and J. R. Griffin, a cousin, started a hunt for Fair and shot John Zink, mistaking him for the man they sought.

Zink is recovering, but the trio have been indicted for assault with intent to murder.

Crackers Grab Early Lead and Beat Lookouts Here, 5-2

Atlanta Off To Good Start In 1st Round

Locals Win Game in First; "Rube" Robinson Holds 'Nooga in Second.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Mr. John Henry (Rube) Robinson, philosopher, gentleman farmer of Arkansas and left-handed pitcher for Atlanta, took the Chattanooga Lookouts in hand for a time Friday afternoon and read them a lecture, illustrated with good pitching, the effect of which was "Don't bother me with base hits when I'm pitching."

For some six innings this admonition had the Lookouts thoroughly intimidated and then in the seventh they made so bold as to secure two hits and score a run. They continued this effrontery in the eighth, making three hits and scoring another run. Then in the ninth Mr. Robinson retired in favor of Tom Rogers, who quickly retired the side and the ball game was over.

From the above you might judge that Atlanta had lost a ball game wherein your judgment would be highly incorrect. For the Crackers romped, galloped and bustled about the bases in the first inning to score five runs on five hits, two stolen bases, a base on balls and two sacrifices.

Coast to Victory.

Bolstered by this comfortable lead they coasted on through the game to a 5-2 victory, for which the elderly but effective Mr. Robinson gets credit. That makes the Crackers two up on the Lookouts in the present series and this afternoon young Elzie Clise Dudley will sally forth to the mound and see if it can't be made three in a row.

Friday's victory shoved Atlanta into fourth place and Chattanoga further into the dark recesses of the second division. As matters now stand in Mr. Martin's baseball association the Crackers are two and one-half games behind Little Rock, in first place, with Memphis and Birmingham intervening. So don't give up all hope yet. Your Crackers are very muchly in the race.

And if they continue to play as they did yesterday then they'll stay up there. The lads hustled afield Friday and the work of Zoeller, West and Cullop kept several solidly hit balls from becoming extra base hits, or hits of any sort.

Better at Bat.

Then, at bat, they were even better. A certain Mr. Pyle set out to pitch for the Chattanoogans. We suppose that his intentions were honest and above-board, but he really just wouldn't do.

First-off Frankie Zoeller bounced a single over Huber's head at third and things started, not ending until Rube Robinson came to bat and grounded to Huber for the final out. By this time sufficient damage had been done with five runs chalked up for the Crackers.

There were a couple of times after that when chances to score popped up, but Rube was lazing along in his usual fashion and shoving the Lookouts back under every time they pushed their heads up, so the Crackers murmured "What of it?" and let it go at that.

Weaver Relieves Pyle.

Weaver had succeeded Mr. Pyle on the mound for Chattanooga just before Rube Robinson came to bat, and the elongated piece of humanity—which should turn into a good piece of pitching machinery before very long—had the Crackers fairly well in hand until he retired in the eighth inning in favor of a pinch hitter.

So outside of that devastating uprising staged by the Crackers in the first inning it was a fairly close and well played ball game.

The Crackers took something like 25 minutes to make their five runs. Zoeller, who bagged three singles out of four appearances at the plate, started it with his single over third. Gilbert, wanting a hit like nobody's business, was walked. Jim Poole laid a swinging bunt down the third base line and Zoeller and Gilbert moved up one base each.

Pleasant Situation.

Two on and nobody down was a rather pleasant situation for Atlanta and Nick pushed across the first run with a sacrifice fly to center, Zoeller scoring. Then came a deluge of base hits, largely singles. Billy Rhiel singled to center and Gilbert came home. Billy hadn't been at first base ten seconds before he stole second. West bounced the ball off Pyle's glove for a single and Billy held up at third. While Pyle was winding up, West started for second and Pyle threw to first, instead of home, as he should have. This constituted a balk, so Rhiel came home. Jones pumped a Texas leaguer back of second that scored West. Johnny came home when Brock added to the din and commotion with a thundering triple to the bank in right field. At this point Weaver came in and Rube ended the inning by grounding out.

Rube, however, got two hits during the day, both of them clean singles. One of them came in the sixth with two down. Zoeller, coming up after Rube, ploughed the ball down the third base line for what would have been a double in any man's ball park. Rube, however, doesn't move as fast as he once did, and Frankie had to stop at first while Rube reached second.

Things rocked along until the seventh. During this time Chattanooga had made exactly two hits off the Rube. Moore opened the seventh with a single and went down to second when Gilbert made a great stop of Jacobson's grounder to get the latter at first. Huber pumped a single to right and Chattanooga had a run. But just one.

The other was forthcoming in the eighth. After two were down Clayton blasted a double to center, took third on a single by Shaner through Gilbert and scored when Moore singled to center. Then Huber opened the ninth with a double to right and at this point, seeing the utter disregard with which Chattanooga heeded Rube's earlier admonitions, Skipper Niehoff sent in Tom Rogers, who retired the side. Zoeller made the last out with a spectacular catch of Stuvengen's fly. Stuvengen, hitting for Wierman, who had succeeded Weaver, sent Frankie up on the bank to make the catch, which cut off a run.

It was a very good game and the home team won it handily. The boys are playing the sort of ball now of which they are capable and seem to be getting somewhere. Which is well.

Pforzheim, Germany, July 27.—(AP) Elizabeth Ryan, Californian now living in England, defeated Fraulein Weihie in the international tennis tournament here today, but not before she was forced to extra sets. Miss Ryan won by scores of 8-6, 5-7, 8-6.

Two Espinosa Brothers Lead Western Open

Chicago Golfing Pros Leave Farrell and Rest Far in Ruck.

BY DIXON STEWART.
United News Staff Correspondent.

North Shore Golf Club, Chicago, July 27.—(United News.)—Abe and Al, scions of the proud Castilian family of Espinosa, head the field of 71 golfers who will play the 36-hole championship round in the western open championship here Saturday.

The Espinosa brothers jumped into the lead during the second 18-hole round of play today. Al, professional at Illinois Golf club and winner of the recent mid-American tourney at Kansas City, was first to break into the limelight, turning in a 37-36—73, which brought his card to 144, one stroke below Jim Foulis, Jr., of Hinsdale, the day's first low scorer.

Al's score stood for several hours, but as the sun began to set word flashed around the club that Abe Espinosa was "burning up the course." The news sent a big gallery out to see the elder Espinosa finish, and the fans were privileged to watch Abe set a new competitive course record of 69 for the North Shore links.

Record-Breaking Round.

Abe completed his first round in 35, one under par, and negotiated the homecoming round in 34, two under par. The record-breaking round brought his total to 143, the lowest score of the tournament.

Bill Tinder, Anderson, Ind., and Phil Hesler, Bristow, Okla., who tied for the first round lead with identical cards of 36-34—70, were unable to continue that pace today and finished with 78s for a gross of 148, well down the list of qualifiers.

Foulis, a young and capable golfer, promised to give the Spaniards a battle for the championship. Foulis was the first of today's players to turn in a score close to par.

Harry Hampton, another Chicago pro, was next in line with a 41-46. Julius Ackerbloom, Little Rock, Ark.; R. W. Treacy, Milwaukee, and H. Densmore Shute, Columbus, Ohio, were tied for fifth place with 147.

Trailers.

Tinder and Hesler were tied with Irving Ottman, Louisville, Ky.; Morton Smith, of Joplin, Mo., and H. Denny, of Green Bay, Wis., at 148, and Jock Hutchinson, twice winner of the western open title, was a stroke behind.

Johnny Farrel, national open champion, finished with 150.

Weather conditions handicapped the early starters today. A high wind blew across the course throughout the morning and occasionally rain fell. The skies cleared and the wind subsided during the afternoon.

Saturday the competitors will play 18 holes in the morning and 18 in the afternoon. Abe Espinosa will be paired with Hutchinson, Foulis with Shute, Al Espinosa with Hampton and Farrell with Chick Evans, Jr., who qualified with a score of 155.

NEW COURSE RECORD SET AT TORONTO

Toronto, July 27.—(AP)—The Rosedale course record was broken twice in an hour today by Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and Archie Compston, long driving British pro, but Walter Hagen, British open champion, clung to his lead in the Canadian open golf championship as the halfway mark was reached tonight.

Hagen, who tied with MacDonald Smith, of Great Neck, L. I., at the end of the first 18 holes yesterday, turned in a brilliant 70 in the second 18 today and held a one-stroke lead over the field on the eve of the final 36 holes tomorrow.

Compston Is Next.

One stroke behind Hagen's 139 came Compston. To his 73 of yesterday, the big British pro added a sensational 67 today, breaking the course record of 69, which had been set the day before by Hagen and Mac Smith.

Third place went to Willie MacFarlane, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., with 142. An hour before Compston had reeled off his 67 Turnesa had performed the same feat and slipped into fourth place with Smith, whose 74 today gave him a 36-hole total of 143.

Tied at 144 were three more Americans, Tommy Armour, of Washington, the defending champion; Leo Diegel, Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Larry Nabholtz.

Sixty-nine players qualified for the final 36 holes tomorrow, all those with 159 or better getting safely under the wire.

Walter Hagen, Rochester, N. Y., 69-70—139.

Archie Compston, Great Britain, 73-67—140.

Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., 72-70—142.

MacDonald Smith, Great Neck, L. I., 69-74—143.

Larry Nabholtz, Houston, Texas, 73-71—144.

Tommy Armour, Washington, 72-72—144.

America In Line For Three Titles

Toronto, Ont., July 27.—(AP)—Three of Canada's tennis championships are sure to go to American players this year while a fourth may go across the border.

The final of the men's singles championship tomorrow will be a battle between two of America's Davis cup reserves, John Van Ryn, of Princeton, and Wilmer Allison, of the University of Texas. Van Ryn eliminated the last surviving Canadian player, Dr. Jack Wright, of Montreal, the defending champion, in the semi-final today, 6-3, 7-5, 0-6, 6-1, while Allison downed John Doeg, of Santa Monica, Cal., 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

The final of the women's singles will be another all-American match between Marjorie Gladman, of Los Angeles, and Mary Greef, of Kansas City; Miss Greef furnished the surprise of the day by eliminating Mrs. A. H. Chapin, of Springfield, Mass., in a hard fought semi-final match, 2-6, 8-6, 9-7. Miss Gladman won her semi-final encounter from Marjorie Teeming, of Victoria, B. C., 6-1, 8-6.

$155,719 DENT IS PUT IN TEX RICKARD'S PURSE

SCAR ON BANKROLL MAY BE PERMANENT THING ::

New York, July 27.—(AP.)—Soothed by a $100,000 balm in the form of a payment check for the hurts Gene Tunney slashed in his features, Tom Heeney was well on the way to recovery today but the wounds inflicted in Tex Rickard's bank roll by last night's heavyweight championship fight probably will leave permanent scars.

With Tunney, the champion who has taken on a new significance as a "killer" successor to the great Jack Dempsey, visiting for a few days with friends in Connecticut and Heeney hiding away "heartbroken" after his 11-round technical knockout, the promoter of the financial fiasco in the Yankee stadium held the center of the stage today.

Rickard's Loss.

In his complete itemized statement of the receipts for the major fistic show of the outdoor season, Rickard revealed that the Madison Square Garden corporation suffered a loss of $155,719.77 on the match. Only 43,191 of the faithful paid a gross "gate" of $691,014.50, while expenses of the match, including $525,000 paid Tunney and $100,000 to the challenger, amounted to $712,142. The federal government collected $126,084.50 through its tax of 25 per cent on admissions and the state tax of 5 per cent drew $27,443.27. Rental of the stadium cost $52,142 and general expenses amounted to $35,000. In addition to the fight receipts themselves Rickard gained revenue of $20,000 from sale of the fight motion pictures and $15,000 for the radio privileges.

"It was all my own fault," Rickard said today. "I allowed myself to be talked into staging the bout in July, the worst month of the year, when a date in September, with everyone back in New York after summer holidays, would have assured a gate of at least $400,000 more.

"Then again the general public never did take to the match. You boys said it was going to flop and I knew it was, too, but I couldn't admit it. The ticket sale fooled me in a way because my best customers took big blocks of tickets and then turned many of them back on the last day. That never happened before.

Must Start Uplifting.

"I must build up another contender and I have until next July to do it. There won't be another heavyweight championship match until a year from this September. In the meantime I hope to find somebody to match the champion in all around color and ability. Tunney today is one of the greatest heavyweight champions in history.

"I doubt if the contender will be any of the present crop. One of the big troubles with this match was that I had at least five contenders in Johnny Risko, Jack Sharkey, Paulino Uzcudun, Knute Hansen and Heeney, all about the same caliber, but none definitely outstanding. There is only one thing to do, start the eliminations all over again. Draw in as many new faces as possible, and let the public choose the next outstanding contender.

"There is little probability of another financial failure such as this one. Tunney, in the future, will fight on a percentage basis and all the contenders will do the same."

HELEN WILLS DEFEATS FOE IN FINAL TILT

Manchester, Mass., July 27.—(AP)—Helen Wills easily defeated Edith Cross, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-3, in the singles finals of the fourth annual Essex County Country club tournament today, but met with surprising defeat in the semi-finals of the mixed doubles. With her partner, Alan Herrington, Stanford university, she was eliminated by Miss Marjorie Morrill, Dedham, and Benjamin Gorchakoff, Los Angeles, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Miss Morrill and Gorchakoff went on to defeat Mrs. George W. Wightman, Longwood, and Frank Luce, Jr., Boston, in the finals of the mixed doubles, 6-3, 6-1. Their victory prevented a clean sweep of the tournament by California players as Miss Cross and Mrs. L. A. Harper, Berkeley, Calif., won the women's doubles finals in straight sets from Mrs. J. Dalls Corbiere, Southboro, and Mrs. William Endicott, Boston, 6-3, 6-3.

Beautiful Playing.

Miss Wills' victory in the singles was a foregone conclusion although Miss Cross played beautifully and extended the natonal champion more than any other player she had met in the tournament.

Miss Morrill and Gorchakoff, fresh from a third-round win in the mixed doubles over Anne Townsend, Philadelphia, and Henry R. Guild, Longwood, 6-2, 7-5, played as fine tennis as the week has produced in their match against Miss Wills and Herrington. The first suggestion that an upset was in the offing came after the games had gone to four-all, when Gorchakoff and Miss Morrill broke through Miss Wills' service and then took the first set on the Dedham girl's delivery.

The champion and her partner won the second set very quickly, 6-3, and seemed on the way to victory after all. But in the final and deciding set Miss Morrill and Gorchakoff ran up a 5-1 lead after breaking through Herrington's service. Miss Morrill trailed, love-40, on her service in the next game but she and Gorchakoff brought the score to deuce with one deadly shot after another, after losing the match point twice, they won on the third occasion, when Herrington sent the ball into the net and Miss Wills had the rare experience of congratulating her victor over the net.

PEABODY NAGS RUN ONE-TWO IN FEATURE

New York, July 27.—(AP)—T. S. Jordan and Flat Iron, horses owned by S. Peabody, staged a thrilling finish in the $1,500 Palmer House handicap, a six furlong dash for three-year-olds, which featured the card at Lincoln fields today. T. S. Jordan withstood a fine closing rush by the other Peabody entry to win by a nose from his stablemate. Flat Iron's pace in the last sixteenth gave him second place by a neck over Oh Susanna and would have carried him on to win in another jump. The winner's time was 1:12, and the Jordan entry paid $5.96.

In the fourth race at the Illinois track, Frances Milward, brought joy to the hearts of the long shot players by winning at the long odds of $60.80 for a $2 mutuel ticket.

At Empire City the riding of Jockey G. Rose provided the feature of a dull racing day. In addition to riding the winner of the feature race to an easy victory when Campanuni made a show of the field in the fourth event to beat out Westmount and Briar Broom by three lengths, Rose booted Boyish Bob under the wire in the second race at 12 to 1, the longest odds seen at the Yonkers track in many a day, and scored his third victory of the day on Tin Hat in the sixth race.

The headline race at Windsor, The Mary Tudor Cup handicap for three-year-olds, worth $1,500, went to Queen Towton with Mann up. Stampede finished second and Tannic third. The winner paid $6.50 and covered the six furlongs in 1:15 1-5.

Madrid May Get 1932 Olympic Games

Amsterdam, July 27.—(AP)—The Dutch press today states that it is practically certain that the Olympic games will be held in Madrid in 1936.

Madrid apparently is in line for the games eight years hence, said General Charles H. Sherrill, American member of the international committee, but that body will not assign the 1936 games definitely until the annual meeting of 1931.

Paddock Case Diplomatically Put on Shelf

Wrangle Over Ineligibility Is Held Up Until After Competition.

BY ALAN J. GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.

Amsterdam, July 27.—(AP)—The International Amateur Athletic federation at the opening session of its ninth congress today neatly and diplomatically sidestepped the whole Charley Paddock case by adjourning just before it reached that portion of its agenda dealing with amateur status questions, and fixing August 6, the day after the completion of the Olympic track and field competition, for reconvening.

Whether there was a possibility that issues over the California sprinter would be brought up at today's session, the effect of the virtual steamroller tactics was automatically to shelve the case until after Paddock runs the 200-meter dash, which is scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday. After this competitive battle is over Charley again may be the storm center of a controversy, at least among the Americans themselves, where there are more sharply divided factions than among all of the other nations put together.

Paddock Not Mentioned.

The sprinter's name was not even mentioned at today's meeting in spite of its being conducted in three languages, German, French and English, for the benefit of the representatives of twoscore countries, who quickly disposed of all business before them.

They approved 31 world's record track and field performances, elected four new members, bringing the total up to 46, and listened to welcoming addresses by President J. S. Edstrom, of Sweden; Count Baillet Batour, president of the Belgium international Olympic committee, and Baron Schimmel Penninck, chairman of the Dutch Olympic committee, who is also burgomaster over the kaiser's retreat at Doorn.

The election of the Cuban Amateur Athletic union to federation membership was accomplished through the good offices of the United States, whose chief delegate, Murray Hulbert, sponsored the application and made a personal request for prompt action because the Cubans plan to hold the Pan-American Olympic in Havana in 1930 and therefore desire full international affiliations. Peru, China, Iceland and other nations enrolled, evidencing the wide range of the federation's membership.

American Records Approved.

Of the 31 record performances approved on the recommendation of the examining committee, virtually a third of them, ten in all, represented American athletic feats. Six Finnish marks and five German records also were approved. Two American sprint records were affected by the confirmation of the ban on tenth-second watches by the congress. Paddock's nine and five-tenths hundred-yard dash mark, made in 1926, was accepted as equalling the world's record of nine and three-fifth seconds and Roland Locke's 20 5-10 seconds furlong, also made in that year, was accepted as a new world's mark at 20 3-5 seconds.

Besides avoiding a possible Paddock upheaval, the federation also shelved until August 6 other debative subjects, such as the proposal to suspend from amateur athletics any person involved in doping competitors "with drugs or stimulants internally, by hypodermic or other methods."

Three nations, including the United States, proposed that the walking events, all of which were eliminated from this year's Olympics, be restored to the official program.

While last minute preparations were completed for the formal opening of the ninth Olympiad tomorrow with gala ceremonies, including a parade of the athletes of all the nations, today's continual rainfall either handicapped workouts or spoiled them altogether.

The following relay marks were accepted: Newark A. C. (Bowman, Currie, Pappas and Cumming) relay team, 440-yard and 440-meter relay, 41 seconds.

University of Southern California (E. House, H. Smith, C. Borah and W. Lewis) relay team, 880-yard and 880-meter relay, 7 minute 25.8 seconds.

Boston A. A. (Sansome, Welsh, Martin and Hahn) relay team, two-mile relay, 7 minutes 41.4 seconds.

Other records approved follow:

Douglas Lowe, England, 600 yards, 1:14.4.
Edvin Wide, Sweden, two miles, 9:01.4.
Seraphim Martin, France, 800 meters, 1:50.6.
Otto Peltzer, Germany, 1,000 meters, 2:25.8.
Otto Peltzer, Germany, 1,500 meters, 3:51.
Paavo Nurmi, Finland, 2,000 meters, 5:23.4.
Hirschfeld, Germany, shot put, 51 feet 3 inches.
Penttila, Finland, javelin, 229 feet 8 inches.

RAY SCHALK AND COMISKEY START A ROW

Chicago, July 27. — (AP) — Ray Schalk, former manager of the Chicago White Sox club, and Charles A. Comiskey, president of the club, wrangled in public statements tonight over the terms by which Schalk, on July 4, left the team.

Schalk declared the White Sox club officials offered him a settlement which was "ridiculously low and unfair." Comiskey declared that Schalk had previously said he "could not have been treated any finer by his own father."

"Ray Schalk resigned July 4, Comiskey said, "in a written statement prepared and signed by himself. He was advised that a change would be necessary and I gave him the opportunity of resigning.

Notice of Release.

"After accepting his resignation, he was served with a written notice of release dated July 5, and was paid 10 days in advance, which he accepted.

"He was given the position of manager in 1927 because he was through as a catcher and I endeavored to make a manager out of him if possible.

"The ball club got away from him. In May this year he wrote to me stating as long as the team was going bad and he was of no service to the club he wanted to cut his own salary $10,000. This I refused.

"Schalk was paid more money than any other catcher ever received on any major league ball team.

"He could have continued on my salary roll to sit on the bench if he so desired on the same basis that I have been paying my active catchers.

"The Schalk matter is a closed incident as far as the White Sox or myself is concerned."

May Seek Legal Guns.

On the other hand, Schalk indicated that he would resort to legal action before considering his connection with the club severed.

Schalk said he resigned at the request of President Charles A. Comiskey. "I stepped aside as manager with the full belief and understanding that I would go into the catcher's box as heretofore, he declared.

Schalk said he was considering several offers from major league clubs.

Tom Heeney Will Return To Home Land

Eye Still Giving Fighter Much Trouble; Plans Early Trip Home.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Tom Heeney, the solid man, is going back to his native New Zealand within two weeks probably $100,000 richer than when he invaded the American shores in quest of the world's heavyweight championship 15 months ago.

Heeney decided to return home today with his trio of brothers after receiving the distressing news that his aged father was seriously ill. A cablegram awaiting him advising of his father's illness soon after he returned to his hotel after his bruising battle with Gene Tunney last night.

Eye Giving Trouble.

Aside from his damaged eye, Heeney bore no serious marks of the battle. The optic, however, is giving him considerable trouble and he intends to consult an oculist tomorrow to find out the extent of the damage. The cut over his eye is healing nicely, but the eye itself is seriously bloodshot.

Today, after reviewing his blasted ambition, Heeney not only reiterated the statement that Gene Tunney beat him fairly and squarely but elaborated on them. He refused to charge that Tunney was deliberately jamming his thumb into his eye in the memorable eighth round although some of his intimates wanted him to make out that the champion had wilfully roughed him.

"It could have happened to anybody," he said. "Gene is too fine a sportsman to resort to questionable tactics. He was winning and fought so cleanly that I cannot believe he would deliberately try to impair my vision.

Takes Hat Off to Champ.

"I did not think there was a man in the world who could stop me. But it happened and I am taking my hat off to Gene Tunney."

Heeney, through his managers, squared accounts with Promoter Tex Rickard, receiving a check of $105,750. In addition to his guarantee of $100,000, he got $5,750 for his share of the moving picture. Because he is an alien, Rickard deducted $5,000 federal tax and $2,270 for the state tax.

Since landing on the American shores Heeney has earned approximately $255,000 for his ten battles, and is figured to have saved at least $100,000 in cash for his own end after splitting his purses with his managers.

Scott Is Better; Will Be Out Soon

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The condition of Floyd ("Pete") Scott, injured Pittsburgh outfielder, was so much better tonight that physicians who saw him at the Lutheran hospital said he probably would be able to leave the hospital in a week or ten days. Scott dislocated several vertebrae in his neck on Thursday when he plunged into the concrete wall at the Polo grounds in attempting to catch Travis Jackson's home run.

Young Swimmer Forced To Quit

Memphis, July 27.—(AP)—After 35 hours and 41 minutes of constant swimming and floating in an attempt to set an endurance record, Martha Hill, 18-year-old stenographer, was lifted from a pool and sent to bed today. She was forced to abandon her attempt after being seized with cramps. The world's record is 54 hours and 23 minutes. Miss Hill entered the water Wednesday afternoon.

Bill Tilden Defeats Rene Lacoste in First Davis Cup Match

Big Bill Plays GreatestMatch Of His Career

Starts Off by Losing First Set and Closes With a Rush to Win.

BY THOMAS T. TOPPING,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Auteuil, France, July 27.—(AP)—Celebrating his reinstatement as a member of the American Davis cup tennis team, Big Bill Tilden called forth a burst of the furious tennis of his younger years today to defeat his arch-nemesis, Rene Lacoste, of France, for the first time since May 20, 1927, and give his country an even break in the first day's play in the challenge round for the cup now held by the French.

In a well-planned and strategically perfect five-set campaign, the American ace broke through the machine-like perfection of his old rival's game after losing the first set and won by scores of 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. With a victory by Henri Cochet over Tilden's young teammate, John Hennessey, 5-7, 9-7, 6-3, 6-0, in the other match of the day, the French drew up to even terms and the custody of the cup for the year to come appeared at this stage to be in doubt.

Saving Tilden for his singles match against Cochet on Sunday, the American team will play George Lott and Hennessey, the youthful midwestern pair, in the doubles match against Jean Borotra and Jacques Brougnon tomorrow. If the youngsters come through and if Tilden outdoes himself by sending Henri tumbling after Rene, the United States will have succeeded in its dramatic drive to recover the trophy.

To many in the crowd of nearly 8,000 who watched this battle of tennis giants in the New Roland Garros stadium here, built especially for this occasion, it seemed that "Big Bill" played if anything better and harder because of the startling developments of the last week in which he was dropped from the American team, of which he was captain, and later restored to his place on the plea of French lovers of the sport.

Tilden played much the best tennis of the day and is now a favorite to defeat Cochet on Sunday. The American chance of winning back the Davis cup appears somewhat brighter as a result of today's matches. If the United States team can win tomorrow's doubles and Tilden can come through against Cochet the next day the campaign led by "Big Bill" will be successful and the cup will go back to its home shores.

Although Hennessey put up a great battle against Cochet he is conceded only an outside chance to beat Lacoste when they meet Sunday. Thus American hopes are built most heavily upon the doubles and "Big Bill's" remaining singles.

Certain it is that although Tilden may have played a more punishing game against certain opponents during his long career on the courts of the world, he never played a headier one. He found Lacoste didn't like soft drop shots deep on his backhand, and these, alternated with cross-court drives and lobs, simply had Lacoste dizzy.

The lanky American served with less exertion than usual, husbanding his strength, and he flashed his famous cannonball delivery only when in dire need. When an opening came he did not fail to take the net and pound the point home with a thrilling volley, something he has been unable to do in many of his previous losing battles with Lacoste.

One Out of Five.

Incidentally this was the first victory for Tilden over the great French player in their last five conflicts. Not since Tilden put Rene away in two straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, in Franco-American matches at St. Cloud, France, May 20 of last year, had the American emergend on top, Lacoste winning a few days later in the final of the French hard court championship in five sets, then trimming the American in Davis cup play and for the United States title here last year and recently stopping him in five sets at Wimbledon.

In those battles of the last two years an important factor in the turning of the tide against Big Bill was comparative lack of stamina under the tireless returns of the younger man, but it was not so today. The veteran showed no signs of wilting and at the finish the youthful Rene exhibited more evidence of fatigue than he.

The French, who had expected to be leading by two matches to none today, are given no more than an even chance to win the doubles, the only match scheduled for tomorrow. The same French pair—Borotra and Brugnon—was beaten by Tilden and Frank Hunter last year in Davis cup play. The American youngsters are at their best on clay courts, the surface in use here.

Big Sid Terris Kayoes Alvarez in Seventh

Tampa, Fla., July 27.—(AP)—Big Sid Terris, Chapel Hill, N. C., knocked out Rufino Alvarez, Spain, in the seventh round of the scheduled 10-round main bout at the 116th field artillery arena here tonight. Terris used his long reach to hold Alvarez off with his left, slamming over four hard right-handers in the seventh to score the knockout. Terris weighed 200 pounds and Alvarez 191 1-2.

In the scheduled eight-round semi-final, Mike Firpo, Tampa, light-heavy, knocked out Kid Bombero, Tampa, in the fourth round. Jack Kirten, Cades, S. C., knocked out Big Boy Earle, Lakeland, in the second round of another eight-rounder. They are heavies.

Sandlot Games

The battles for the pennants in the Sandlot leagues are scheduled for 10 a. m. Saturday with the two best teams of the different divisions participating.

Coker's All-Stars and the Northside Bulldogs will cross bats at northeast Piedmont park for the 140-pound division championship. This game should be a real battle.

In the 125-pound division the West End Peanuts and the Northside Terrors are slated to meet in this titular tilt at northwest Piedmont park, with the title battle in the 115-pound division billed for Clay field, where the Kirkwood Cubs meet the Fort McPherson Orioles.

Poor Mr. Rickard.

Poor Tex Rickard. He is probably stone broke as a result of the heavyweight fiasco staged at Yankee stadium Thursday night. If one is to believe the wire reports from various sources, he either lost a couple hundred grand or half that much or broke even or made anything up to that amount. The reports only differ about half a million. Let us venture that Mr. Rickard lost very little, if any, on the bout.

One correspondent declares that Tex convinced the principals that they should work on a percentage basis when he saw that the crowd would be smaller than usual. That is probably straight stuff. Such would be the natural Procedure of Mr. Rickard under such circumstances.

But if the famous impresario made or lost a few hundred grand what difference does it make anyhow. The question now is—for Mr. Rickard and Pro Bono Publico alike—who's next? The time has definitely come now when the famous Rickard or some other modern Barnum must dig up some new and interesting soap. The fight Thursday night proved one thing conclusively—that no man living can stand before Gene Tunney on even terms. Correspondents would have us believe that the fight produced a different Tunney, a killer with the blood-lust in his eye.

Not having seen the battle we must bow to the judgment of these witnesses but from our little corner we can still venture to say that if Tunney had thought the "man from under" had a kayo in either hand, he would not have ventured as much. Tunney is not the venturing kind. It is not his game. He will beat any man living who tries to box him or tries to force him and hasn't the punch to land when the opportunity presents itself.

All of which again brings up the question—Who's next? You guess, Mr. Rickard is guessing. Nobody in the field now can turn the trick. Another experiment with a mediocre fighter will not be profitable. If you want to make a million find a big boy who can hit and box enough to stay on his feet in the ring with Gene Tunney.

The First Air Derby.

The stage—which comprises a good many acres of smooth landing field at Candler airport—is all set for Atlanta's first air races and it seems entirely probable that after its first dose Atlanta will be calling for more such medicine. Speaking from a personal angle, we are looking forward to the contests of the birdmen with considerable anticipation. There is something thrilling about the way these ships set up on one wing when they round the pylons at a speed of from 100 to 160 miles per hour and roar back across the course for the next lap. In fact, there is something thrilling about all this air stuff. Even the crazy parachute jumping business and the auto-plane change by Miss Mabel Cody and all the rest of the events.

When Manager Swanee Taylor declared that he would construct nearly 10,000 grandstand seats and provide space for twice that many spectators on the grounds we gave him the polite equine giggle but now that the date is at hand we are beginning to believe that he really knows more about the matter than we supposed.

Judging from the preparations made the huge crowd will be taken care of very well but there will be a lot of disappointed people who attempt to park on nearby roads and see the festivities because nearly everything of interest will take place immediately over the field or on the field at the landing points and can not be seen from outside.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

DAZZY VANCE.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 27.—Jim Bottomley's twenty-second home run failed to prevent Dazzy Vance from winning a 5-to-2 decision over St. Louis here today, giving Brooklyn an even break in four games against the league leaders. Vance fanned five and held the Cardinals to six hits. Bottomley's drive put him within one homer of Hack Wilson, the Chicago outfielder, who leads the league.

Clarence Mitchell pitched shutout ball for the visitors until the sixth, when he was routed by a fuselage of singles. Harold Haid and Sylvester Johnson followed him into the box and also suffered damage.

GIANTS WIN SERIES.

New York, July 27.—The Giants made it three out of four from the Pirates, winning the final game of the series here today, 4 to 2. Both Fred Fitzsimmons and Fred Fussell pitched good ball, but superior support brought victory to the New York hurler. Pittsburgh's four errors contribued much to the Giant cause, figuring in three of McGraw's runs.

Travis Jackson started the Giants on their way with a home run in the second, but retired later with a strained leg. The Pirates had a chance in the eighth, but Hargreaves grounded out with the bases filled. Rain fell during a greater part of the game.

BLAKE IS VICTORIOUS.

Boston, Mass., July 27.—Sheriff Blake, pitching one of his best games of the season, defeated the Braves today, 2 to 1, in the last game of the series. Boston had won the two previous games. Blake held the Braves to five widely scattered hits and probably would have registered a shutout but for his generosity in walking Boston batters in the seventh. It was American Legion day at Braves field and members of the legion placed memorial wreaths on the tablet dedicated to Christy Mathewson and Toney Boechel, both of whom were connected with the Braves.

Richards Sees Good Chance For America

Tilden at His Greatest in Victory; Americans in Paris Celebrate.

BY VINCENT RICHARDS,
American Professional Tennis Champion and Former Davis Cup Star.
(Special Cable to The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.)
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Paris, July 27.—In two of the most brilliantly stroked tennis matches I have ever watched in my life France and the United States broke even this afternoon in the first day's play of the challenge round for the Davis cup. For the United States William T. Tilden, II, came back in a magnificent uphill battle to down his former conqueror, Rene Lacoste, in a five-set match, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6 and 6-3, while Cochet, for France, beat John Hennessey with bewildering play in four sets, 5-7, 9-7, 6-3 and 6-0.

The Rolland Garros stadium here was packed to its capacity by a brilliantly and gorgeously colored audience which formed a spectacular background for the exceptional tennis of the day.

At His Greatest.

Tilden never played better in his life than when he went out for what might have been his last chance to further his greatness. Personally, I have never seen Big Bill play so spectacularly nor have I ever seen him use his brains to so great an advantage. His headwork was superb. He used the elements to the greatest possible advantage and absolutely changed his game and tactics as markedly as ever a football team changed its style of play to take advantage of circumstances.

During the entire match Tilden used a chop stroke altogether because of the high winds. Despite the fact that volleying in the winds was difficult Tilden never volleyed quite so well. His change of pace and his chop strokes baffled Lacoste. Though the Frenchman was steady as usual, Big Bill fooled him completely time after time and made many kills at the net.

At the finish of the match Lacoste extended his hands in congratulation, later said:

"Playing exceptionally well, Tilden was just too good for me today. He was magnificent."

Big Bill, on the other hand, said: "Thank God, I beat him in five sets. Everybody said I could not do it, but I did."

Experts on every side agreed that Tilden had never played better than he did today. It seemed that he realized it was a crisis in his life and rose to unbelievable heights. Tonight Americans all over Paris are celebrating the Tilden victory and showing hopes of seeing the cup returned to the United States.

In the Hennessey-Cochet match the Indianapolis boy played very fine tennis. He entered the match in a confident frame of mind and started off well, but the dashing Lyons star was too much for him. In the fourth set he played the greatest tennis I have ever seen in my life. He took six straight games to win 6-0.

U. S. Has Good Chance.

The result of the play leaves the United States with what I consider an excellent chance to win the cup. Personally I feel that Cochet is the most dangerous man on the French team when he is good. But he has off days and Sunday may be one of them.

Hennessey and Lott will play against Brugnon and Borotra in the doubles tomorrow. This will give Tilden a day of rest. The Tilden-Cochet match Sunday should prove a great contest. The doubles seem to me a tossup although I slightly favor the chances of the Frenchmen, who showed good form in practice today.

After the matches, Ambassador Herrick called at Tilden's dressing room and congratulated him. Tilden remarked that the ambassador had made his victory possible by appealing for his reinstatement and he would do or die in his next match.

Fast Backswing Causes a Slice

BY SOL METZGER.

About every pro you go to for a golf lesson will tell you that a fast backswing is a fault that must be corrected. The reason is that it usually causes a slice, and for quite obvious reasons. You see if you take the club back fast and start the downswing without pause, as you will do when you swing it back rapidly, the head of the club will still be going back when the hands start the downswing. The result is your hands will be ahead of the club-head when the ball is struck. That will cause a slice, because the face of the club is not at right angles to the line you wish to drive the ball when it makes contact with it.

Watch Willie MacFarlane play his wooden clubs, and there is no great rush to his backswing. He takes the club back slowly with a straight left arm in control. There is almost a perceptible pause at the top. Thus, when he starts to pull the club to start the downswing its head starts down with his hands. The latter are not ahead as they are when you rush the backswing. Check up and see if a fast backswing is not the main reason for your slice.

Tomorrow—The part teeing the ball plays in slicing.

Fully 90 per cent of the golfers slice. The causes are curable. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care The Constitution, and request his illustrated leaflet on "Slicing."

ATHLETICS DOWN SOX.

Chicago, July 27.—A six-run rally in the eighth inning today gave the Philadelphia Athletics their four straight victory over the Chicago White Sox. The score was 7 to 4.

Young Ed Walsh started for the Sox, but could not hold the four-run lead his mates gave him in the first inning. Double plays saved him until the eighth, when he retired in favor of Connally. Cox pitched the last inning. The Sox loaded the sacks in their half of the eighth but could not score on Rommell and Grove, who succeeded Quinn on the mound. Two pinch hitters failed to connect in this round.

Invitation Tourney Goes Into Semi-Final Today; West Thrills Crowd.

Columbus, Ga., July 27.—(AP)—A field of four golfers tonight had survived two days of scorching sunshine and sizzling golf to enter the semi-finals of the annual Columbus Country club's annual invitation golf tournament.

Charles Brumby, Cedartown; "Bully" Fortson, Augusta; A. Sid Goss, Albany, and H. M. Ansley, Atlanta, composed the quartet who tee off tomorrow morning in the semi-finals and then the two survivors will fight it out over the sporty 18-hole course in the afternoon to settle the question of the championship.

Brumby, who was medalist yesterday, bowled over J. K. Clason, Columbus, 6 and 5, and then in the next round trimmed Rube Jennings, West Point, 2 and 1, to win his way to the semi-finals.

Fortson survived the day by trimming Fred Minnich, Atlanta, 7 and 5, and then beat another Atlantan, Lee Fowler, 1 up. Goss won from Ira Slade, Griffin, 2 and 1, then dashed local hopes by putting Nolan Murrah, last home guard survivor, out handily, 5 and 4.

W. B. Bridger, Atlanta, was Ansley's first victim today, falling before his fellow townsman, 5 and 3. He then trounced Paul Haddock, 4 and 3, in the afternoon round.

While the survivors found comparatively easy going, Jimmie West, Atlanta left-hander, gave the gallery a thrill in the morning when he began shooting sizzling golf after the turn when he was six down to Nolan Murrah and with a brilliant 33, two under par on the incoming nine, cut the local player's margin of victory down to one up.

DICK WINCHELL WINS PRESS TOURNAMENT

Playing the most blistering golf that he exhibited during the tournament Dick Winchell, of the Georgian, defeated Angus Perkerson, of the Journal, 6-5, Friday in the final of the championship flight of the newspaper golf tournament.

Starting his show of brilliant golf early in the match Winchell got a deuce on number two of the morning round. From this good start he produced a brand of golf that was a trifle too hot for Perkerson to combat. The morning round found Winchell turning in a card of approximately 73 for the 18 holes. This brilliant display of the ancient pastime enabled him to turn five up on his opponent.

This tremendous lead was too much for Perkerson to overcome and although he battled gamely during the afternoon round he was unable to get back those five precious holes.

By winning the tourney Winchell will have his name engraved on the handsome Dan Michalove trouhp and will have possession of the cup for a year. The cup must be won three times by an individual before he can have permanent possession of the trophy.

Third flight—W. T. Wilkes defeated William Munday, 3-1.
Fourth flight—J. R. Lawn defeated Jim Nevin, 5-3.
Fifth flight—F. C. Richardson defeated Don Long, 1 up.
Sixth flight—Lamden Kay defeated Marion Jones, 3-1.
Seventh flight—F. Wood defeated M. D. Roseberry, 2-1.
Eighth flight—A. Johnson defeated Brad Byrd, 6-5.
Ninth flight—J. S. Willis defeated Charles Chandler, 6-2.
Tenth flight—J. S. Pope defeated G. W. Bowden, 6-5.
Eleventh flight—John Reagin defeated Knight, 2-1.
Twelfth flight—Hunter Bell defeated Womack, 2-1.

TomLoughran Wants Crack At Big Boys

Light Heavy Champ Says He'll Go After Heavyweights This Fall.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran today announced the intention of cleaning up all challenges for his world's light heavyweight boxing championship this fall and then entering the heavyweight division in the hope of a crack at Gene Tunney's crown.

"I have defeated all contenders for my title and my field is now limited," the Philadelphia Adonis declared today. "I'll fight either Leo Lomski or Jimmy Slattery in September, then may take on Mickey Walker in Chicago and then will give up my title to enter the heavies' ranks.

Loughran added that in his opinion none of the current heavyweights would stand a chance against him, saying he has beaten Risko twice and declaring Jack Sharkey has repeatedly refused to meet him.

TOM TO VACATE ON OCTOBER 1.

Philadelphia, July 27.—(AP)—Word came here from New York today that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight champion, would vacate his title October 1, and train for a heavyweight bout with Gene Tunney next year. Loughran, it was reported, has Tex Rickard's promise that he would be given a chance against the heavyweight champion.

KILLED HIS WIFE WITH A HAMMER, DOCTOR CONFESSES

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 27.—(AP)—Dr. Harry N. Hoffman was returned to his cell in the county jail here tonight after signing a confession in which he admitted killing his wife with a hammer.

The confession, which was not made public, was revealed at a hearing today when a detective said Dr. Hoffman, who first told police a stranger had murdered Mrs. Hoffman, has admitted the crime.

At a session held in the crowded court room, where many women pushed their way close to the front railing, the detective said a hammer with which Hoffman beat his wife to death had been found and was in the possession of officials.

SIMMONS DECLINES TO BE INTERVIEWED ON RESIGNATION

New Bern, N. C., July 27.—(AP)—Senator F. M. Simmons, former democratic national committeeman and leader of his party in this state, thinks his reasons for resigning from the democratic national committee "should be perfectly obvious to everyone."

The veteran North Carolina legislator was unanimously reelected national committeeman by the state's delegation at the Houston convention. He was an outspoken and vigorous opponent of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, in pre-convention activities and made his first public utterance since the convention when he announced Wednesday night that he had resigned as national committeeman.

Declining to grant newspapermen an interview yesterday Senator Simmons announced in response to queries that his reasons for resigning should be perfectly obvious to everyone.

Through friends here the senator added that he did not care "to complicate matters further by a statement at this time." He let it be known, however, that he would possibly have a statement ready in a few days.

Senator Simmons did not attend the democratic convention at Houston on the advice of his physicians. Since the adjournment of congress he has been resting at a sanitarium in Maryland and here.

COL. BENTEEN HEADS ORDER OF SERPENTS

Colonel Frederick W. Benteen was elected grand gugu of the Military Order of Serpents, affiliated order of the United Spanish War Veterans, at the monthly meeting of the lodge Friday night, in the city auditorium.

Colonel Benteen succeeded Colonel John P. Haunson, who became grand gugu of the grand lodge of Georgia, established at the recent convention of the organization in Americus. The title of grand gugu is the highest in the order.

Spceeding Fred Milos, former T. I. I. gugu of the local lodge, who ascended to that title in the grand lodge, was Steven Gayarre. Other officers elected Friday night were J. G. Habersham, highest datto, and E. W. Dease, keeper of the sacred amphorium.

SLAIN "INFIDEL'S" DYING STATEMENT MAY SAVE SPOUSE

Decatur, Ala., July 27.—(AP)—The Alabama supreme court will decide shortly whether the death-bed statement of a man can be impeached on the grounds he is an "infidel" and has no fear of "punishment after death."

Attorneys for Mrs. Emma Marshall, convicted of slaying her husband, have asked that her life insurance be set aside on the ground that her husband, Thomas Marshall, "had no fear of punishment after death" and that "an infidel is as likely to make a false statement on his death bed as in the prime of life."

Marshall was shot in the back as he lay on a bed in his home here last fall. In a dying statement to physicians he accused his wife of having fired the shot.

Defense attorneys contend Marshall committed suicide and, not knowing he was dying, falsely accused his wife of shooting him.

HOUR OF ROBINSON SPEECH DELAYED; DATE NOT CHANGED

Hot Springs, Ark., July 27.—(AP)—Announcement was made today by Senator Joe T. Robinson, democratic vice presidential nominee, that the hour of his formal notification ceremonies had been changed to begin at 8:30 p. m., August 30, instead of 7 p. m. The ceremonies will be held in front of the Arlington hotel and will last about an hour.

DRIVER GUARDS $25,000 IN GEMS FOUND IN TAXICAB

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Carter Cronstad, a cab driver, spent a sleepless night last night, sitting up with a pistol in his hand to guard a bag full of jewels, worth $25,000, he found in his taxi.

Today he turned the gems over to the lost and found department of the Taxi company and learned they had been lost by Lieutenant Commander William Heard, U. S. N., and Mrs. Heard, who had reported the loss.

The naval officer had departed for his base in Panama, so arrangements were made to send the jewels to him.

Coolidge Expects Soon To Accept Hoover Resignation

Superior, Wis., July 27.—(United News.)—President Coolidge probably will accept Secretary Hoover's resignation from the cabinet at any time now, it was said at the executive offices here today.

While Mr. Coolidge was represented as having taken no conclusive action in selecting Hoover's successor, it was made known the secretary's cabinet duties likely would be terminated in the immediate future.

The executive recently announced Hoover's stay in the cabinet would be concluded only at his own discretion.

BEN DAVIS' FOES PLANNING FIGHT

Macon, Ga., July 27.—(AP)—Sol C. Clemons, of this city, one of the negro members of the republican state central committee, ousted by Ben J. Davis, whose status as republican national committeeman from Georgia has been questioned since the Kansas City convention, declared tonight that Davis acted without authority in displacing the members who were said to have been opposed to him.

"We are waiting until Roscoe Pickett, chairman of the central committee, returns from Washington in a few days," said Clemons. "At that time Pickett will call a meeting of the central committee, a state executive committee will be chosen and a permanent organization perfected.

"Th term of office of the executive committee expired at the close of the Kansas City convention. There will be a meeting in a few days and the organization will be completed."

BEN DAVIS' FOES OUSTED, HE SAYS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Ben J. Davis, negro, ousted national republican committeeman from Georgia, claims to have succeeded in removing his opponents from the state central committee, it was learned Friday.

The Atlanta Independent, a negro weekly newspaper edited by Davis, carried a story that Roscoe Pickett, Jasper, Ga., had been displaced as chairman of the central committee, and G. F. Flanders, Swainsboro, named to succeed him.

Seven other members of the central committee also were said to have been ousted and new members chosen to fill their places. The action was said to have taken place at a meeting last Monday which was enjoined by Davis' opponents from choosing presidential electors.

Pickett Fought Renomination.

Pickett fought the renomination of Davis at the Kansas City convention and Joe Watson, Albany negro, one of those said to have been ousted from the committee, was Davis' rival. Pickett announced that Watson had been elected, but a Davis lieutenant challenged the vote and the convention finally referred the matter to the national committee. No announcement of a decision has been made.

B. J. Cofer, Albany negro editor, who obtained the injunction to prevent Monday's meeting from electing the presidential electors, also was said to have been expelled from the committee. The others who were said to have been replaced were: T. N. Hendricks, L. H. Crawford, E. J. Turner, S. C. Clemons and R. C. Williams.

H. A. Hunt, C. E. Wigfall, R. P. Hufstatler, William James, J. B. Dove, W. A. Carlisle, A. W. Barrow, D. A. Winston and W. S. Harris were the men said to have been chosen to replace those ousted.

Duke Filed Charges.

Charges against the ousted members were said to have been filed by O. M. Duke, of Floville, on the ground that they had violated their instructions from the state convention to reelect Davis as national committeeman.

Davis has insisted since the Kansas City convention that those who voted for Watson had violated their instructions, while leaders of the opposing wing said they had acted within their rights because of what they termed "subsequent developments" which they did not explain."

Hearing on Cofer's injunction was scheduled in superior court here today. Cofer claimed there was no official executive committee in the state because of the failure of the national convention to name a national committeeman.

Meanwhile, Pickett was understood to have gone to Washington to confer with republican leaders over the situation.

Denver, Col., July 27.—(AP)—Chief business dispensed with in the selection of Dallas for the 1931 convention, and election of officers, delegates to the triennial convention of the Order of the Eastern Star today turned to a program of entertainment and sightseeing.

Harmony reigned in the concluding business session yesterday, there being no hint of the ritual disagreement which caused several hundred members to storm the doors of the city auditorium Wednesday night, where some delegates were in executive session. The convention took up the report of the ritual revision committee, and differences were adjusted.

Mrs. Mildred Schambeacher, Port Arthur, Ontario, was chosen grand conductress and Mrs. Frances Hahn, Nashville, Tenn., was named associate conductress. Governor John Hammill, of Iowa, was elected most worthy assistant grand patron, only male elective office.

Holliday entertained at a buffet supper at their quarters in the garrison, including in their guest list twenty-five members of the army set. Following a delightful swim at Black Rock the guests assembled at the Holliday quarters where supper was served. Another informal supper party was given by Lieutenant and Mrs. A. M. Parsons at their quarters in honor of their guests, Mrs. Earnest Barker, of Fort Benning, and her sister, Mrs. Pate, of Macon, who arrived Friday morning. Lavender flowers in a low bowl and tall lavender tapers made an artistic table where covers were placed for tea.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Gilbert Procter entertained informally at their quarters at a cup supper, including in their guest list twenty-four members of the garison personnel. The color motif of yellow and gold was reflected in the bowls of marigolds and zinnias and in the tall golden tapers arranged in the reception rooms.

Petite Miss Jeanne Caroline Parsons, daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. A. M. Parsons, entertained at an afternoon party at her quarters Thursday afternoon in celebration of her first birthday, including in her guest list fourteen members of the subjunior set. A frosted birthday cake, holding one tiny pink candle and decorated with the name of the wee hostess graced the center of the daintily appointed tea table. Gay caps and favors were presented the guests and a dancing contest enjoyed with Pinkie Myll as the winner of the girl's prize, a beautifully dressed doll, while David E. Harnett, Jr., captured the boy's prize, a miniature flute.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

KING EAGLE GOES HUNTING.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Appears as predatory strife.
—King Eagle.

King Eagle had started out from his home on the Great Mountain to hunt for food. Now, as you all know, King Eagle is like Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote and Hooty the Owl, and most members of the Hawk family, in that he lives on meat of one kind or another. Therefore, he is a hunter. He must be. And he is a wonderful hunter or he could not live to the great age he does live to.

Those broad wings of King Eagle's can carry him a great distance. His hunting ground may extend for very many miles. Flying as he does high in the air, he looks down with wonderful eyes. He may be so high that to you or me, looking up, he may appear like a small bird. Yet, from away up there, those wonderful eyes of his are able to see even the smallest of the meadow and forest folk, like Danny Meadow Mouse.

On this particular morning King Eagle flew far and wide without finding what he sought. He passed over many farms and looking down he saw the hens and chickens. They were tempting, very tempting. But King Eagle would not be King were he not a bird of wisdom. Long ago he learned that hens and chickens belong to those two-legged creatures called men, and that they protect them with terrible guns that kill at a distance. So King Eagle pays no attention, even though he be very hungry, to the hens and chickens. He understands that they are not for him.

So King Eagle flew until presently he was over a lake. On the shores of the lake was a marsh, and in that marsh wild ducks were nesting. Looking down from high up in the blue, blue sky, King Eagle saw these ducks. At least, he saw one or two of them. But it was not the time to catch them now. There would be young ducks by and by and these would be easily caught. Those old ducks he was looking at were too swift of wing to make the hunt worth while.

By and by these keen eyes of his saw another hunter. Perhaps I should call him a fisher instead of a hunter. It was Plunger the Osprey, who lives altogether on fish. King Eagle climbed higher in the air. Then he circled until he was above Plunger the Osphey. There was hungry eagerness in the fierce yellow eyes of King Eagle, as he watched every move of Plunger.

Twice Plunger shot down toward the water, his great claws set to strike. Both times he checked himself before he reached the water and once more mounted into the air. The fish he had seen were either too deep in the water or had seen him coming. Each time King Eagle watching above had set himself in readiness. What for? Why, to take from Plunger the fish when it was caught. Plunger's disappointment was no greater than the disappointment of King Eagle. Finally Plunger gave up fishing there. Perhaps he was tired, for he had been on the wing for a very long time. Perhaps he realized that if he caught a fish it would be only for King Eagle. Anyway, he flew to a tree and there perched.

So King Eagle flew until presently he was over a lake.

King Eagle flew on his way. His keen eyes saw something silvery on the water. He checked himself and studied it. It was a dead fish floating. Down, down, down swung the King. He set his great claws in the fish and then those great, broad wings of his bore him steadily back to the home on the Great Mountain. His hunt had not been in vain, for the Eagle is almost as fond of fish as is Plunger the Osprey.

NEW REQUISITION PAPERS ARE FILED FOR REALTY MAN

Tampa, Fla., July 27.—(AP)—Request for the extradition of Charles O. Wilson, Dayton, Ohio, was made by R. E. L. Chancey, Hillsborough county solicitor, based on three new "informations" filed in circuit court here, after his first request for the return of Wilson, Frank O. Caswell, Dayton, and J. E. Todd, Columbus, Ohio, all said to be prominent real estate men, was refused by Governor Donahey.

The charges against the trio grew out of the alleged illegal removal of property of Tampa Beach, Inc., defunct subdivision company.

An order declaring the company bankrupt was signed a week ago by Judge Lake Jones, in federal district court. Suit to recover $4,500,000 in unpaid interest and mortgages was set to be heard here August 6.

FIGHT FOR HOOVER IN SOUTH USELESS, MOSES BELIEVES

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Senator George H. Moses, vice chairman of the eastern republican advisory committee, is opposed to an invasion of the solid south for the purpose of securing electoral votes for Herbert Hoover because he believes it would be useless.

"It is a long time before election, time enough for fervid passions to cool off," he said. "I have no great illusion of our ability to break up the solid south, much as I would desire to see it done."

The senator said his advice to the republicans was to concentrate on the congressional campaign in certain sections of the south. "Then if we find ground for optimism we may expand and go after bigger game."

Commenting on the enrollment of former Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, in the Hoover ranks, Senator Moses said that the Oklahoman's defection to the republican party might have been due to the persuasive powers of his wife.

DAMAGED GERMAN SHIP TO RESUME CRUISE SUNDAY

Hamburg, Germany, July 27.—(AP) The German liner Monte Cervantes, carrying 1,500 tourists, is expected to sail for Hamburg from Spitzbergen waters tomorrow or Sunday after completing repairs made necessary by a collision with an ice floe Wednesday when a big hole was ripped in her bow.

It appears that the steamer found the west coast of Spitzbergen thick with ice to an unusual degree and was returning home from Bell sound when she struck the ice floe, tearing a hole about 12 by 4 in her bow. Some of the fore compartments were flooded. There were no casualties.

GIRL HEARS RESULT OF BIG PRIZE FIGHT THEN TAKES POISON

Philadelphia, July 27.—(AP)—Immediately after hearing a radio account of the Tunney-Heeney fight Miss Lillian Gold, 24, a nurse, went to her bedroom and swallowed a quantity of poison.

She was removed to a hospital, where physicians say she will recover. Miss Gold refused to give any reason for her act.

RADIO-ING The Air Waves.

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

A short lease of life was granted Friday to 126 of the 162 radio stations ordered off the air by August 1 by the radio commission several weeks ago. Another month of grace extended. Thirty-six of the 162 stations failed to defend themselves or voluntarily agreed to the order and their licenses will not be renewed even for the month's time.

The commission stated that the 30-day extension was for the purpose of further study into the merit of the defenses made by those stations which argued at the hearings before the commission. Another thought probably had much to do with the extension. The order signing the death knell to 162 stations was radical in the extreme—not that it was not in the interests of better radio reception.

The commission knew full well that it was pulling a hornet's nest down onto its head. But something had to be done. They did it. And in the interim between the date of the order and the conclusion of the hearings, news has leaked out that it might be possible to cut the power of the named stations to 100 watts or so, keep them all on three or four wave bands and make their use strictly community.

Another reason, and a far more startling and progressive one, may have been the cause for the time extension. Rumblings have been heard of a new circuit which may be introduced into any receiver, whereby heterodyning interference is practically eliminated. If this circuit has been worked out, then the order of the radio commission need not now be put into effect.

George L. (Tex) Rickard has spoken, he of the million-dollar "battles of the century." No more will heavyweight championship fights which he promotes be sent out in the night ether that 40,000,000 Americans can hear the ring gladiators battle for a crown worth from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 to the wearer.

All we have to say, Tex, is that it doesn't look as if you were a very good loser. That scrap Thursday night cost you plenty jack. But radio broadcasting the proceedings didn't cut into your "gate." Your own failure to use horse sense was the fly in the ointment. You knew Heeney wasn't a match for Gene Tunney. You were lucky that Gene is so good and that he saved your show by kayoing the Australian.

The Dempsey-Tunney fights were broadcast. Your "gate" was as near the ringside as it was mechanically possible to pack them in unless you had resorted to olive oil. Then you were howling that you couldn't find an arena great enough to sell admittance pasteboards into.

Get the fighting material, Tex, and you will make money. Put a set-up in against a champion and you will lose, radio or no radio. And, Tex, we know that the next heavyweight title battle will be broadcast, so why all the tears after the milk has been spilt?

The magic of perpetual frost

There's no danger
if your electric refrigerator is a Frigidaire

WHEN you put water into the Frigidaire trays to be frozen you are never disappointed. It freezes! It freezes quickly . . . solidly . . . all the way through. There is no delay. The freezing compartment is always cold enough to freeze ice cubes several times a day. Before you buy an electric refrigerator find out about the experiences of other people. Ask these questions: Will it freeze ice? A fresh supply for every meal? Always?

A cooling unit . . . out of sight and out of mind

The powerful Frigidaire mechanism which freezes ice under all conditions is completely out of sight and out of the way. There's nothing to mar Frigidaire's practical beauty. Nothing to collect dirt and dust. You can use the top of the cabinet for shelf space.

Surplus power in Frigidaire assures the results you want

Frigidaire engineers have learned the necessity for power. So surplus power is built into Frigidaire. You can make frozen salads and desserts whenever you want them. You'll never have to wait all day for ice to freeze just because the weather turns hot. You'll never have to hear an overburdened motor running constantly. Examine a Frigidaire and you'll see the reason.

Your present ice-box can be a Frigidaire. Simply place a freezing coil in the ice compartment and a compressor in the basement. The cost is low.

Here is a powerful motor and a Cooling Unit of super-strength. Power is transmitted in the most effective way by means of a V-type belt, the most important development in power transmission of the past decade.

Come in today and see this remarkable refrigerator. Check the points we have mentioned here. And remember that Frigidaire is sponsored and guaranteed by General Motors, the World's largest manufacturers of mechanical products.

Small down payment

Point by point compare Frigidaire value. Then compare Frigidaire's low prices. Place your order now and have Frigidaire in your home at once. Any model can be bought for a small down payment and the balance on easy terms.

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

SYNOPSIS.

The young Elizabeth is the adored daughter of Tim and Elizabeth Darcy. When she is four years old she runs away from home to avoid punishment for getting into mischief. She is brought home promptly by a neighbor.

At 12 Elizabeth runs away again, this time from school and to the home of her Aunt Dolly in London. Dolly, who is almost as flighty as the young Elizabeth, sympathizes with her niece, much to the irritation of her stepson, Stephen Whitby.

After the death of her parents, Elizabeth goes to live with her aunt. During the war they keep themselves busy and also amused by performing in amateur theatricals for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Stephen, home on leave, is asked by his stepmother to bring home Mark Lennox, a young playwright, to one of their performances.

Shortly after the end of the war Mrs. Whitby dies suddenly in Brighton and Elizabeth learns to her consternation that her aunt had frittered away the money left by her husband, and had also disposed of some of Stephen's inheritance as well. Afraid to face Stephen after this revelation Elizabeth decides to go to Mark Lennox in London and ask him to get her a job on the stage. Stephen finds her with Mark and although his business has failed he offers to help her. She refuses his help and advice and takes a part in Mark's new play. On the opening night she gets stage fright and runs off, leaving an understudy to take over the part. Miss Sunley, who happens to be in London visiting her cousin, Mrs. White, sees Elizabeth on the street and takes her to Mrs. White's house. The latter offers her a job as cook. She fails in this role, too, but stays on with Mrs. White as a guest until another job turns up. She calls on Mark Lennox when she goes to collect her bags and Stephen comes in while she's there. They quarrel as usual.

INSTALLMENT XXIV.

THE WET BLANKET.

Stephen did not believe Elizabeth. "You never think of anybody else. Most women are vain."

"Not as vain as all men," she flashed, adding maliciously, "I dare say you think you are a fine, good-looking man." She had got him there, for he was—exceptionally so—and he would be a fool not to know it. She was delighted when he colored like a boy. "There, I knew it. Mr. Vanity."

"Don't goad me, Elizabeth, or I shall smack you;" but he laughed. "Now, who is this man who engaged you for his aunt? Give me his name and address and I will look into the matter for myself."

"I have arranged everything. I go tomorrow. When I want your advice, Stephen, I will ask for it."

"You will give me his address and the one to where you are going, Elizabeth," and he took out his pocketbook.

She gave it, her mouth sulky, and he wrote it down. "You may not like it. These old women can be very exacting, and you have been spoiled all your life."

"You mean I am too soft, too silly. Thank you, Stephen, you always did give me the benefit of the doubt."

Stephen winced. She had got him there.

"You take it for granted I would not put up with anything I didn't like. Well, you're wrong. Please don't interfere, Stephen; men don't understand these things. They go butting in like bulls in china shops, upsetting everything and everybody. If the old lady tries to be tiresome I shall just 'learn her,' that's all."

"Indeed!" said Stephen. "Well, go your own way, Elizabeth. Of course, it's quite simple after all to one of your . . . habits. If you don't like it you can always run away."

"Just what you would say!" she cried, furiously. "O, Stephen, what a pig you are, what a superior prig! You'll have to learn things, too, the same as me, and you're stiff necked and will take longer at the job. I am going up to see Miss Colet and I don't want any more of your preaching and I hope I shan't see you again for ages, if ever!" And she dashed out of the room.

On the stairs she bumped into Mark coming down.

"Don't butt me," he implored. "I'm not the Pod making the entrance of the evening."

Elizabeth laughed and blushed. "Well, there isn't so much to butt," she returned. "I'm going to see Miss Colet and pack."

"In other words bolting from our mutual friend. What has he been doing?"

"O, just being . . . Stephen."

"And you the dutiful ward! Shall I find his mangled corpse on the floor?"

"Do get him away like a dear before I come down again. He's such a wet blanket."

"O, bold, bad, designing miss, I will do my best! It shall have its assignation with its handsome young man!"

"You're not handsome," said Elizabeth, looking him up and down. "Nothing really compared to Stephen in that way, but how different in all other ways."

"I long ago desided it was better to be good than beautiful," he returned. "Have you not found it so?"

"I'm not old enough to have to yet, thank goodness!" she returned, and passed him with dancing eyes and dancing feet—youth incarnate.

Mark was still smiling as he went into the sitting room. "Really, that young Elizabeth of yours is a handful, but you needn't worry, she'll always land on her feet."

"I know."

"So you've got things all squared up, old man, and left yourself without a bean—at least so I hear.'

"I shall be all right," said Stephen briefly.

"Of course, you will. But you've got to have something to go on with. You're a selfish, unfriendly swine, Stephen; you'll share your good times, never your bad. A hell of a friend!"

Stephen colored guiltily. He knew the accusation was true; that he had the devil's own pride.

"In the days of your prosperity I borrowed from you."

"And paid it back; the account is closed."

"It is always open between real friends. No, Stephen, I'm rolling, you're not. You don't leave this house without a hundred pounds, so don't think it." He tossed his notecase across to the other. "You can pay me back when your debtors have paid you."

"Which will be never."

"Very well," said Mark hotly. "Make it never and be damned! What's the odds, anyway? You paid all you owed, and that lets you out."

"I'll borrow a tenner."

"A tenner! That's your idea of a 10 years' friendship."

"Two tenners, then," said Stephen, returning the notecase.

Mark took it helplessly. He knew Stephen; argument would avail nothing. "Well, look here," he said, "you know Keene, a financial pirate, knows all that's going on. He was speaking of William Whitby the other day, your father's cousin, I understand. Do you know the old man's badly pipped, heart or something. He's got to go slow or pop off, and they never do want to pop off. He won't trust his manager. He's always carried his huge concerns on his own shoulders, and now he's suffering for it. He's simply got to let go or find a good man. You're the man for him, Stephen; bluff him into taking you at your own terms."

"Sweet William hates all his relations on principle, and half of them deserve it, crawling parasites. He'd be delighted to see us all starve."

"Nice old boy, but bluffable, believe me, with the shadow of mortality hanging over him. Have a go at it, Stephen."

He outlined his plan and Stephen laughed and shrugged his shoulders. "You can't make life into a stage play!" he objected.

"Why not?" retorted Mark, "if one can make a stage play out of life! You're just the man to run that huge concern and it would be a job after your own heart."

"Well, I'll try it," agreed the other. "Perhaps real life is sometimes as fantastic as your stage representations!"

"Far more so. We can't put some of the slices we know into books or on the stage; they would be called incredible. In real life and in human nature nothing is incredible. Well, you'll have a shot at it?"

"Right." The speaker turned to go, then an unwelcome thought seemed to strike him. "I say," he said rather awkwardly, "you're not flirting with Elizabeth, are you? I mean making love to her and all that?" He laughed, "I'm sure you're an artist at that job, all right. I don't want the child made unhappy."

"You're complimentary, I must say. I thought you knew me!"

"It's because I know you, old chap!"

"Think I'm the type who loves and rides away, eh?"

"I know you are," said Stephen directly, "the eternal philanderer, and you know it, too!"

"And you the confirmed bachelor and woman hater," retorted Mark. "A precious lot to choose between us, except that I may get something out of life and you never will. And yet I'll do less damage than you. I am quite a nice, harmless little fellow; no one ever takes me very seriously. But you—Lord save us! Stephen, they would never take you anything but seriously—deadly seriously! They only half fall in love with me and pass on and forget; you they would fall in love with for keeps, and never forget. It's you that are the danger, my handsome, stalwart lad! I am easy and you are difficult, and woman nature is as perverse as ours! And when you do fall in love you'll get the fatal kind of the complaint and they'll sense that, too, and desire to be your Waterloo! So look out for yourself, old Sobersides!"

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Numerous corn traders today emulated what Joseph did of old, accumulating the grain to provide against expected scarcity. Other traders, however, acted on belief of plentifulness of corn in the future. During the fluctuations which resulted, corn values in some cases went to the highest point since last April, but the extreme advance failed to hold.

Closing quotations on corn were nervous, 3-4 cent to 1 3-4 cents net higher, with wheat 1 cent to 1 5-8 cents off, oats 1-2 cent to 1 cent down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 35 cents.

Upturns in corn prices began early, with trading active and with much notice being taken of the fact that eastern interests were buyers of corn available for prompt shipment. Prices paid for such corn were equal to $1.11 a bushel for No. 2 yellow, and were substantially above the current quotations for July delivery, as well as far above the price of September. Under these circumstances, sellers of corn future deliveries became scarce, and the market scored a quick advance all around, helped by talk about further export business in new crop corn and by announcement that vessel room had been chartered for 265,000 bushels of corn to be loaded tomorrow for Georgian Bay, Canada.

In wheat, buying power was virtually confined to previous sellers. Meanwhile, receipts here were larger. Export business totaled 800,000 bushels, but was mostly Canadian. Oats sagged with wheat.

Scattered investment buying gave an upward slant to the provision market.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The stock market today gave one of the most impressive demonstrations of strength in recent months. The rally started with the opening gong, slowly gaining momentum until the last hour when the advance assumed violent proportions in a select assortment of motors, coppers and high priced specialties which were whirled upward 5 to 10 points. Net gains of 1 to 3 points were scattered throughout the general list, which also contained a sprinkling of soft spots and a few new low records.

"Bear" traders, who have been putting out new short lines were driven to cover when large buying orders appeared in all the speculative favorites. The usual week-end profit taking sales were easily absorbed and more than offset by the large volume of new buying presumbably based on the theory that the market had definitely broken out of the narrow trading area within which it has been floudering for the last month.

No Credit Change.

There was no change in credit conditions. Despite the increasing month-end demand for funds, call money held steady all day at the renewal rate of 5 1-2 per cent. Banks called about $5,000,000 in loans, but these were easily replaced. Time money, bankers acceptance and commercial paper rates held firm.

The sudden outburst of bullish enthusiasm was due, in part, to a large quota of favorable trade news. The optimistic predictions of steel company executives, the high rate of motor production and sales, the increased gasoline prices and the expanding freight traffic resulting from the heavy movement of crops all had a cheering effect on speculative sentiment. So did the drop of more than $10,000,000 in brokers' loans and the maintenance of the 5 per cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve bank.

Heavy accumulation of General Motors, which advanced 3 5-8 points to 144 1-4, preceded the publication of an excellent semi-annual statement after the close of the market. This showed net earnings of $161,267,974 as against $129,250,207 in the first half of last year, an increase of 24.8 per cent. This represents $9 a share as against $7.18 in the first half of 1927, calculated on a comparable basis. Chrysler and Dodge Bros., preferred and preferred certificates ran up about 5 points each despite official intimations that the merger plan might fail through inability of the sponsors to receive the approval of 90 per cent of the holders of each class of Dodge stock.

Woolen Issues Lower.

Warren Bros., ran up 10 points and DuPont, Case Threshing, American Chicle, International Harvester, International Nickel and Radio sold 4 to 6 points higher. New high records were established by American Smelting, Eastman Kodak, National Cash Register, General Ice Cream and a half dozen other issues.

American Woolen issues sank to the lowest levels in 30 years in reflection of poor trade conditions. Lima Locomotive broke 7 points to a new low at 38 but recovered half its loss. Abitibi Power issues sank to new lows on dissolution of the offering syndicate.

Reactionary tendencies predominated in the commodity markets. Wheat futures dropped 1 to 1 1-2 cents a bushel, but corn prices advanced. Cotton fell back about 75 cents a bale. Coffee rallied 15 to 20 points and sugar quotations held steady.

Establishment of new low levels for the year by British and Japanese currencies featured the foreign exchange market. Sterling cables sold down to $4.85 11-16 or nearly 3 cents below the year's high. Japanese yen fell 10 points to 45.20 cents. Most of the leading continental exchanges showed slight recessions.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—About half of yesterday's advances were lost in the cotton market today under renewed liquidation combined with local and southern selling based on talk of improving crop prospects. December contracts sold off to 20.56, or about 20 points net lower, and closed at 20.62, the general market closing steady at net declines of 14 to 17 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 to 9 points. Active months showed net gains of about 15 to 18 points, on overnight buying orders brought in by firmness yesterday and buying promoted by fear of increasing boll weevil complaints following recent rains.

October sold up to 21.11 and January to 20.86 on this demand, but buying slackened and the market turned easier under renewed liquidation, attributed partly to hope of improving weather conditions in the eastern belt over Sunday. There also may have been selling on unfavorable labor reports from Manchester and reports that the Texas crop was being estimated at a little over 5,000,000 bales in some quarters.

Accounts Evened.

October declined to 20.73 and January to 20.50, or about 35 to 38 points from the early high level, but the decline was checked at these figures by covering for over the week-end and last prices showed rallies of a few points from the lowest.

Some local brokers attributed part of the trading to further evening up of accounts because of uncertainty on the showing of the private end-month crop reports which are expected next week. Operations of this character are supposed to account for some of the realizing on liquidation on advices and covering on the declines.

Cables advices said Lancashire spinners had decided to lock out all operatives in the spinning mills if work was not resumed by August 11 in one of the mills which has recently been tied up by labor troubles.

Private Liverpool cables reported covering and trade calling supplied by local and Manchester selling, but that demand for cotton cloth showed slight improvement.

Port receipts 6,551 bales. United States port stocks 624,709. Exports 18,151, making 7,754,309 so far this season.

DOWNWARD TREND AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, July 27.—(AP)—Although the cotton market was comparatively quiet today values worked towards lower levels under realizing and selling promoted by expectations of favorable official and crop reports in the near future and advices of mill curtailment. October contracts, after advancing to 20.92, or 19 points net up, sold down to 20.16 and closed at 20.22, or 12 points net lower. The general market closed quiet at net declines of 12 to 16 points.

The opening was easier in sympathy with relatively lower Liverpool cables and first trades showed losses of 1 to 3 points. Early offerings were promptly absorbed, however, on buying induced by the weather map's showing of considerable rain in the belt overnight and a forecast for continued unfavorable weather. October soon sold up to 20.52, December 20.47 and January 20.43, or 17 to 19 points above the initial prices.

Later in the morning rather general selling developed, probably based on a bearish report of crop progress in Texas and Oklahoma and a cable stating that the master spinners had voted in favor of a lockout in Lancashire mills beginning August 11. Fears of bearish private month-end estimates and a favorable government condition and yield report due August 8 helped the easier tone. Despite occasional rallies, October eventually traded off to 20.16, December 20.14 and January 20.09, or 33 to 36 points below the day's highs.

In the final trading shorts covered and the market rallied 3 to 6 points from the lows, December closing at 20.17, or 16 points net lower.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

Activity in Stock Market Increases But Still Is Far Below Pace of a Few Weeks Ago—Railroads Show Drop in Earnings—St. Paul Income Increases.

New York, July 27.—While still far below the pace of a few weeks ago trading in stocks started off today with more interest being shown than in recent sessions, gains of from 1 to 7 points being scored in Steel common, Studebaker, American Can, Smelters, General Motors, Radio. The unexpected decrease of $10,000,000 in the weekly brokers' loans statement stimulated bullish sentiment. The further increase of $13,000,000 in borrowings of member banks at the federal reserve bringing the total to $1,025,000,000 against $398,000,000 at this time a year ago was ignored.

In view of advancing stock prices the past week the only acceptable explanation for the decrease reported in brokers' loans is that progress was made by bond dealers in disposing of unsold new bonds which also figure in loans of banks against stock exchange collateral. It is understood in Wall street that bond dealers have been disposing of unsold bonds to wealthy individuals, insurance companies and other large institution buyers at private sale at prices below the market. The average price of 40 representative domestic bonds is now down four points from the May high with corresponding decreases in United States government and foreign issues.

Call money again renewed at 5 1-2 per cent with the outside market firmer than yesterday when there was a drop to five with some small loans made at 4 3-4. There was no change today in time money, six per cent again being bid with loans actually made few and far between.

Much Short Covering.

There was considerable short covering in Steel common and General Motors on widespread talk of the favorable June quarter and half year earnings. DuPonts report $11.32 a share for the common stock for the first half of this year against $8.05 for the coresponding period of 1927, $19,957,000 from General Motors against $15,969,000 for the first six months of last year.

Atchison in the west and Baltimore and Ohio in the east both show a further drop in June gross and net. For the half year Baltimore and Ohio's gross is $111,231,000 against $123,395,000 for the first six months of 1927, with net $17,712,000 against $22,535,000, with Atchison reporting $109,519,000 gross against $121,760,000 and net of $13,232,000 against $20,670,000. On the other hand St. Paul reports June gross of $14,131,000 against $13,320,000 and net of $1,510,000 against $562,000 with the six months' gross $79,384,000 against $74,636,000 and the net $11,770,000 against $3,800,000.

Part of the increase in St. Paul's earnings is due to reduction in expenses since the receiver was dismissed in January and part to improvement in general trade in the company's territory. Insiders are predicting that St. Paul will show $4 or better for the preferred stock this year; also that $2 semi-annual interest on the new 4 per cent readjustment bonds issued in the reorganization will be declared on September 18.

Bethlehem Report Fair.

Bethlehem reports $2.31 earned for the common stock for the half year against $4.04 in the first six months of 1927, although selling prices this year average $2 ton less than for the first half of 1927. A difference of $2 a ton in selling price is equal to $5 a share in earnings on the common stock. Bethlehem's showing this year in the face of lower selling prices is due to the large sums spent in recent years for improvements. For the second quarter of this year the average selling price was 53 cents a ton higher than for the first aquarter. If these prices hold some of the loss made in the first half of the year compared with a year ago should be made.

Insiders are saying that July was the best month in the history of the American Tobacco company. June was a high record month. There is talk of an extra stock dividend the last half of the year in addition to the regular annual $8 cash payment.

Earnings.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Fairbanks, Morse & Co., earned $2.04 a share on the common stock, after preferred dividends, in the first half of 1928, against $1.53 a share in the first half of 1927. Net profit moved up to $1,004,408 after charges and federal taxes, from $818.674 a year ago. Orders received from customers in the second quarter were $8,752,476 against $8,615,811 in the second quarter last year. Unfilled orders on June 30 were $1,200,000 greater than or January 1.

Market Gossip

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, July 27.—Encouraged by the small decline in brokers' loans reported after yesterday's close against an anticipated increase, bullish operators caused a further demonstration in speculative favorites. Aided by technical conditions they were successful in covering on weak short positions. General Motors and United States Steel furnished the leadership in an upward move which was quite generally anticipated in by the list.

Yesterday's reports of price increases in high grade Mid-Continent crude were reflected by further buying in the oils and the upward movement in coppers was resumed with a full point gain in K. N., which furnished the leadership for this group. Rubber stocks continued under quiet accumulation. We continue to advice caution in following rallies believing the basic credit situation to be unsatisfactory for the resumption of general upward trend of protracted duration.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, July 27.—Without any news during the afternoon, the market developed further strength on increasing activity. The stocks which were best bought during the weakness some days ago were the ones showing the largest advances. United States Steel, which had been particularly well bought at that time moved up above 144. Chrysler also was well bought from 73 down and it scored a sensational gain above 79. American Smelting, Corn Products, General Motors and Wright Aero were other features. It seemed as though the market is getting strong enough to bring the public back on the buying side although so far there has been slight sign of this. Call money holding at 5½ so near to the month end is an encouraging sign. There is no indication of any change in the upward trend of stocks except some technical reaction, which can come at any time.

H. & B. BEER.

New York, July 27.—The market held its strength to the close today for the first time in a long while. This is no doubt significant as indicating that slowly the forces working towards higher prices are gaining the upper hand. Where a few weeks ago we were tabulating lists of resistance points for the bottom of the trading range, stocks are now gradually breaking their upper limits, and it is those points that are of interest and importance. The buying today came from all quarters. There was some short covering and some public buying for long account. Pools were active, particularly a new pool reported to be operating in United States steel.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, July 27.—Cotton had a fair-sized advance during the early trading, owing to general rains, but turned easy in the afternoon on attempts of recent buyers to realize. Hedging operations also furnished some contracts in the late afternoon.

The map shows rain from one end of the belt to the other, except in the extreme southwest and the forecast indicates rather general showers over night.

Weevil reports are increasing in volume but the general tenor of those reports is to the effect that they have not become damaging yet.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

New York, July 27.—Cotton ruled firm early advancing to 21.11 for October on reports of general rain over the belt but the advance attracted extensive week-end realizing, causing a reaction which was promoted by the expectation of better weather over the week-end and reports that the Master Cotton Spinners federation had decided on a lockout of Lancashire spinning operatives unless work was resumed in the Ramsey mill by August 11, final prices showing a net loss for the day of 15 to 24 points. An irregular trading market is indicated for the immediate future, pending the usual end-month private estimates and the forthcoming government report August 8.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, July 27.—The opening was strong with trading active. There was overnight buying orders, probably on reports of further showers in central and eastern belts and the apprehension over the increasing reports of weevil infestation. However, prices soon sagged off below last night's close under new liquidation. Trading was small the remainder of the day and closing at the low 15 points under yesterday's close.

The critical period of the crop is here and deterioration reports are almost certain to come under present weather conditions. Despite the decline of two cents a pound, sentiment still remains bearish with trading waiting government report before taking any position.

H. & B. BEER.

New York, July 27.—The market ruled comparatively steady during the past week, having been sold on bulges, bought on depressions, finals for the period showing no appreciable change compared with one week ago.

The weekly weather and crop government review last Wednesday was generally favorable. Meanwhile rains continued in nearly all sections of the belt and while the moisture was probably beneficial in Texas, especially in the recent dry areas of that important state, it was considered unfavorable in other cotton states, particularly as to preventing cultivation and probably causing weevil to increase and become more active.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, July 27.—After short covering had stimulated a fair-sized upturn this morning the market turned dull and somewhat reactionary and interest lagged. Almost everyone seems to be sitting around waiting for the boll weevil to get in its deadly work. Should reports of heavy damage be forthcoming in the next two weeks the market could advance sharply. After the heavy liquidation which took place the early part of this week, followed by a partial recovery yesterday and today the market would seem to be more of a two-sided affair. We look for a good trading market between now and the first government condition report, within the limits of a half a cent range.

TRADE ENCOURAGING, DUN'S REPORT SAYS

New York, July 27.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

With more activity in certain lines than commonly prevails at this period, July has been a month of encouraging commercial conditions. The normal seasonal restraints militate against any broad expansion, but their repressing influence is less generally evident than usual, and some actual gains recently have developed. With that trend, and with the constructive elements in the situation retaining their strength, the outlook for autumn trade, in which the chief interest centers now, is being regarded with increased confidence. The status of merchandise stocks in most quarters is reassuring, without burdensome accumulations, and there is no indication of any prospective departure from the prudent policy of purchasing almost exclusively for well-defined requirements. There does not exist at present, as on some previous occasions, the over-extension of commitments that invariably leads to forced liquidation, with its accompanying unsettlement, and buyers are not impelled to operate in advance of needs by reason of rapidly rising prices. The level of wholesale quotations has changed only moderately, having for a long time maintained exceptional stability, and the absence of disturbing fluctuations naturally is helpful to the orderly course of business.

G. M. C. REPORTS RECORD EARNINGS FOR FIRST HALF OF YEAR

COTTON REGISTERS LOSS DURING WEEK

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Increasing optimism over coming crop possibilities owing to reports of beneficial rains in west Texas and continued absence of boll weevil damage reports of serious or general character, seemed responsible for further declines in the cotton market here the past week. Previously there had been considerable nervousness over the crop situation in dry sections of the southwest and the appearance of rains there evidently made a considerable impression on sentiment.

It seemed the impression also that showers or rains in the eastern belt had been interspersed by periods of clear weather during which some little progress might have been made with cultivation, and on the whole it seemed to be most generally thought that the last week in July was witnessing some further improvement in the crop.

Judging from the market comment, which accompanied the decline, traders were looking for end-July or August first condition figures of about 68 or possibly 70 and for crop indications of somewhere between 14,000,000 and 15,000,000 bales. Private end-July reports are expected to test these ideas of the outlook within the next few days but there may be continued uncertainty as to the matter until the government report is issued August 8.

Rather conflicting opinions have been expressed as to how far the decline of very nearly 2 1-2 cents a pound from the high prices touched at the end of June has gone toward discounting the supposed improvement in the crop during July. Some think that selling on the improving crop accounts of this month has been restricted to some extent by the fear of August deterioration. Others believe that the market has been pretty well liquidated and consequently left in a condition to respond quite readily to any departure from normal in the progress of the crop from now on.

Comparatively few reports of actual damage from boll weevil have been reaching the trade during the week, but toward the end of the period there were reports of increasing infestation, particularly in parts of Alabama, while it was felt that the wet weather in the southwest might be followed by increased activity in that quarter.

Some traders have been expressing rather less apprehension of serious damage from the insects this year owing to the absence of serious complaints this month, but others believe that the boll weevil remains an important threat and that they may do great harm during the next few weeks if not controlled by dry, hot weather.

2 ROME CHILDREN TO GET DAMAGES IN FATHER'S DEATH

Rome, Ga., July 27.—(Special.)—After having been held in the appellate courts of Georgia for almost two years, a verdict of $8,000 given Mrs. Rosa Jones against the Rome Railway & Light company as the result of the death of her husband, Walter H. Jones, killed by coming in contact with a live wire in East Rome on May 13, 1922, has finally been affirmed.

Since the return of the verdict, Mrs. Jones, the mother of two small children, killed herself by taking poison and the damage award finally granted will now go to the two children.

The case when tried in Floyd superior court two years ago resulted in a verdict of $8,000 being given Mrs. Jones. The case was then taken to the court of appeals, where it was affirmed. Next it was taken to the Georgia supreme court, where that body after 11 months' consideration refused to recognize the appeal.

C. E. WALLER, BANK BANDIT, WILL BEGIN LIFE TERM TUESDAY

C. E. Waller, convicted Tuesday of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment for the part he played in the slaying of a Kingsland bank cashier, will begin his term Tuesday, July 31, in the Bibb county penitentiary.

An order assigning Waller to the Macon institution was issued Friday at the office of the prison commission, following receipt of information from H. F. DuBignon, clerk of Glynn county court, formally stating that the convicted man waived a motion for a new trial. "This man Waller is a smooth article with plenty of nerve and must be looked after carefully or he won't stay there long," the notice further said.

Two of three other persons accused in Perry's death in February are awaiting execution, while the third, a woman, received a short prison term. Waller's conviction carried a recommendation for mercy.

Total bond sales (par value) $6,876,000.

New York, July 27.—(AP)—Prices moved irregularly within narrow limits in a dull session of the bond market today. Total sales were less than $7,000,000. Time money was maintained at 6 per cent, with little demand, while banks called slightly less than $10,000,000 in loans.

Railroad obligations, which showed some firmness early in the day, eased off toward the close as reports indicated a general decrease in June earnings, the first 40 roads to report showing a decline of more than 6 per cent from June, 1927. Great Northern 4 1-2s dropped to a new low for the year and Paducah & Illinois 4 1-2s to the previous low, both down about a point on the day. The St. Paul issues, Canadian National and the Frisco and some Southern Pacific issues also sagged.

Coppers were among the strong features of the industrial group, Anaconda and Andes Copper 7s both showing gains of more than a point on buying encouraged by favorable trade reports. Armour & Co. 5 1-2s also advanced on reports of a large increase in sales and dollar volume. Oils firmed up on buying influenced by gasoline price advances. Utilities were in demand, with Public Service of New Jersey 4 1-2s gaining a point.

The foreign list was steady. United States government bonds were irregular. Treasury 3 3-8s gained more than a point on announcement of July 31 as the final date for which third Liberty 4 1-4s may be exchanged for them. Other treasury issues were soft.

CHRYSLER FIGHTS FOR THIRD GIANT

New York, July 27.—(AP)—General Motors corporation today reported record earnings while bankers were making a last minute campaign in an effort to save a project to merge two of its principal competitors—Chrysler corporation and Dodge Brothers.

Walter P. Chrysler announced after a meeting of the Chrysler directors this afternoon that the entire project by which the Chrysler corporation is to acquire Dodge Brothers will fail unless there are substantial deposits of Dodge stock before tomorrow noon, when the time for deposit ends. Dodge directors also met, but it was said both meetings were in connection with certain formalities in connection with the merger plan.

Cash Record, Too.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, announced greatest earnings for the half year and second quarter and a record amount of cash and cash items in the history of the company. Earnings for the first half totalled $161,267,974, as compared to $129,250,207 in the first half of 1927. Balance after dividends on preferred and debenture stocks was equal to $9 a share on the common stock, against $7.17 last year on a comparable share basis. Second quarter earnings were $91,799,398, which was $15,100,599 more than for the second quarter last year. Cash and cash items on June 30 totalled $264,383,668.

"For the six months ended June 30," Mr. Sloan reported, "retail sales by General Motors dealers to users were 1,063,733 cars, compared with 840,481 cars in the corresponding period of 1927—an increase of 26.4 per cent."

The project of creating a third great giant of the automobile industry by the combination of Chrysler and Dodge was said to be threatened primarily by the apathy of the small Dodge stockholders. Mr. Chrysler has set 90 per cent as the minimum of each class of Dodge stock which must be deposited under the merger plan before the Chrysler corporation will proceed with it. Tonight some 85,000 additional shares of preference stock and 77,500 shares of class A stock were needed to make up the percentage. Mr. Chrysler's statement this afternoon set to rest all hope that he might reduce the percentage.

If the merger plan fails because of insufficient stock deposits it will be by a very narrow margin. Enough Class B stock has already been deposited, and the Class A and preference deposits were just under the 90 per cent mark tonight. Banking opinion as to whether the remaining shares could be obtained varied. A number of the backers of the project were of the opinion that it would succeed, while others could see little hope.

A meeting of Dodge stockholders has been called to convene in Baltimore tomorrow to act upon the merger. Under an amendment to the Dodge charter, each share of preference and Class A stock will be entitled to one vote as well as each share of Class B. There are 850,000 outstanding shares of preference, 1,935,024 of Class A, and 500,000 shares of Class B. What action may be taken in case the necessary percentage of stock is not deposited was a matter of speculation in Wall street.

Volume of Trade Makes Gain; Money Rates Stand

New York, July 27.—(AP)—The curb market displayed greater strength today, in sympathy with the enthusiastic upturn on the "big board."

The trading was in increased volume, but remained largely professional. There were many gains of from 1 to 3 points as traders resumed buying when the anticipated stiffening of money rates failed to materialize.

Amusement shares were again popular, but Fox Theater A encountered week-end profit taking toward the close of the session and registered a slight net loss. Warner Brothers Pictures made a gain of 1 5-8. Spanish and general receipts were still accumulated and touched a new high at 10.

Bliss & Co., Columbia Graphophone, Fansteel Products, Grasselli Chemical, Hart Parr and Libby Owens made good gains. U. S. Freight, long neglected, was bid up more than 4 points. Bancitaly alternately gained and lost during fairly heavy trading, but closed unchanged. A. O. Smith Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment and National Rubber Machinery touched new peaks on fractional gains.

Firestone Tire and Rubber, Moore Drop Forging and Royal Baking Powder were weak spots, with 5-point declines. Marion Steam Shovel and Mavis Bottling encountered profit taking. Rainbow Products declined on announcement of results of trade litigation. In the chain store group, Spiegel May Stern fell 8 points.

Noranda was a feature of the mine group, gaining fractionally in a large turnover. Roan Antelope Copper touched a new high on a small gain.

Oils firmed up somewhat with increased crude and gasoline price announcements. Humble gained a point and Standard of Indiana a half point. The other Standards declined in light trading.

Utilities were stronger, United Gas Improvement gaining 4 1-4 and American Gas and Electric 3 points and Cities Service rallied fractionally.

GEORGE FICKLING, DOOMED NEGRO, DENIED CLEMENCY

Governor L. G. Hardman Friday declined to grant a commutation of a death sentence imposed on George Fickling, Savannah negro convicted of murder, and the condemned man will be executed at Milledgeville August 3, it was announced at the governor's office.

Fickling was convicted in July, 1927, on a charge of killing Dan Strickland, a negro, and was given the death sentence. His case was appealed to the supreme court and the verdict of the lower court was affirmed.

Lawyers representing Fickling appeared recently before the state prison commission and asked that body to recommend a commutation. The commission declined and the case was carried to the governor. After a hearing in the case Thursday the governor announced Friday that he saw no reason why the death sentence should be commuted.

New Orleans, July 27.—The market for cottonseed oil futures ruled quiet and somewhat easier today, mainly in sympathy with lower cotton and on reports of crop improvement. Futures closed quiet; August, 8.80; September, 8.85; October, 8.90; December, 8.95; January, 8.93.

The No. 7 contract opened 1 to 7 points higher and sold up to $16 for December, the close showing net advance of 15 to 20 points. Santos contracts opened 1 to 2 points higher and closed 17 to 22 points net higher. Estimated sales, No. 7 contract, 14,000; Santos, 5,000. Dry Goods.

New York, July 27.—With the certainty that more than 85 per cent of print cloth, sheeting and yarn mills will be closed next week, market interest in gray cloths was more general today and moderate buying was reported with prices steadier. Finished cottons sold in small lots. Raw silk was unchanged. Silk fabrics of crepe, faille and velvet constructions were selling better to the cutting trades. Rayon yarns were in larger demand. Fair trade was reported on lines of tropical suitings and some of the staples in worsteds.

Sugar.

New York, July 27.—A firmer undertone developed in raw sugar today and spot prices advanced 1-32c to the basis of $4.14 for Cuban duty paid. At this level 14,000 bags of Cuban were sold from store and 22,000 bags for prompt shipment to local refiners, while an outport refiner bought 25,000 bags for prompt shipment.

Early advanced in raw futures met increased selling pressure and were followed by partial reactions in the late trading. The steadiness of the spot market and continued unfavorable weather advices from abroad led to considerable covering during the early part of the session with prices advancing 2 to 4 points. New crop positions showed the maximum gains, with some buying believed to be for European account, but toward the close offerings increased and reactions followed with final quotations net unchanged for present crop deliveries and 1 to 2 points higher for new crops. Trading on the whole has not particularly active, with approximate sales 35,150 tons. Sept., closed $2.27; Dec., $2.40; Jan., $2.42; March, $2.43; May, $2.51; July, $2.58.

Trend Toward Centralization in Public Utilities Continues; Majority Now Controlled by Combines; Theory of Consolidation is Considered Basically Sound.

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1928, By North American Newspaper Alliance).

The trend towards centralization in public utilities continues unabated. Last year the records show that more than 800 mergers were effected in the United States in this field.

True there are hundreds of different public utility plants scattered widely throughout the United States; but approximately 80 per cent of the total national power producing plants are now controlled by fourteen more or less "closely knit major holding and operating groups."

These groups are: Electric Bond and Share, Insull group, Northeastern Affiliates, North American System, Standard Gas and Electric, Allied Light and Power, Edison United and its allies (New York), Pacific Gas and Electric company, United Gas Improvement, Detroit Edison, Duke Power, Stone & Webster group, American Waterworks & Electric and Public Service of New Jersey.

The first five of these named above now control about one-half of the national power produced.

Nicholas F. Brady, president of the New York Edison company, estimated that the people of New York would save from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000 a year in the merger of the Consolidated Gas company and the Brooklyn Edison company, by the elimination of duplications.

Who should get the benefit of that saving? He believes this saving "should be handed on to the consumer as rapidly as conditions warrant."

The theory of consolidations—to eliminate unnecessary overheads—is basically sound. But whether the merger if of public benefit or not depends largely on who gets the benefit.

Ever since the power trust has been under investigation by the federal trade commission, the name of Robert E. Healy, the chief counsel, has been widely mentioned in the press.

Judge Healy, now 45, member of the state supreme court of Vermont ten years ago, is a master in handling details. Unknown except locally before this year, he has in recent months become a national figure.

Courteous, kindly, considerate at all times, Healy has a dry, caustic wit that often shows in his legal encounters. It is reported that one organizer of public opinion on the stand said he did not try to buy legislators. "I just entertain them. Why," he said in the tone of one who is astonished at his own broadmindedness, "if you come down there, Judge Healy, I would entertain you."

"You have already entertained me beyond my wildest dreams," replied Healy.

Brokers' loans decreased very little this week. The figures are $10,496,000,000. This is still more than $1,000,000,000 above what they were one year ago. And the demand for money is increasing with the harvest. Money rates are rising in other lines. The rate on bankers' bills was raised this week for the ninth time this year, being quoted now at 4 5-8, the highest at any time since October 8, 1921.

Bankers' acceptances were popular in America before the civil war, but died out when the national banking act was put into effect in 1863. Then the federal reserve act brought them back and there is now about as much money going into bankers' acceptances as goes into commercial paper.

As time goes on undoubtedly this form of investment will increase. It is safe—so far in fact that the federal reserve bank accepts or purchases them for its own investment.

It looks now as if money rates will be high for sometime.

Premier Baldwin, of Great Britain, is an iron and steel manufacturer, and Britain has no tariff on iron and steel.

The world competition is keen and continuous. Many influential business men of Great Britain are demanding protection on these articles to help in the relief of that industry. Premier Baldwin says no.

It would help his pocketbook immensely. But politics is one thing and business is another with this unusual Englishman.

The bureau of labor statistics has figured that 858 accidents occur for every 10,000,000 "accident exposures."

Steel workers have the riskiest jobs. Accidents connected with the building of skyscrapers is very heavy. Construction and engineering are considered severe risks. Coal mining is one of the most dangerous. Lumber mills, glass blowing, slaughtering and meat packing are above the average in accidents.

It is also estimated that there is one death for every 155 accidents that occur. This means that more than five deaths occur for every 10,000,000 accident exposures.

Next Monday George Eastman, kodak manufacturer, will have at his home in Rochester, N. Y., many of America's well known men.

At that time he will show to his guests for the first time a radically new motion picture process, worked out in the Eastman Kodak laboratories, which may spell vast changes in the motion picture industry.

Among his guests will be: Owen D. Young, Michael D. Pupin, General Pershing, Thomas A. Edison, Dr. Henry Fairchild Osborn, Sir James Irvine, of Scotland; Dr. G. K. Burgess, director of the bureau of standards, of Washington; Hiram P. Maxim; Frederick E. Ives, photographic inventor; Dr. John T. Tigert, United States commissioner of education; Dr. Edwin Slosson; General J. G. Harbord, of the Radio corporation; Dr. W. D. Coolidge, of the General Electric laboratories; H. E. Ives, of the Bell Telephone laboratories, and Dr. Leo H. Bakeland, inventor. Several members of the press will also be there, including Adolph S. Ochs, Karl A. Bickel, Roy Howard and Kent Cooper.

George Eastman, at 75, is looking for more worlds to conquer.

BOY HURT IN FALL OFF HIS "SCOOTER" RAPIDLY IMPROVING

Cheerful in spite of a fractured skull, Billy Dozier, 4-year-old son of O. R. Dozier, of 687 Woodlawn avenue, is at Grady hospital rapidly recovering from an injury received Thursday when he fell from his "scooter" as he was riding it along the sidewalk near his home.

When the youngster was first brought to the hospital it was feared that his injury would prove serious, if not fatal, but the boy rallied rapidly and Friday doctors pronounced him almost out of danger.

BURGLAR ROUTED BY ALARM SYSTEM

An alarm system resulted in the routing and the near-capture of a negro burgler as he attempted to loot the Franklin Department store at 83 Whitehall street at about 5 o'clock Friday morning.

As the thief opened a window in the store he set off an alarm in the American District Telephone company office. Several armed men soon arrived on the scene and surrounded the store.

As soon as the negro saw the would-be captors he made a dash for liberty and escaped through a nearby alley. In his flight, however, he dropped a dress, apparently the only loot he had had time to obtain.

POLICE CHIEF HELD IN U. S. RUM NET

Charged with accepting a $10 bribe and conspiring to accept $50 a week for liquor protection, Chief of Police Byrd T. Keeble, of Hogansville, Friday afternoon was bound over to the federal grand jury on $2,500 bond after a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner James E. Brown.

Warrant charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act caused Keeble's arrest after federal prohibition officers and deputy marshals reported to Howard P. Wright, deputy prohibition chief, that the officer had agreed to furnish protection when they, in the guise of rumrunners, approached him with a "proposition."

Evidence brought out at the hearing set forth that Prohibition Agent T. R. Patterson on July 17 went to Hogansville and purchased liquor from Thomas G. Hubbard, a 34-year-old cripple, who also was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging possessing and selling whisky.

Agent Patterson said he induced Hubbard to join him in "liquor running in a big way," provided that Hubbard would obtain "protection" for the liquor cars in transit through Troup county. Patterson said that Hubbard promised him the aid of Chief of Police Keeble.

Prohibition Agents Patterson and J. B. Wallace and Deputy Marshals W. F. Haney and Harlee Goode returned to Hogansville Wednesday and according to testimony negotiated with Keeble for protection for transportation of 1,000 gallons of liquor a week through the city from a still 35 miles away.

The agents testified they offered Keeble $10 a load and $50 a week if the chief would arrange for storage of liquor until it could be transported to Atlanta in smaller quantities. Testimony set out that Keeble accepted $10 as first payment.

The defense held that Keeble did not accept the proposition.

The officers returned to Hogansville Thursday, they said. Picking up Hubbard, they drove to the still, but its operators had disappeared, so the officers arrested Hubbard and drove into Hogansville, where they arrested Keeble.

NEED TIRES?
Remember:
There are no miles in a bottle of ink

Anyone can write a guarantee, but a guarantee can't deliver a mile of tire service. That depends on the tire you buy. So don't buy a trick guarantee—fine phrases or empty promises. More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind—because the longest trouble-free mileage has been built into them—by Goodyear.

STEAMER COLLIDES WITH COLLIER NEAR MONTREAL

Montreal, Quebec, July 27.—(AP)—The Canadian Pacific steamship's liner Montrose was in collision with the collier Rose Castle at Sorel this morning. Neither vessel, according to first reports, was seriously damaged.

The Rose Castle was beached until the extent of its injuries was ascertained.

The Montrose was inward bound from Liverpool and the Rose Castle outward bound from Montreal to Sydney, N. S.

The Montrose is a vessel of 16,402 tons, constructed in 1922 at Glasgow.

The Rose Castle displaces 7,546 tons and was built at Sunderland in 1915. The collier is owned by the Dominion Coal company.

Sorel is 35 miles from Montreal.

Halifax, N. S., July 27.—(AP)—Advices received here this morning stated that the collier Rose Castle was badly damaged in collision with the Montrose this morning. The engine room on the Rose Castle was reported to be flooded.

BODY OF MAN FOUND ON BEACH IS IDENTIFIED

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—The body of a man found on a deserted beach at Sycamore Point, Va., last week, and buried in an unmarked grave in the Alexandria potter's field, has been identified as that of Reuben Henry Macklen, of High Point, N. C. He disappeared from a Norfolk and Western Steamboat company vessel on July 16 shortly after he had enlisted at the navy recruiting station here the day he disappeared.

Identification was made by James H. Taylor, chief of the identification section of the navy department, by means of finger prints, and an unusually shaped scar resulting from an appendicitis operation.

The body will be buried in Arlington national cemetery, probably tomorrow. Macklen, who was 28 years old, had previously served an enlistment in the navy from 1922 to 1926. His next of kin, his mother, lives at High Point.

Immunity of Chilean Consul From Arrest Upheld by Court

Norfolk, Va., July 27.—(AP)—Judge W. H. S. Sargeant in corporation court today sustained the contention of counsel for William Leon, Chilean consul, that state courts have no jurisdiction over foreign consuls.

The case brought up on appeal from police court, where Leon was fined on charges of disorderly conduct and assaulting an officer and held for the grand jury on a charge of violating the state prohibition law.

Judge Sargeant's action automatically dismisses the charges against Leon unless city authorities should see fit to take the case to federal court. It was uncertain today whether this would be done.

W. H. Venable, counsel for Leon, today said the incident never would have occurred had not someone caused a policeman without a warrant to invade the room of Leon, who was operating a radio loud speaker at 3 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Venable said the trouble was due to the fact that the policeman was "not diplomatic," and that the incident would have ended had the officer simply suggested that the noise was disturbing the neighbors.

Convicted of Assault, Florida Negro Faces Sentence of Death

Tampa, Fla., July 27.—(AP)—Sentenced to life imprisonment for highway robbery recently, John Crumpler, negro, was in jail here today faced with death in the electric chair. The extreme penalty was prescribed for him yesterday by Judge Robles in circuit court, following conviction of criminally attacking a Tampa woman.

The negro was captured near DeLand following a pistol duel with a local policeman in which Crumpler was wounded, but not seriously enough to prevent his escape. He was alleged to have confessed to the robbery of a filling station operator at the point of a pistol, and upon conviction was sentenced to the state prison for life. He had begun serving that sentence when brought here for trial on the second charge.

Crumpler will be held here until Governor Martin fixes the date of his execution, then be taken to Raiford to await death.
